TWO IMPORTANT MEASURES HAVE PASSED OHIO HOUSE

Through By a Surprising Majority.

Willis Corporation Tax Bill Also Through In Amended
Form.

THE TAX MADE TO APPLY

Only to Capital Stock Actually Subscribed—A Concession to Manufacturing Interests—An East Liverpool Corporation Increases Capital.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, Feb. 27.—The much discussed Beal local option bill and the Willis administration tax measure passed the house on Wednesday afternoon, the former by a vote of 82 to 16, and the latter by a vote of 69 to 26. Amendments were made to both measures before they were passed. Representatives Buell and Crist, of Columbiana county, voted for both measures. The Beal bill provides that upon presentation of a petition signed by 40 per cent of the voters councils shall call a special election at which the question of saloons or no saloons shall be voted upon.

Messrs. Buell and Crist and dissatisfied with the bill in its present form and were strongly opposed to the change from 25 per cent to 40 per cent. In its present shape, they took upon it as a makeshift. Mr. Crist expressed his dislike of the 40 per cent. feature in a very conservative way, while Mr. Buell was decidedly outspoken on the matter. He told the author of the bill it was an illegitimate thing. The liquor interests suffered a humiliating defeat.

The Willis bill was passed, but not until it had been amended. Instead of taxing the authorized capital of corporations one-tenth of one per cent, the tax only applies to the subscribed stock of such concerns. The amendment was agreed to in order to mollify the opposition of manufacturing interests.

Messrs. Buell and Crist voted in the affirmative because the bill had been made a party measure. It is regarded as certain that the Willis bill will pass the senate. It is a twin measure of the Cole excise bill taxing quasi-public corporations. These measures were designed by Governor Nash.

Representative Denune, of Franklin, refused to vote on an amendment for the Beal bill and he was declared to be in contempt. Attorney C. P. Rothwell, of East Palestine, came to Columbus to lobby in behalf of the Beal bill, and its passage afforded him much satisfaction. He performed some effective work.

The Union Planing mill, East Liverpool, has increased its capital from $10,000 to $50,000. George Kaufman is president and Thomas Plunket, secretary.

GILL-HARRIS

WELL KNOWN YOUNG PEOPLE

The Residence of the Bride's Parents Handsomely Decorated for the Occasion.

At the home of ex-Sheriff and Mrs. Charles Gill last evening at 8 o'clock occurred the wedding of their third daughter, Miss Estella Gill and Mr. Harry H. Harris. The Gill residence was prettily decorated with palms and flowers.

The bride and groom entered the room unattended and took their places in the bay window which had been artistically decorated with palms and other tropical plants. The bride looked charming in a pretty white dress, while the groom was finely attired in black. Miss Gill neither wore nor carried flowers, and the distinctive feature of the whole affair was the extreme simplicity.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Clark Crawford, in the presence of the intimate friends and relatives of the contracting parties.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a very enjoyable wedding breakfast was served. The table carried out the color scheme in a beautiful design. Mr. and Mrs. Harris were the recipients of quite a number of useful and beautiful presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton, of Lisbon were the out-of-town guests present. Mr. and Mrs. Harris will make their future home in Chester, where Mr. Harris is employed in the Taylor Smith & Taylor pottery.

NO DAMAGE EXPECTED

Ice Has Moved Out And That from
the Allegheny Is Not Feared.

For the past three days the Ohio river at this port has continued to rise, and at noon today 15 feet was registered at the wharf. The river is practically free from ice here, and as all the gorges in the river below this city have passed out, no damage is anticipated from any ice that will come from the Allegheny river. The gorges in the river stream have broken, and local rivermen expect the ice to commence to pass this port either this evening or tomorrow morning. Wharf Master Martindill today announced that all craft was in good shape for a larger rise, and no damage is anticipated here.

OCCUPANTS THROWN OUT

Horse Became Frightened And a Young Man Got Painful Injury.

A serious runaway occurred yesterday afternoon on Pennsylvania avenue. Newton Hamill, of Calcutta, was driving a single buggy with two other relatives when one of the shafts of the buggy broke and fell to the ground. This scared the horse, causing it to run off, throwing the occupants from the vehicle.

One of the young men, a nephew of Mr. Hamill, received a deep cut over his right eye. He was taken to the office of Dr. Marshall in an express wagon, where his injuries were dressed.

BAD SIDEWALKS

Conditions on Fourth Street And
Other Thoroughfares a Disgrace.

The prediction made by the News Review several weeks ago with reference to the condition of a number of sidewalks is now making itself felt. The condition of Fourth street is a disgrace.

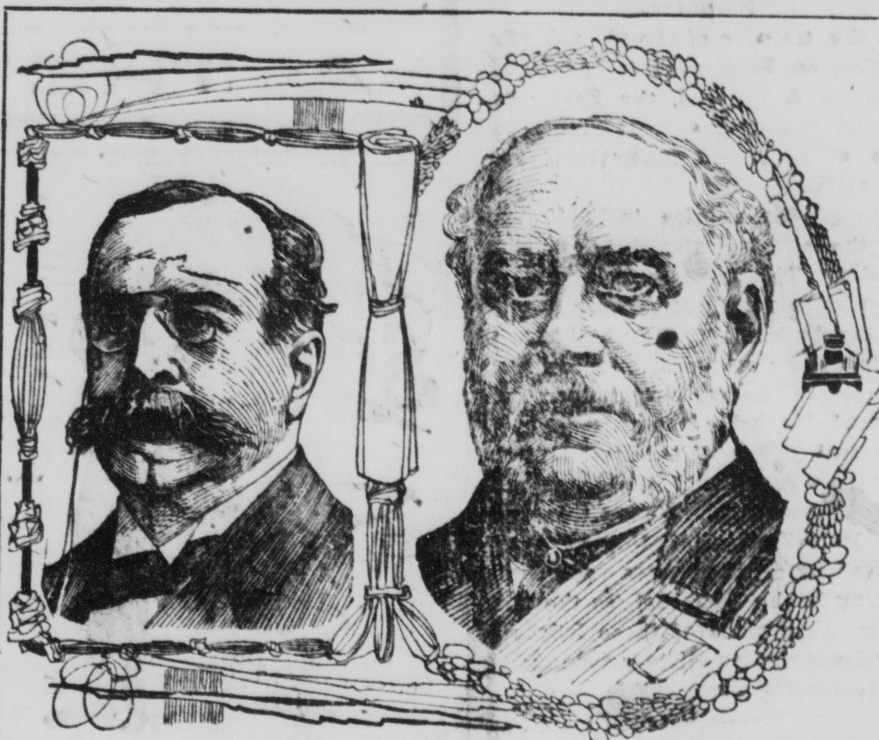

Residents of that thoroughfare have been compelled to walk in the street since the present thaw began.

A number of other streets are in a similar or worse condition.

A Railway Car Seized.

Steubenville, February 27.—Constable Campbell yesterday seized a B. & O. freight car on the W. & L. E. and chained and locked it to the tracks. E. and B. & O. railroad companies to recover $95.50 damages for household goods shipped over those lines from Philadelphia to Steubenville and lost in transit last September.

Good Progress Made.—The special services being held at the U. P. church are progressing with much interest. Rev. W. H. Clark gave an earnest sermon. The meetings will be held at 2:30 and 7:45 p. m. the remainder of the week.

BARON VON HOLLEBEN AND LORD PAUNCEFOTE.
Conspicuous among the diplomats at Washington engaged in the lively controversy as to which nations were friendly to Uncle Sam during his war with Spain are Baron von Holleben, the German ambassador, and Lord Pauncefoot, England's representative. Between these two there is said to have grown up a coldness. It is no wonder. If we are to believe Herr Holleben's declarations we cannot believe the protests of Lord Pauncefoot, and vice versa.

PRESBYTERIAN PLANS

A BIG IMPROVEMENT

FIRST CHURCH TO BE RENOV-ATED EXTENSIVELY.

A Gallery to Be Built Which Will Largely Increase Seating Capacity.

Extensive improvements are being planned, which, it is expected will be made the coming spring at the First Presbyterian church. The matter has been under advisement for some time, but not until a few days ago was anything definite done.

An architect is now working on the plans and will soon have blue prints and an estimate ready to submit to the directors of the church. The rapid growth in membership and the consequent demand for seating capacity have made the contemplated improvements a necessity, and it is thought they will be pushed to speedy completion.

SCHOOL TEACHER

WITH A TEMPER

FLOGGED ONE OF HIS PUPILS WITHOUT MERCY.

Storm of Indignation Follows And He Is Now Missing—Sensation
at Dillonvale.

Dillonvale, February 27.—Joseph Charvot, a Bohemian boy aged 12 and a pupil in the school here, was so severely and brutally dealt with by the principal, J. H. Choquill, as to raise a storm of indignation, start criminal proceedings and cause the principal to leave the place abruptly. The boy was thrown to the floor, choked by the teacher and his head thumped on the floor. The teacher then dismissed school and left, evidently walking out of town, as his wife left on the evening train.

Meantime a warrant was sworn out before Squire J. N. Richardson for Choquill's arrest for the offense, but it has not yet been served for the reason stated. Choquill, who came from Morgan county, has only taught at Dillonvale since fall and his term has been somewhat turbulent and unsatisfactory.

No Change In Present Management of Union and Chelsea Plants.

MEETING HELD LAST EVENING

At Which the American Company's Purpose Was Fully Explained.

OFFER MADE TO THE MINORITY

Is That Its Holdings Be Taken Over
on the Same Terms Given Mr.
Moreland—It Will Probably Be Accepted.

The exclusive announcement in this paper last evening of the merging of 75 per cent of the stock of the Union Potteries company into that of the American Potteries company of New Jersey, was read with more than ordinary interest. While it was generally thought that some plant in this city would be absorbed by the new Trenton company, there was nothing definitely done in this respect until after the announcement of the formation of the Trenton company last week.

The American Potteries company will assume the management of the Union pottery in this city, and the Chelsea at New Cumberland, next Saturday, but it is announced on authority that no change in the present management of the concerns will be made. It was stated in a local paper a few days ago that the Union company had made overtures to purchase the Goodwin property on Walnut street, adjoining the Union, in order that extended improvements could be made, but this was incorrect. The company asked for a price on this property when the Union company was formed, but nothing has been done since and nothing will be done.

In the office of the Union pottery a meeting was held last evening of a committee appointed by the old stockholders of the Union Co-Operative Pottery company to represent their interests at the time the plant was transferred to the Union Potteries company. The meeting was for the purpose of hearing the proposition of the American Potteries company to take over the minority holdings.

This committee was composed of Joseph F. Manor, at present general manager of the Union; J. T. Buckley, Robert McKenty, Thomas Collins, William M. Davidson, William Pittinger and John Harrison. These gentlemen were addressed by Frank W. Fowler, vice president of the Union Potteries company, who explained the propositions of the American Potteries company.

This proposition was as stated in the News Review last evening. The new company proposes to absorb the remaining stock of the company under the same conditions as the stock held by Mr. Moreland was taken. It is announced that this committee recommended that all the remaining stock be sold and papers were signed by all the stockholders represented to dispose of their holdings. This committee proposes to see all the individual stockholders today and explain to them the purpose and result of the meeting held last evening, and it is quite likely that the minority stock will be transferred to the American Potteries company within 10 days.

Considerable comment has been occasioned from the rumor that other plants in this locality have or will make application to become affiliated with the new concern. It must be remembered that in acquiring new properties in the West, the American Potteries company has no plant here where hollow ware is made and if it is desired to make this class of goods in the west, new plants must be secured or built.

Mr. Fowler was seen today and when asked for the personnel of the American Potteries company begged to be excused from talking about that matter just at present. It is reasonable to believe that inasmuch as Mr. Moreland has been elected president of the new concern, its other officers have been selected from the Union Potteries company, and the eastern plants which have been absorbed. Details of the policy of the new company will probably be made public soon.

MOTORMAN INJURED

William Kincaid Collided With a Pole While Throwing Off Papers.

While in the act of throwing papers off his car at Pearce & Cartwright's store in the West End, Motorman William Kincaid, of the East Liverpool railway line, was painfully injured. The car was in motion as Kincaid threw the papers off, and while he was leaning out over the platform his face came in contact with a telephone pole.

In striking the pole he received a deep gash in his head, and his left arm was badly bruised in falling.

STRANGE AFFLICTION

Former Alliance Boy Suffers from Epilepsy, Superinduced By Hypnotism.

Clarence Marshall, a young man formerly employed by the Ceramic City Light company, was seized with an attack of epilepsy in front of the opera house late last night and fell to the pavement.

Officer Dawson sent a telephone message to the fire station and Marshall was taken in the ambulance to the Washington House, where he boards with his brother. He was revived with difficulty. The young man recently came here from Alliance, where he was hypnotized a few years ago by an amateur mesmerist, who was unable to control the power influenced over his subject. Marshall has since suffered a strange spinal affliction which is developing into the most dangerous form of epilepsy.

No Change In Present Management of Union and Chelsea Plants.

MEETING HELD LAST EVENING

At Which the American Company's Purpose Was Fully Explained.

on the Same Terms Given Mr.
Moreland—It Will Probably Be Accepted.

The exclusive announcement in this paper last evening of the merging of 75 per cent of the stock of the Union Potteries company into that of the American Potteries company of New Jersey, was read with more than ordinary interest. While it was generally thought that some plant in this city would be absorbed by the new Trenton company, there was nothing definitely done in this respect until after the announcement of the formation of the Trenton company last week.

The American Potteries company will assume the management of the Union pottery in this city, and the Chelsea at New Cumberland, next Saturday, but it is announced on authority that no change in the present management of the concerns will be made. It was stated in a local paper a few days ago that the Union company had made overtures to purchase the Goodwin property on Walnut street, adjoining the Union, in order that extended improvements could be made, but this was incorrect. The company asked for a price on this property when the Union company was formed, but nothing has been done since and nothing will be done.

In the office of the Union pottery a meeting was held last evening of a committee appointed by the old stockholders of the Union Co-Operative Pottery company to represent their interests at the time the plant was transferred to the Union Potteries company. The meeting was for the purpose of hearing the proposition of the American Potteries company to take over the minority holdings.

This committee was composed of Joseph F. Manor, at present general manager of the Union; J. T. Buckley, Robert McKenty, Thomas Collins, William M. Davidson, William Pittinger and John Harrison. These gentlemen were addressed by Frank W. Fowler, vice president of the Union Potteries company, who explained the propositions of the American Potteries company.

This proposition was as stated in the News Review last evening. The new company proposes to absorb the remaining stock of the company under the same conditions as the stock held by Mr. Moreland was taken. It is announced that this committee recommended that all the remaining stock be sold and papers were signed by all the stockholders represented to dispose of their holdings. This committee proposes to see all the individual stockholders today and explain to them the purpose and result of the meeting held last evening, and it is quite likely that the minority stock will be transferred to the American Potteries company within 10 days.

Considerable comment has been occasioned from the rumor that other plants in this locality have or will make application to become affiliated with the new concern. It must be remembered that in acquiring new properties in the West, the American Potteries company has no plant here where hollow ware is made and if it is desired to make this class of goods in the west, new plants must be secured or built.

Mr. Fowler was seen today and when asked for the personnel of the American Potteries company begged to be excused from talking about that matter just at present. It is reasonable to believe that inasmuch as Mr. Moreland has been elected president of the new concern, its other officers have been selected from the Union Potteries company, and the eastern plants which have been absorbed. Details of the policy of the new company will probably be made public soon.

TWO IMPORTANT MEASURES HAVE PASSED OHIO HOUSE

Beal Local Option Bill Goes Through By a Surprising Majority.

LIQUOR MEN HUMILIATED

Willis Corporation Tax Bill Also Through In Amended Form.

THE TAX MADE TO APPLY

Only to Capital Stock Actually Subscribed—A Concession to Manufacturing Interests—An East Liverpool Corporation Increases Capital.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, Feb. 27.—The much discussed Beal local option bill and the Willis administration tax measure passed the house on Wednesday afternoon, the former by a vote of 82 to 16, and the latter by a vote of 69 to 26. Amendments were made to both measures before they were passed. Representatives Buell and Crist, of Columbiana county, voted for both measures. The Beal bill provides that upon presentation of a petition signed by 40 per cent of the voters councils shall call a special election at which the question of saloons or no saloons shall be voted upon.

Messrs. Buell and Crist and dissatisfied with the bill in its present form and were strongly opposed to the change from 25 per cent to 40 per cent. In its present shape, they look upon it as a makeshift. Mr. Crist expressed his dislike of the 40 per cent. feature in a very conservative way, while Mr. Buell was decidedly outspoken on the matter. He told the author of the bill it was an illegitimate thing. The liquor interests suffered a humiliating defeat.

The Willis bill was passed, but not until it had been amended. Instead of taxing the authorized capital of corporations one-tenth of one per cent, the tax only applies to the subscribed stock of such concerns. The amendment was agreed to in order to mollify the opposition of manufacturing interests.

Messrs. Buell and Crist voted in the affirmative because the bill had been made a party measure. It is regarded as certain that the Willis bill will pass the senate. It is a twin measure of the Cole excise bill taxing quasi-public corporations. These measures were designed by Governor Nash.

Representative Denune, of Franklin, refused to vote on an amendment for the Beal bill and he was declared to be in contempt. Attorney C. P. Rothwell, of East Palestine, came to Columbus to lobby in behalf of the Beal bill, and its passage afforded him much satisfaction. He performed some effective work.

The Union Planing mill, East Liverpool, has increased its capital from $10,000 to $50,000. George Kaufman is president and Thomas Plunket, secretary.

GILL-HARRIS

WELL KNOWN YOUNG PEOPLE QUIETLY MARRIED.

The Residence of the Bride's Parents Handsomely Decorated for the Occasion.

At the home of ex-Sheriff Mr. Mrs. Charles Gill last evening at 8 o'clock occurred the wedding of their third daughter, Miss Estella Gill and Mr. Harry H. Harris. The Gill residence was prettily decorated with palms and flowers.

The bride and groom entered the room unattended and took their places in the bay window which had been artistically decorated with palms and other tropical plants. The bride looked charming in a pretty white dress, while the groom was finely attired in black. Miss Gill neither wore nor carried flowers, and the distinctive feature of the whole affair was the extreme simplicity.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Clark Crawford, in the presence of the intimate friends and relatives of the contracting parties.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a very enjoyable wedding breakfast was served. The table carried out the color scheme in a beautiful design. Mr. and Mrs. Harris were the recipients of quite a number of useful and beautiful presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton, of Lisbon were the out-of-town guests present. Mr. and Mrs. Harris will make their future home in Chester, where Mr. Harris is employed in the Taylor Smith & Taylor pottery.

There will be an open meeting held in this city in the Oyster building March 22 by the Mechanical and Electric Association of Steam Engineers of the Fifth district. The meeting will likely be well attended.

NO DAMAGE EXPECTED

Ice Has Moved Out And That from the Allegheny Is Not Feared.

For the past three days the Ohio river at this port has continued to rise, and at noon today 15 feet was registered at the wharf. The river is practically free from ice here, and as all the gorges in the river below this city have passed out, no damage is anticipated from any ice that will come from the Allegheny river. The gorges in the latter stream have broken, and local rivermen expect the ice to commence to pass this port either this evening or tomorrow morning. Wharf Master Martindill today announced that all craft was in good shape for a larger rise, and no damage is anticipated here.

OCCUPANTS THROWN OUT

Horse Became Frightened And a Young Man Got Painful Injury.

A serious runaway occurred yesterday afternoon on Pennsylvania avenue. Newton Hamill, of Calcutta, was driving a single buggy with two other relatives when one of the shafts of the buggy broke and fell to the ground. This scared the horse, causing it to run off, throwing the occupants from the vehicle.

One of the young men, a nephew of Mr. Hamill, received a deep cut over his right eye. He was taken to the office of Dr. Marshall in an express wagon, where his injuries were dressed.

BAD SIDEWALKS

Conditions on Fourth Street And Other Thoroughfares a Disgrace.

The prediction made by the News Review several weeks ago with reference to the condition of a number of sidewalks is now making itself felt.

The condition of Fourth street is a disgrace.

Residents of that thoroughfare have been compelled to walk in the street since the present thaw began.

A Railway Car Seized.

Steubenville, February 27.—Constable Campbell yesterday seized a B. & O. freight car on the W. & L. E. and chained and locked it to the tracks. The seizure was made on an attachment issued by Squire Kithcart in the suit of Max Goldstein, of this city, against the W. & L. E. and B. & O. railroad companies to recover $95.50 damages for household goods shipped over those lines from Philadelphia to Steubenville and lost in transit last September.

Good Progress Made.—The special services being held at the U. P. church are progressing with much interest. Rev. W. H. Clark gave an earnest sermon. The meetings will be held at 2:30 and 7:45 p. m. the remainder of the week.

BARON VON HOLLEBEN AND LORD PAUNCEFOTE.

Conspicuous among the diplomats at Washington engaged in the lively controversy as to which nation was friendly to Uncle Sam during his war with Spain are Baron von Holleben, the German ambassador, and Lord Pauncefoot, England's representative. Between these two there is said to have grown up a coldness. It is no wonder. If we are to believe Herr Holleben's declarations we cannot believe the protests of Lord Pauncefoot, and vice versa.

PRESBYTERIAN PLANS A BIG IMPROVEMENT

FIRST CHURCH TO BE RENOVATED EXTENSIVELY.

A Gallery to Be Built Which Will Largely Increase Seating Capacity.

Extensive improvements are being planned, which, it is expected will be made the coming spring at the First Presbyterian church. The matter has been under advisement for some time, but not until a few days ago was anything definite done.

An architect is now working on the plans and will soon have blue prints and an estimate ready to submit to the directors of the church. The rapid growth in membership and the consequent demand for seating capacity have made the contemplated improvements a necessity, and it is thought they will be pushed to speedy completion.

It is the intention to entirely remodel the church edifice and enlarge it by the addition of a large and commodious gallery. The walls are to be newly preserved and the interior otherwise beautified.

EXAMINING BOARD

The organization has determined to fix a competency line, and with end in view an examining board, composed of Prof. Hatch, William McGraw and Owen Culbertson has been formed. Every member now connected with the society and all prospective members will be called upon to stand an examination before being admitted.

No Change In Present Management of Union and Chelsea Plants.

At Which the American Company's Purpose Was Fully Explained.

EAST END

OLD POSTOFFICE SALE

Important East End Deal—Building to Be Remodeled for Lodge
Purposes.

In the transfer of the old postoffice building on First avenue Tuesday to Ferguson & Larkins, the East End
grocers, one of the most important sales of East End realty this year
was made.

The purchase price included not only the site, but also the three-story building. This morning a large force of workmen were put to work improving the building, the first floor of which will be occupied for store room purposes, while the upper floors will
be used for lodge rooms.

Several lodges of the East End are after this room, and the lease with one of these will be signed this evening. It is likely that this room will be used by all the lodges and locals
meeting in the East End, as the present meeting place of these lodges is considered too small to accommodate the increasing membership.

LEAKING GAS MAIN

Fuel Going to Waste Because of a Break Near Ralston
Crossing.

A leak in the gas mains of the Ft.
Pitt Gas company has been located near Ralston crossing. The line to the East End extends along the river shore and near the crossing there is a large opening in the ground and this is where the leak is located. The hole in the ground is filled with water, caused by the sudden rise in the river,
and the leaking gas is bubbling out
of the water.

The leak will be repaired as soon as the water recedes, and the residents of the East End will not suffer on account of the shortage, as there was a pressure of 40 pounds registered at the regulator located in Fire alley this morning.

FROM SMITH'S FERRY

Large Delegations Attend the Revival Services in the East End.

Not only do the residents of the East End take an active part in the several revival services now being held in that part of the city, but those of Smith's Ferry come as well.
Last evening probably 25 persons from the Ferry came to the East End on the late accommodation train to attend the revival services, and after the close of the meeting they took a car to the end of the street railway line, and from there walked up the railroad track to their homes.

Was Married in England.

Harry Dascombe, a baker employed
by Fisher & Co., of Pennsylvania avenue, has returned to this country
from England, where he was recently married. Mr. Dascombe went to England about six weeks ago, for the purpose of taking a life partner, and when he returned he was accompanied by Mrs. Dascombe. The couple will reside on Pennsylvania avenue.

Freight Business Growing.

In order that movers of freight
from the East End station may be accommodated, the railroad company has cut a large opening in the fence
near the residence of George McKinnon and freight can be taken from
this side of the "freight car station."
More local freight is being delivered at this station since this car was placed there than ever before.

Largely Attended Meeting.

One of the largest and best meetings since the beginning of the revival services at the Second Presbyterian church was held last evening.
Rev. C. R. Hosick preached an able sermon and one new member was added to the church. Rev. Mr. Hosick will preach this evening and again tomorrow evening.

Meetings Full of Interest.

The attendance at the revival service at the Erie street M. E. church was as large as ever last evening and the service was quite interesting. A number of conversions were reported.

Announcements of the polling places
in the East End for next Saturday

tention to the fact that the saloon-keepers, more particularly the ones who run dives and gambling places,
and also the street railway company,
have decided that I am an obnoxious councilman to their interests, and therefore that I must be defeated at any cost. Hence the withdrawal of Mautz and the bespeaking of his support for one of my opponents whom
the two forces have centered on.

My crime against the street railway company has been to insist on their giving decent service to their patrons; to insist on their running
the cars over the Klondike extension and the 12-minute schedule. I have always been a friend of the boys on the line when they asked for a square deal at the hands of the company.
In fact, as George Anderson says:
"He has made our company spend hundreds of dollars they wouldn't have had to spend if it had not been for him, and we are going to beat
him."

With all that we are not getting the service we should have, and I promise to keep on kicking until we do providing you again repose confidence
in me.

My crime against the saloon—or,
more particularly, the divekeeper—is familiar to all and was the drafting of the screen ordinances which council passed.

Now, gentlemen, from such a source
and with the above named "crimes"
to be avenged, you can look for all sorts of tales. But, let me tell you it will not be for the benefit of the Fifth ward that they will be told, but
to get rid of a councilman who insists, first, on common decency, and,
second, that the street railway company shall live up to its franchise.

I, therefore, ask you to be on the alert, those of you, who wish the East End to go forward. And if you choose to repose confidence in me again, I will do in the future as I have done in the past—take good care of the Fifth ward. There are many, many things that we need, and depend upon it, I know what they are.

Yours,

R. J. MARSHALL.

lowed to antagonize or threaten, any visions of this agreement and is himself conscious of the same, is liable

OLD POSTOFFICE SALE

Be Remodeled for Lodge
Purposes.

In the transfer of the old postoffice
building on First avenue Tuesday to Ferguson & Larkins, the East End
grocers, one of the most important
sales of East End realty this year
was made.

The purchase price included not only the site, but also the three-story
building. This morning a large force
of workmen were put to work improving the building, the first floor of which will be occupied for store room
purposes, while the upper floors will
be used for lodge rooms.

Several lodges of the East End are
after this room, and the lease with one of these will be signed this even-
ing. It is likely that this room will be used by all the lodges and locals
meeting in the East End, as the present meeting place of these lodges is considered too small to accommodate the increasing membership.

LEAKING GAS MAIN

Fuel Going to Waste Because of a Break Near Ralston
Crossing.

A leak in the gas mains of the Ft.
Pitt Gas company has been located near Ralston crossing. The line to the East End extends along the river
shore and near the crossing there is a large opening in the ground and this is where the leak is located. The hole
in the ground is filled with water
caused by the sudden rise in the river,
and the leaking gas is bubbling out
of the water.

The leak will be repaired as soon as
the water recedes, and the residents of the East End will not suffer on account of the shortage, as there was a pressure of 40 pounds registered at the regulator located in Fire alley this morning.

FROM SMITH'S FERRY

Large Delegations Attend the Revival Services in the East End.

Not only do the residents of the East End take an active part in the several revival services, now being held in that part of the city, but
those of Smith's Ferry come as well.
Last evening probably 25 persons
from the Ferry came to the East End
on the late accommodation train to attend the revival services, and after
the close of the meeting they took
a car to the end of the street railway
line, and from there walked up the railroad track to their homes.

Was Married in England.

Harry Dascombe, a baker employed
by Fisher & Co., of Pennsylvania avenue, has returned to this country
from England, where he was recently married. Mr. Dascombe went to England about six weeks ago, for the purpose of taking a life partner, and
when he returned he was accompanied by Mrs. Dascombe. The couple will reside on Pennsylvania avenue.

Freight Business Growing.

In order that movers of freight
from the East End station may be accommodated, the railroad company
has cut a large opening in the fence
near the residence of George McKinnon and freight can be taken from
this side of the "freight car station."
More local freight is being delivered
at this station since this car was placed there than ever before.

Largely Attended Meeting.

One of the largest and best meetings since the beginning of the revival services at the Second Presbyterian church was held last evening.
Rev. C. R. Hosick preached an able sermon and one new member was added to the church. Rev. Mr. Hosick
will preach this evening and again tomorrow evening.

Meetings Full of Interest.

The attendance at the revival service at the Erie street M. E. church
was as large as ever last evening and
the service was quite interesting. A number of conversions were reported.

The Polling Places.

Announcements of the polling places
in the East End for next Saturday
were posted in the East End yesterday afternoon. They will be located as before.

tention to the fact that the saloon-
keepers, more particularly the ones
who run dives and gambling places,
and also the street railway company,
have decided that I am an obnoxious
councilman to their interests, and
therefore that I must be defeated at any cost. Hence the withdrawal of Mautz and the bespeaking of his support for one of my opponents whom
the two forces have centered on.

My crime against the street railway company has been to insist on their giving decent service to their patrons; to insist on their running
the cars over the Klondike extension
and the 12-minute schedule. I have always been a friend of the boys on the line when they asked for a square
deal at the hands of the company.
In fact, as George Anderson says:
"He has made our company spend
hundreds of dollars they wouldn't
for him, and we are going to beat
him."

With all that we are not getting the service we should have, and I promise to keep on kicking until we do providing you again repose confidence
in me.

My crime against the saloon—or,
more particularly, the divekeeper—is familiar to all and was the drafting of
the screen ordinances which council
passed.

Now, gentlemen, from such a source
and with the above named "crimes"
to be avenged, you can look for all sorts of tales. But, let me tell you it will not be for the benefit of the
to get rid of a councilman who insists, first, on common decency, and,
second, that the street railway company shall live up to its franchise.

I, therefore, ask you to be on the
alert, those of you, who wish the East End to go forward. And if you choose to repose confidence in me
again, I will do in the future as I have done in the past—take good care of the Fifth ward. There are
depend upon it, I know what they are.

Yours,

R. J. MARSHALL.

HANDS ACROSS SEA.

Prince Says Germany's Is Proffered, If We Are Willing to Grasp It.

DINED WITH NEWSPAPER MEN.

His Mission to Promote Friendlier Relations Between Germany and United States—Luncheon With Business Men—Witnessed Parade.

New York, Feb. 27.—Prince Henry, of Prussia, dined last night with 1,000 of the men who make American newspapers. He was the special guest of Herman Ridder, proprietor of the New Yorker Staats Zeitung, who gathered at his table a majority of the leading figures in American journalism. They came from the four quarters of the country and made the most noteworthy gathering of their profession ever assembled in the United States. There was a felicitous exchange of greetings between Prince Henry and the men who spoke for the journalistic craft, and the affair claims rank as one of the notable incidents of the American tour of the German prince.

The dinner was given in the handsome ball room of the Waldorf Astoria hotel, but that immense apartment was not large enough to accommodate the numerous guests, and the Astor gallery was also used.

Bishop Potter Offered Grace.

Mr. Ridder called upon Bishop Potter, who offered a brief grace.

A small army of waiters quickly filled the aisles between tables, and with an order that was remarkable in such a large gathering the banquet began.

As the evening proceeded hundreds of handsomely gowned women filled the boxes above the dining hall. An orchestra high up in the second tier of boxes played popular national music, and when a tune caught the fancy of the crowd they sang it. At "Die Wacht am Rhein" the crowd arose, and after singing it lustily there were loud cheers. "America" got the same enthusiastic treatment.

Excellently moulded statuettes of Prince Henry were distributed as souvenirs.

At 10:25 o'clock Mr. Ridder, rapping for attention, proposed the health of the president of the United States and the Kaiser Wilhelm and called upon Whitelaw Reid to respond. Mr. Reid spoke and then Mr. Ridder made a speech.

Prince Henry was then introduced. As he stood up the crowd burst into song, "Hoch, Soll er Leben Mal, Hoch." After that they sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." Before beginning his speech the prince said: "This is the largest interview I ever had. He then said:

Speech of the Prince.

"Mr. Toastmaster and gentlemen: I am fully aware of the fact that I am the guest and in the presence of the representatives of the press of the United States, and particularly the guest of the United States Zeitung, both of which I wish to thank for the kind invitation and reception I have met with tonight.

"Before entering into details, I should like all of you to understand that I consider this meeting, though it may be looked upon as official, as a private one, and that it is my wish that none of you will take advantage of what is said or spoken after leaving this table.

"Undoubtedly the press of our day is a factor, if not a power, which may

"The least bit of noise or sudden jar would nearly drive me crazy, and I was just too fidgety for anything. I was so nervous that I could not rest or sleep. The first dose of Dr. Miles' Nervine brought me sleep, and after that I got well fast."

Try the Golden Rule In Everyday Life

By Rev. CHARLES M. SHELDON, Author of "In His Steps"

If the Golden Rule were to be applied at once by a great many corporations or firms or individuals, the immediate result would no doubt be a vast loss financially or at least a vast change to methods so diametrically opposed to the present methods that a crisis of some kind would follow; BUT THE GOLDEN RULE WOULD WORK JUST THE SAME, AND IN THE READJUSTMENT OF CONDUCT ON THAT BASIS THE ULTIMATE RESULT WOULD BE MORE MONEY, MORE POWER, MORE REAL SUCCESS THAN THE WORLD HAS EVER KNOWN.

Will the Golden Rule work in daily life? It certainly will, and all that is necessary to prove it is that we put it to work without waiting for any one else, without waiting for the millennium to come first.

The Golden Rule is not applied to the Sunday traffic of the railroads, and the Christian men in our churches who are stockholders, directors and officers have a Christian duty to perform toward their brothers who are engaged in the work of the road which brings them revenue.

The ministry of this country has not done its duty unless it has presented to men in the churches who have authority and influence the opportunities for putting Christianity into the great corporate life of the industrial world.

Work among the children in the Sunday schools is foundation work in this direction. The average minister would say probably that not one man in a hundred in his congregation would put the Golden Rule literally to the test in every detail. Then the real hope of Christ's rule in daily life for the future resides in our children.

IT IS EASIER TO MOLD PLASTIC CLAY THAN TO MAKE A DENT ON THE HARDENED ROCK.

The pastor ought to gather together the children in his Sunday school or the young people in his young people's societies for definite catechetical instruction on the stewardship of life. This is sowing seed. Somebody will reap the harvest of it.

The world needs to be taught that selfishness does not result in success. It needs to be taught that love literally and lavishly employed in business, politics, society, education, journalism—everything—pays an individual, a community or a nation more than the exercise of any kind of selfishness.

not be neglected and which I should like to compare with ever so many submarine mines which blow up in many cases in the most unexpected manner, but your own naval history teaches us not to mind mines, should they ever be in our way. The language used on this memorable occasion was stronger than I would venture to reproduce here tonight. I need only mention the name of Faragut. Another comparison might be more to your taste, gentlemen, and is, in fact, more complimentary: It is one which his majesty, the emperor used before I left. He said, 'You will meet many members of the press, and I wish you therefore to keep in mind that the press men in the United States rank almost with my generals in command.'

Explained His Mission.

"It will interest you, I know, to learn something about the nature of my mission to this country. The facts are as follows: His majesty, the emperor, has minutely studied the recent and rapid development of the United States, and his majesty is well aware of the fact that yours is a fast moving nation. His sending me to this country may therefore be looked upon as an act of friendship and courtesy, with the one desire of promoting friendlier relations between Germany and the United States. Should you be willing to grasp a proffered hand you will find such a one on the other side of the Atlantic ocean."

At the end of the speech the prince was heartily applauded.

Mr. Ridder at this point introduced Charles Emory Smith, saying that Mr. Smith had been a minister of state, a great editor, and is known as the silver-tongued orator of the press of America. Mr. Smith then spoke.

Following Mr. Smith came Charles W. Knapp, who was introduced in a few appropriate words by Mr. Ridder. Mr. Knapp made an address.

Prince Henry, preceding the press dinner, visited the Arion society.

The prince entered the main entrance of the Arion society's hall, on Park avenue, accompanied by Ambassador Von Holleben, Vice Admiral Von Tirpitz, Admiral Count Von Baudissin, Admiral Evans, and Colonel Bingham, Adjutant General Corbin, Commander Cowles and Assistant Secretary of State Hill. There he was met by a committee of the club, headed by President Frank Von Briessen, who extended a cordial welcome. Prince Henry replied briefly in German that it gave him great pleasure to find himself in the house of a German society and to be afforded the opportunity of witnessing the parade of the German societies from its balcony.

The prince was then escorted to the large hall upstairs, where he was greeted by Dr. Louis Weyland and the committee of the German-American societies, who presented to him a handsome album.

Witnessed Parade of Germans.

The imperial party was then escorted to the beautifully decorated balcony of the club, where they were joined by Mayor Low, Admiral Von Tirpitz, Admiral Von Baudissin, Ambassador Von Holleben, Consul General Buenz, Admiral Evans and Dr. Weyland. The procession, which had started immediately, commanded the attention of the prince, who seemed immensely pleased and impressed with the spectacle. Toward the close of the procession the prince was greeted by a delegation of Columbia college students on the street, who gave their college yell several times.

All the leaders of Wall street were present at the luncheon in the prince's honor at Sherry's at noon yesterday. The tables were spread in the ball room of the third floor. To the prince and his party was assigned a square table at one side of the room, the others being arranged around it in crescent form. Fish nets were artistically draped from the ceiling, intertwined with smilax and American beauty roses, while the corridor was wafted the warblings of a hundred canary birds hung in cages among the foliage. Miniature electric lights in red shed a soft glow over the scene.

Among the guests besides Prince Henry and his suite and escort were: Mayor Seth Low, Lieutenant Governor Imothy Woodruff, J. P. Morgan, Charles M. Schwab, Gustav Schwab, William H. Cramp, Abram S. Hewitt, J. Ogden Armour, D. O. Mills, H. O. Havemeyer, ex-Attorney General Griggs, J. O. Mills, Alexander G. Bell, Nathan Straus, Adolphus Busch, George Gould, J. E. Simmons, E. J. editors who dined with Prince Henry last night as guests of Herman Ridder sent a cablegram of greeting to the Kaiser Wilhelm. It was submitted by Melville E. Stone and, after cordial endorsement by the guests, was forwarded. It read as follows:

"To the German emperor:

"The editors of the daily newspapers of the United States, one thousand in number, in honor of your illustrious brother, send you cordial greetings and all good wishes for a long and prosperous reign. We hail the presence of Prince Henry in this country as an omen of even closer ties of amity, and heartily reciprocate all of the splendid and repeated overtures of friendship you have been graciously pleased to extend.

THE EMPEROR PLEASED.

Expressed Pleasure at Reception Tendered to Prince.

Berlin, Feb. 27.—The details of the movements of Prince Henry and the courtesies shown him in the United States continue to be followed here with extraordinary interest, and the pleasure of Emperor William at the reception tendered his brother has been freely expressed to members of the royal household.

In official circles it is considered that the emperor has personally accomplished, by sending Prince Henry to the United States, what it would have taken years to do otherwise.

An inspired statement has been published by the German press with double leads. It says:

"The highest political circles are immensely pleased at the excellent course, up to the present time, of Prince Henry's visit. The conviction is entertained that these festive days will substantially contribute toward rendering the relations of the two countries permanently friendly, and especial delight is expressed at the cordiality of the personal intercourse between President Roosevelt and Prince Henry."

Remarkably Popular Remedy Commends Itself to Prominent Citizens.

In this age of competition it is well to be able to discriminate between the good and the bad of everything. It does not do to judge too much by appearances, for everything that glitters is not necessarily gold, or even silver, but in a great many instances simply old tin, polished up. It is hard to be mistaken when one first has an opportunity to make a thorough investigation and sample an article free of charge, before buying. This is the way the Louis Daudelin Co., of Worcester, Mass., have placed upon the market their celebrated French medical compound, "Blood Wine," and their earnest request is that everyone in ill health, to whose case their remedy is suited, shall take advantage of the privilege and satisfy himself that there are no misrepresentations, no extravagant promises, no misleading quotations and no false testimonials. The Daudelin people enjoy the respect and friendship of Massachusetts citizens and wherever else that they are known, and it is their desire to push this feeling of confidence and esteem to the four corners of the globe. Consequently "Blood Wine" bears the imprint of honor throughout.

In order that everyone may know exactly what he is buying and know just what to expect from every bottle of "Blood Wine," it is sold to every druggist with the understanding that he shall provide everyone calling, with a free sample. This enables you to test and investigate right here at home the workings of this remedy. "Blood Wine" cures disease by beginning at the very foundation of the trouble. It undermines disease as readily as disease overcomes the normal conditions of the system. To cure any kind of disease it is necessary to commence on the vital fluid of the body—the blood. Any physician will tell you that the mortal never lived into whose flesh the germs of disease could creep when healthy blood flowed through the veins. Sores on the body, pimples and blotches are produced in the same way that sores on the lungs or in the kidneys or any other part of the body are brought on. What is consumption? Nothing but a sore, a pus-emitting, discharging sore, or mass of sores, which if you could see would remind you of any kind of disgusting sore. What causes it and what will cure it? The blood.

An impoverished, unhealthy corpuscleless blood produces all the ills that flesh is heir to. A rich, thick, healthy, active blood will cure them. "That disease in the family has been handed down from generation to generation—it is in the blood," you hear people say and it is true.

If you don't rid yourself of a disease, you surely do hand it down to your children and grandchildren. "Blood Wine" has a wonderful medicinal characteristic.

When you take it, it seems to pass immediately from the stomach to the blood. It mingles all through the veins and into the most remote parts of the body.

It searches out disease and heals a sore no matter whether outside or inside. It cures coughs, colds and consumption (excepting when the latter is in the most advanced stage). It cures kidney troubles. It puts them in a healthy condition, thus enabling them to do their work. It takes the pains out of your back, the lameness from your sides and feet. It cures stomach troubles and indigestion. When a person has difficulty in retaining the food, when he has nausea and vomiting after meals, when the bowels become sluggish and move only spasmodically, then unsatisfactorily, and the mouth is sticky, the saliva thick and the breath bad,—then is the time to take "Blood Wine" and receive almost instantaneous results. Women who need strength, who find difficulty in doing their housework, who feel all dragged out, whose cheeks are colorless and whose anemic appearance bespeaks the absence of the healthy blood, will find "Blood Wine" a positive, never-failing cure. Rheumatism, muscular and articular, and all forms of neuralgia, shooting, darting pains, dull aches, that double up the fingers and twist and bulge the joints will be relieved by the prompt use of "Blood Wine." When you take this remedy you get right at the roots of the evil and become cured to stay cured. Probably no medicine ever sold has had as many enthusiastic admirers as "Blood Wine."

We ask you to write to anyone of them, make a personal investigation, ascertain for yourself that all said about "Blood Wine" is true.

"I find 'Blood Wine' a most remarkable medicine. It has cured me of a serious attack of nervous prostration that I thought would end my life and it has made me a strong healthy woman."—Mrs. A. B. Horton, Providence, R. I.

Anyone can take "Blood Wine." It's just as pleasant and palatable as a summer drink. No one would ever know from its innocent taste that it was such a powerfully aggressive opponent of disease. It contains no wine, no injurious drugs or opiates.

"As a never failing remedy for lung troubles, coughs, colds and catarrh I can truthfully say that 'Blood Wine' is the most reliable medicine I have ever tried. I say 'never failing' because I have yet to find the first case that it hasn't benefited."—B. A. Andrews, M. D., Beaumont, Boston, Mass.

"Blood Wine" costs fifty cents a bottle, but you can sample it free of charge at Will Reed's and Hodson's drug stores.

Prince Says Germany's Is Preferred, If We Are Willing to Grasp It.

His Mission to Promote Friendlier Relations Between Germany and United States—Luncheon With Business Men—Witnessed Parade.

New York, Feb. 27.—Prince Henry, of Prussia, dined last night with 1,000 of the men who make American newspapers. He was the special guest of Herman Ridder, proprietor of the New Yorker Staats Zeitung, who gathered at his table a majority of the leading figures in American journalism. They came from the four quarters of the country and made the most noteworthy gathering of their profession ever assembled in the United States. There was a felicitous exchange of greetings between Prince Henry and the men who spoke for the journalistic craft, and the affair claims rank as one of the notable incidents of the American tour of the German prince.

The dinner was given in the handsome ball room of the Waldorf Astoria hotel, but that immense apartment was not large enough to accommodate the numerous guests, and the Astor gallery was also used.

Bishop Potter Offered Grace.

Mr. Ridder called upon Bishop Potter, who offered a brief grace.

A small army of waiters quickly filled the aisles between tables, and with an order that was remarkable in such a large gathering the banquet began.

As the evening proceeded hundreds of handsomely gowned women filled the boxes above the dining hall. An orchestra high up in the second tier of boxes played popular national music, and when a tune caught the fancy of the crowd they sang it. At "Die Wacht am Rhein" the crowd arose, and after singing it lustily there were loud cheers. "America" got the same enthusiastic treatment.

Excellent moulded statuettes of Prince Henry were distributed as souvenirs.

At 10:25 o'clock Mr. Ridder, rapping for attention, proposed the health of the president of the United States and the Kaiser Wilhelm and called upon Whitelaw Reid to respond. Mr. Reid spoke and then Mr. Ridder made a speech.

Prince Henry was then introduced. As he stood up the crowd burst into song. "Hoch, Soll er Leben Mal, Hoch." After that they sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." Before beginning his speech the prince said: "This is the largest interview I ever had. He then said:

Speech of the Prince.

"Mr. Toastmaster and gentlemen: I am fully aware of the fact that I am the guest and in the presence of the representatives of the press of the United States, and particularly the guest of the United States Zeitung, both of which I wish to thank for the kind invitation and reception I have met with tonight.

"Before entering into details, I should like all of you to understand that I consider this meeting, though it may be looked upon as official, as a private one, and that it is my wish that none of you will take advantage of what is said or spoken after leaving this table.

"Undoubtedly the press of our day is a factor, if not a power, which may

people are lacking in nervous strength. The weak, care-worn, melancholy, headachy, and low-spirited men and women are easily excited, impatient, fidgety, and unable to sleep at night. Worn-out nerves must be built up, and the vitality of the whole system replenished before relief can come.

"The least bit of noise or sudden jar would nearly drive me crazy, and I was just too fidgety for anything. I was so nervous that I could not rest or sleep. The first dose of Dr. Miles' Nervine brought me sleep, and after that I got well fast."

Mrs. A. R. MORRELL, Arcola, Ills.

Dr. Miles' Nervine builds up the nerves, strengthens the brain, and fortifies and refreshes the whole system.

By Rev. CHARLES M. SHELDON, Author of "In His Steps"

IF the Golden Rule were to be applied at once by a great many corporations or firms or individuals, the immediate result would no doubt be a vast loss financially or at least a vast change to methods so diametrically opposed to the present methods that a crisis of some kind would follow; BUT THE GOLDEN RULE WOULD WORK JUST THE SAME, AND IN THE READJUSTMENT OF CONDUCT ON THAT BASIS THE ULTIMATE RESULT WOULD BE MORE MONEY, MORE POWER, MORE REAL SUCCESS THAN THE WORLD HAS EVER KNOWN.

Will the Golden Rule work in daily life? It certainly will, and all that is necessary to prove it is that we put it to work without waiting for any one else, without waiting for the millennium to come first.

The Golden Rule is not applied to the Sunday traffic of the railroads, and the Christian men in our churches who are stockholders, directors and officers have a Christian duty to perform toward their brothers who are engaged in the work of the road which brings them revenue.

The ministry of this country has not done its duty unless it has presented to men in the churches who have authority and influence the opportunities for putting Christianity into the great corporate life of the industrial world.

Work among the children in the Sunday schools is foundation work in this direction. The average minister would say probably that not one man in a hundred in his congregation would put the Golden Rule literally to the test in every detail. Then the real hope of Christ's rule in daily life for the future resides in our children.

IT IS EASIER TO MOLD PLASTIC CLAY THAN TO MAKE A DENT ON THE HARDENED ROCK.

The pastor ought to gather together the children in his Sunday school or the young people in his young people's societies for definite catechetical instruction on the stewardship of life. This is sowing seed. Somebody will reap the harvest of it.

The world needs to be taught that selfishness does not result in success. It needs to be taught that love literally and lavishly employed in business, politics, society, education, journalism—everything—pays an individual, a community or a nation more than the exercise of any kind of selfishness.

not be neglected and which I should like to compare with ever so many submarine mines which blow up in many cases in the most unexpected manner, but your own naval history teaches us not to mind mines, should they ever be in our way. The language used on this memorable occasion was stronger than I would venture to reproduce here tonight. I need only mention the name of Faragut. Another comparison might be more to your taste, gentlemen, and is, in fact, more complimentary; it is one which his majesty, the emperor used before I left. He said, "You will meet many members of the press, and I wish you therefore to keep in mind that the press men in the United States rank almost with my generals in command."

Explained His Mission.

"It will interest you, I know, to learn something about the nature of my mission to this country. The facts are as follows: His majesty, the emperor, has minutely studied the recent and rapid development of the United States, and his majesty is well aware of the fact that yours is a fast moving nation. His sending me to this country may therefore be looked upon as an act of friendship and courtesy, with the one desire of promoting friendlier relations between Germany and the United States. Should you be willing to grasp a proffered hand you will find such a one on the other side of the Atlantic ocean."

At the end of the speech the prince was heartily applauded.

Mr. Ridder at this point introduced Charles Emory Smith, saying that Mr. Smith had been a minister of state, a great editor, and is known as the silver-tongued orator of the press of America. Mr. Smith then spoke.

Following Mr. Smith came Charles W. Knapp, who was introduced in a few appropriate words by Mr. Ridder. Mr. Knapp made an address.

Prince Henry, preceding the press dinner, visited the Arion society.

The prince entered the main entrance of the Arion society's hall, on Park avenue, accompanied by Ambassador Von Holleben, Vice Admiral Von Tirpitz, Admiral Count von Baudissin, Admiral Evans, and Colonel Bingham, Adjutant General Corbin, Commander Cowles and Assistant Secretary of State Hill. There he was met by a committee of the club, headed by President Frank von Briesen, who extended a cordial welcome. Prince Henry replied briefly in German that it gave him great pleasure to find himself in the house of a German society and to be afforded the opportunity of witnessing the parade of the German societies from its balcony.

The prince was then escorted to the large hall upstairs, where he was greeted by Dr. Louis Weyland and the committee of the German-American

Witnessed Parade of Germans.

The imperial party was then escorted to the beautifully decorated balcony of the club, where they were joined by Mayor Low, Admiral von Tirpitz, Admiral von Baudissin, Ambassador von Holleben, Consul General Buenz, Admiral Evans and Dr. Weyland. The procession, which had started immediately, commanded the attention of the prince, who seemed immensely pleased and impressed with the spectacle. Toward the close of the procession the prince was greeted by a delegation of Columbia college students on the street, who gave their college yell several times.

All the leaders of Wall street were present at the luncheon in the prince's honor at Sherry's at noon yesterday. The tables were spread in the ball room of the third floor. To the prince and his party was assigned a square table at one side of the room, the others being arranged around it in crescent form. Fish nets were artistically draped from the ceiling, intertwined with smilax and American beauty roses, while the corridor was wafted the warblings of a hundred canary birds hung in cages among the foliage. Miniature electric lights in red shed a soft glow over the scene.

Among the guests besides Prince Henry and his suite and escort were: Mayor Seth Low, Lieutenant Governor Imothy Woodruff, J. P. Morgan, Charles M. Schwab, Gustav Schwab, William H. Cramp, Abram S. Hewitt, J. Ogden Armour, D. O. Mills, H. O. Havemeyer, ex-Attorney General Griggs, J. O. Mills, Alexander G. Bell, Nathan Straus, Adolphus Busch, George Gould, J. E. Simmons, E. J. Berwind, Simon Newcomb, Reginald Foster, J. A. Brashers, Thomas A. Edison, Charles A. More, Rear Admiral Melville, Emil Boas, Alfred Schiff, Alexander E. Orr, W. B. Parsons, E. R. Adams, John A. Prince Says Germany's Is Preferred, If We Are Willing to Grasp It.

DINED WITH NEWSPAPER MEN.

His Mission to Promote Friendlier Relations Between Germany and United States—Luncheon With Business Men—Witnessed Parade.

New York, Feb. 27.—Prince Henry, of Prussia, dined last night with 1,000 of the men who make American newspapers. He was the special guest of Herman Ridder, proprietor of the New Yorker Staats Zeitung, who gathered at his table a majority of the leading figures in American journalism. They came from the four quarters of the country and made the most noteworthy gathering of their profession ever assembled in the United States. There was a felicitous exchange of greetings between Prince Henry and the men who spoke for the journalistic craft, and the affair claims rank as one of the notable incidents of the American tour of the German prince.

The dinner was given in the handsome ball room of the Waldorf Astoria hotel, but that immense apartment was not large enough to accommodate the numerous guests, and the Astor gallery was also used.

Bishop Potter Offered Grace.

Mr. Ridder called upon Bishop Potter, who offered a brief grace.

A small army of waiters quickly filled the aisles between tables, and with an order that was remarkable in such a large gathering the banquet began.

As the evening proceeded hundreds of handsomely gowned women filled the boxes above the dining hall. An orchestra high up in the second tier of boxes played popular national music, and when a tune caught the fancy of the crowd they sang it. At "Die Wacht am Rhein" the crowd arose, and after singing it lustily there were loud cheers. "America" got the same enthusiastic treatment.

Excellent moulded statuettes of Prince Henry were distributed as souvenirs.

At 10:25 o'clock Mr. Ridder, rapping for attention, proposed the health of the president of the United States and the Kaiser Wilhelm and called upon Whitelaw Reid to respond. Mr. Reid spoke and then Mr. Ridder made a speech.

Prince Henry was then introduced. As he stood up the crowd burst into song. "Hoch, Soll er Leben Mal, Hoch." After that they sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." Before beginning his speech the prince said: "This is the largest interview I ever had. He then said:

Speech of the Prince.

"Mr. Toastmaster and gentlemen: I am fully aware of the fact that I am the guest and in the presence of the representatives of the press of the United States, and particularly the guest of the United States Zeitung, both of which I wish to thank for the kind invitation and reception I have met with tonight.

"Before entering into details, I should like all of you to understand that I consider this meeting, though it may be looked upon as official, as a private one, and that it is my wish that none of you will take advantage of what is said or spoken after leaving this table.

"Undoubtedly the press of our day is a factor, if not a power, which may

people are lacking in nervous strength. The weak, care-worn, melancholy, headachy, and low-spirited men and women are easily excited, impatient, fidgety, and unable to sleep at night. Worn-out nerves must be built up, and the vitality of the whole system replenished before relief can come.

"The least bit of noise or sudden jar would nearly drive me crazy, and I was just too fidgety for anything. I was so nervous that I could not rest or sleep. The first dose of Dr. Miles' Nervine brought me sleep, and after that I got well fast."

By Rev. CHARLES M. SHELDON, Author of "In His Steps"

If the Golden Rule were to be applied at once by a great many corporations or firms or individuals, the immediate result would no doubt be a vast loss financially or at least a vast change to methods so diametrically opposed to the present methods that a crisis of some kind would follow; BUT THE GOLDEN RULE WOULD WORK JUST THE SAME, AND IN THE READJUSTMENT OF CONDUCT ON THAT BASIS THE ULTIMATE RESULT WOULD BE MORE MONEY, MORE POWER, MORE REAL SUCCESS THAN THE WORLD HAS EVER KNOWN.

Will the Golden Rule work in daily life? It certainly will, and all that is necessary to prove it is that we put it to work without waiting for any one else, without waiting for the millennium to come first.

The Golden Rule is not applied to the Sunday traffic of the railroads, and the Christian men in our churches who are stockholders, directors and officers have a Christian duty to perform toward their brothers who are engaged in the work of the road which brings them revenue.

The ministry of this country has not done its duty unless it has presented to men in the churches who have authority and influence the opportunities for putting Christianity into the great corporate life of the industrial world.

Work among the children in the Sunday schools is foundation work in this direction. The average minister would say probably that not one man in a hundred in his congregation would put the Golden Rule literally to the test in every detail. Then the real hope of Christ's rule in daily life for the future resides in our children.

IT IS EASIER TO MOLD PLASTIC CLAY THAN TO MAKE A DENT ON THE HARDENED ROCK.

The pastor ought to gather together the children in his Sunday school or the young people in his young people's societies for definite catechetical instruction on the stewardship of life. This is sowing seed. Somebody will reap the harvest of it.

The world needs to be taught that selfishness does not result in success. It needs to be taught that love literally and lavishly employed in business, politics, society, education, journalism—everything—pays an individual, a community or a nation more than the exercise of any kind of selfishness.

not be neglected and which I should like to compare with ever so many submarine mines which blow up in many cases in the most unexpected manner, but your own naval history teaches us not to mind mines, should they ever be in our way. The language used on this memorable occasion was stronger than I would venture to reproduce here tonight. I need only mention the name of Faragut. Another comparison might be more to your taste, gentlemen, and is, in fact, more complimentary; it is one which his majesty, the emperor used before I left. He said, "You will meet many members of the press, and I wish you therefore to keep in mind that the press men in the United States rank almost with my generals in command."

Explained His Mission.

"It will interest you, I know, to learn something about the nature of my mission to this country. The facts are as follows: His majesty, the emperor, has minutely studied the recent and rapid development of the United States, and his majesty is well aware of the fact that yours is a fast moving nation. His sending me to this country may therefore be looked upon as an act of friendship and courtesy, with the one desire of promoting friendlier relations between Germany and the United States. Should you be willing to grasp a proffered hand you will find such a one on the other side of the Atlantic ocean."

At the end of the speech the prince was heartily applauded.

Mr. Ridder at this point introduced Charles Emory Smith, saying that Mr. Smith had been a minister of state, a great editor, and is known as the silver-tongued orator of the press of America. Mr. Smith then spoke.

Following Mr. Smith came Charles W. Knapp, who was introduced in a few appropriate words by Mr. Ridder. Mr. Knapp made an address.

Prince Henry, preceding the press dinner, visited the Arion society.

The prince entered the main entrance of the Arion society's hall, on Park avenue, accompanied by Ambassador Von Holleben, Vice Admiral Von Tirpitz, Admiral Count Von Baudissin, Admiral Evans, and Colonel Bingham, Adjutant General Corbin, Commander Cowles and Assistant Secretary of State Hill. There he was met by a committee of the club, headed by President Frank Von Briessen, who extended a cordial welcome. Prince Henry replied briefly in German that it gave him great pleasure to find himself in the house of a German society and to be afforded the opportunity of witnessing the parade of the German societies from its balcony.

The prince was then escorted to the large hall upstairs, where he was greeted by Dr. Louis Weyland and the committee of the German-American

Witnessed Parade of Germans.

The imperial party was then escorted to the beautifully decorated balcony of the club, where they were joined by Mayor Low, Admiral Von Tirpitz, Admiral Von Baudissin, Ambassador Von Holleben, Consul General Bueuz, Admiral Evans and Dr. Weyland. The procession, which had started immediately, commanded the attention of the prince, who seemed immensely pleased and impressed with the spectacle. Toward the close of the procession the prince was greeted by a delegation of Columbia college students on the street, who gave their college yell several times.

All the leaders of Wall street were present at the luncheon in the prince's honor at Sherry's at noon yesterday. The tables were spread in the ball room of the third floor. To the prince and his party was assigned a square table at one side of the room, the others being arranged around it in crescent form. Fish nets were artistically draped from the ceiling, intertwined with smilax and American beauty roses, while the corridor was wafted the warblings of a hundred canary birds hung in cages among the foliage. Miniature electric lights in red shed a soft glow over the scene.

Some of Guests at Luncheon.

Among the guests besides Prince Henry and his suite and escort were: Mayor Seth Low, Lieutenant Governor Timothy Woodruff, J. P. Morgan, Charles M. Schwab, Gustav Schwab, William H. Cramp, Abram S. Hewitt, J. Ogden Armour, D. O. Mills, H. O. Havemeyer, ex-Attorney General Griggs, J. O. Mills, Alexander G. Bell, Nathan Straus, Adolphus Busch, George Gould, J. E. Simmons, E. J. editors who dined with Prince Henry last night as guests of Herman Ridder sent a cablegram of greeting to the Kaiser Wilhelm. It was submitted by Melville E. Stone and, after cordial endorsement by the guests, was forwarded. It read as follows: "To the German emperor: "The editors of the daily newspapers of the United States, one thousand in number, in honor of your illustrious brother, send you cordial greetings and all good wishes for a long and prosperous reign. We hail the presence of Prince Henry in this country as an omen of even closer ties of amity, and heartily reciprocate all of the splendid and repeated overtures of friendship you have been graciously pleased to extend. THE EMPEROR PLEASED.

Expressed Pleasure at Reception Tendered to Prince.

Berlin, Feb. 27.—The details of the movements of Prince Henry and the courtesies shown him in the United States continue to be followed here with extraordinary interest, and the pleasure of Emperor William at the reception tendered his brother has been freely expressed to members of the royal household.

In official circles it is considered that the emperor has personally accomplished, by sending Prince Henry to the United States, what it would have taken years to do otherwise.

An inspired statement has been published by the German press with double leads. It says:

"The highest political circles are immensely pleased at the excellent course, up to the present time, of Prince Henry's visit. The conviction is entertained that these festive days will substantially contribute toward rendering the relations of the two countries permanently friendly, and especial delight is expressed at the cordiality of the personal intercourse between President Roosevelt and Prince Henry."

Blood Wine Can be Sampled at Drug Stores Without Cost.

Remarkably Popular Remedy Commends Itself to Prominent Citizens.

In this age of competition it is well to be able to discriminate between the good and the bad of everything. It does not do to judge too much by appearances, for everything that glitters is not necessarily gold, or even silver, but in a great many instances simply old tin, polished up. It is hard to be mistaken when one first has an opportunity to make a thorough investigation and sample an article free of charge, before buying. This is the way the Louis Daudelin Co., of Worcester, Mass., have placed upon the market their celebrated French medical compound, "Blood Wine," and their earnest request is that everyone in ill health, to whose case their remedy is suited, shall take advantage of the privilege and satisfy himself that there are no misrepresentations, no extravagant promises, no misleading quotations and no false testimonials. The Daudelin people enjoy the respect and friendship of Massachusetts citizens and wherever else that they are known, and it is their desire to push this feeling of confidence and esteem to the four corners of the globe. Consequently "Blood Wine" bears the imprint of honor throughout.

In order that everyone may know exactly what he is buying and know just what to expect from every bottle of "Blood Wine," it is sold to every druggist with the understanding that he shall provide everyone calling, with a free sample. This enables you to test and investigate right here at home the workings of this remedy.

"Blood Wine" cures disease by beginning at the very foundation of the trouble. It undermines disease as readily as disease overcomes the normal conditions of the system. To cure any kind of disease it is necessary to commence on the vital fluid of the body—the blood. Any physician will tell you that the mortal never lived into whose flesh the germs of disease could creep when healthy blood flowed through the veins. Sores on the body, pimples and blotches are produced in the same way that sores on the lungs or in the kidneys or any other part of the body are brought on. What is consumption? Nothing but a sore, a pus-emitting, discharging sore, or mass of sores, which if you could see would remind you of any kind of disgusting sore. What causes it and what will cure it? The blood.

An impoverished, unhealthy corpulenceless blood produces all the ills that flesh is heir to. A rich, thick, healthy, active blood will cure them.

"That disease in the family has been handed down from generation to generation—it's in the blood," you hear people say and it's true.

If you don't rid yourself of a disease, you surely do hand it down to your children and grandchildren. "Blood Wine" has a wonderful medicinal characteristic.

When you take it, it seems to pass immediately from the stomach to the blood. It mingles all through the veins and into the most remote parts of the body.

It searches out disease and heals a sore no matter whether outside or inside. It cures coughs, colds and consumption (excepting when the latter is in the most advanced stage). It cures kidney troubles. It puts them in a healthy condition, thus enabling them to do their work. It takes the pains out of your back, the lameness from your sides and feet. It cures stomach troubles and indigestion. When a person has difficulty in retaining the food, when he has nausea and vomiting after meals, when the bowels become sluggish and move only spasmodically, then unsatisfactorily, and the mouth is sticky, the saliva thick and the breath bad,—then is the time to take "Blood Wine," and receive almost instantaneous results. Women who need strength, who find difficulty in doing their housework, who feel all dragged out, whose cheeks are colorless and whose anemic appearance bespeaks the absence of the healthy blood, will find "Blood Wine" a positive, never-failing cure. Rheumatism, muscular and articular, and all forms of neuralgia, shooting, darting pains, dull aches, that double up the fingers and twist and bulge the joints will be relieved by the prompt use of "Blood Wine." When you take this remedy you get right at the roots of the evil and become cured to stay cured. Probably no medicine ever sold has had as many enthusiastic admirers as "Blood Wine."

We ask you to write to anyone of them, make a personal investigation, ascertain for yourself that all said about "Blood Wine" is true.

"I find 'Blood Wine' a most remarkable medicine. It has cured me of a serious attack of nervous prostration that I thought would end my life and it has made me a strong healthy woman."—Mrs. A. B. Horton, Providence, R. I.

"Anyone can take 'Blood Wine.' It's just as pleasant and palatable as a summer drink. No one would ever know from its innocent taste that it was such a powerfully aggressive opponent of disease. It contains no wine, no injurious drugs or opiates.

"As a never failing remedy for lung troubles, coughs, colds and catarrh I can truthfully say that 'Blood Wine' is the most reliable medicine I have ever tried. I say 'never failing' because I have yet to find the first case that it hasn't benefited."—B. A. Andrews, M. D., Beachmont, Boston, Mass.

"Blood Wine" costs fifty cents a bottle, but you can sample it free of charge at Will Reed's and Hodson's drug stores.

At the recent meeting of the city council, attention was called to the necessity of having safety fenders on the street cars, and it was decided to have an ordinance on the subject prepared. Such an ordinance should be passed promptly. The street cars have been making a terrible record in the past few months. Although there is no evidence that the railway employees have been at fault, some of the fatalities which have been so numerous could doubtless have been prevented had the cars which struck the unfortunates been equipped with life-saving fenders. Some people will be careless, and some will get drunk and walk the street car tracks, but neither of these facts is any reason why they should be killed. If the saying of even one human life can be effected by the use of fenders, then they should be used. That these devices are a protection is universally admitted where they have been tested. It was stated at the council meeting that there was no state law requiring traction companies to equip their cars with fenders. If this be the case, it is a fact not creditable to the Ohio legislature, and that body should proceed at once to remedy the defect in the laws. Meantime the East Liverpool council can do its part toward preventing unnecessary slaughter. It is highly probable that the street railway people may object, on account of the expense. Such objections should have no weight with human life in the scale. And if the railway managers would look to their own interests, they would see that car fenders are cheaper than damage suits and the payment of death claims. No street car should be suffered to run for an hour that is not provided with every possible device to prevent accidents. By all means let the city have a fender ordinance and see that it is enforced.

The folly of a practice prevalent in East Liverpool of laying brick sidewalks in the mud is now apparent in many sections of the city. Sidewalks, the purpose of which ought to be to enable pedestrians to keep out of the mud, are so sunken or covered with dirt as to be not only an inconvenience, but a positive danger to those who try to walk upon them. The passerby can feel them settle under his feet; bricks are standing on end, and the walks are utterly useless for the purpose for which they are intended. This condition of affairs prevails to a greater or less extent each spring; this season it is far worse than usual. We are supposed to have a system of street inspection, but it is evident that it has not prevented work in the pavement line that would be a discredit to the merest amateur. Steps should be taken promptly to remedy existing defects, and more important still, to guard against them in the future.

About the most cheerful sight witnessed on the streets of East Liverpool for some days is the appearance of the street cleaning department on the business streets, removing many weeks' accumulation of dirt and mud. There is work for a full force for a long time, not only on the principal thoroughfares, but on side streets and alleys—especially on the latter. The spring cleaning should be thorough, and after it is accomplished, the city should be kept clean. The work is expensive, but it is also important. It is cheaper to pay for systematic and constant cleaning than to run the risk of an epidemic of disease—and that, as everyone knows, is just what dirty streets invite.

Both branches of congress will practically suspend business and devote the day to services in memory of the late president, William Mc-

Kinley. The voice of factionalism will be hushed and the chief men of the nation will unite in expressive tribute to one who, though gone from among them, has left an influence that will long be potent in shaping the affairs of the nation. It is well for congress to pause from debate and devote one day's session to considering the life and works of William McKinley. In these it will find lofty ideals, honest inspiration and true patriotism.

The primary election contest is interesting as well as important. No Republican should overlook his plain duty, which is to vote for the men whom he considers best fitted for the offices to be filled.

Too many safeguards for ensuring the purity of the primaries cannot be provided. The Republican central committee is to be commended for the steps it has taken to guard against possible fraud.

President Roosevelt has probably lastingly impressed upon the so-called mind of Judge Noyes that public office is not a private snap.

David B. Hill is a shrewd Democrat. He sees no hope for his party as long as it considers Bryanism the paramount issue.

Silence would best become Tillman, but he keeps on talking. Becoming conduct and Tillman are total strangers.

May the "white wings" never grow weary as long as a dirty street remains uncleaned.

A HUMAN FOREST.

How Indian Tribesmen Succeed in Escaping the Police.

Some of the Indian tribes over which we rule give us a great deal of trouble, notably the Mahsuds. The Mahsuds, however, are not by any means the worst of the Indian robber tribes, the unenviable distinction probably falling to the Bhils, who are the cleverest scoundrels in the world, both in their methods of acquiring other people's property and in evading pursuit.

They are very proud of their skill in pilfering and openly boast of it. One of them once told a British officer that he could steal the blanket from under him and was promptly challenged to show his ability. That night when the officer was fast asleep the Bhil robber cut a hole in his tent, crept noiselessly in and gently tickled the hands and feet of the sleeping man. The officer stirred uneasily and turned over. In this way the Bhil was able to pull the blanket out a little way. By repeating his performance he finally succeeded in "coaxing" the blanket completely from under the sleeper.

When engaged in his nefarious little games, the Bhil wears hardly any clothing, and his little body is rubbed with oil to facilitate escape from any would be captors. When hotly pursued by the British troops, the robbers make use of a very clever device. They conceal their scant clothing under their small round shields and scatter them about to resemble stones or boulders; then, picking up a few twigs—if there are any to be had—they assume all sorts of grotesque attitudes, their almost fleshless limbs silhouetted against the dark night sky closely resembling the charred limbs of a tree. Absolutely motionless, they hold their positions till the enemy has passed them.

In this way a British subaltern in charge of a party sent to capture some Bhils was considerably startled one evening. The pursuit had completely lost sight of the robbers, and finally the party drew rein by a clump of gnarled and bent tree trunks, tired and hot from their hard exertions. The officer in charge took off his hat and placed it on the end of a broken limb, when instantly there was a wild scream of laughter, and the tree trunks suddenly came to life and vanished in the darkness.—London Express.

POTTERY NEWS

When the News Review last week told of the combine formed by certain manufacturers of Trenton, the announcement was looked upon with a degree of uneasiness. A local paper for two days thereafter rehearsed the same story. The first and only reliable news of the combination was given in these columns.

"It is not my intention to cut prices or to do anything that will in any way injure the trade," said President A. M. Mareland of the American potteries to the News Review yesterday. "We have a large number of orders on hand and our plants will be kept in steady operation. The ware is to be sold at prices which will permit us to make a profit. Instead of degrading a trade or business it is well for every business man to elevate it as much as possible. It has been rumored that price cutting has been indulged in here for some time, but the report cannot be verified."

At a recent meeting of the Cone Fire Clay company, many of the stockholders of which reside in this city, it was decided to sell their buildings and other property in Salineville to the Salineville Electric Light company, and to make their goods in this city. A test of certain clays in this section is now being made as to its adaptability to chimney tops. If it proves satisfactory the concern will produce its goods here by the East Liverpool Sagger company.

While it has been rumored in this city for the past month that a new pottery will be built here during the summer, there is now every reason to believe that nothing of the kind will be done. With the announcement that the American Potteries company, of Trenton, has formed an alliance with the Union Potteries company, of this city and Pittsburgh, it has been learned that no independent factory will be built. It has been stated that the Union company expected to build a new plant, or at least, consider the advisability of enlarging the Union. While the company has some plans in view, which have been made known to certain parties, the matter has not progressed far enough to present to the public.

All arrangements for the association football game to be played between teams from Laughlin No. 2 and the Buckeye have been completed. The game will be played at Rock Springs park on the afternoon of March 8, and will be for a purse of $100 a side. Mr. Simpson, an engraver at the K. T. & K. will referee the game.

Kilnmen's local No. 9 will meet tomorrow evening in Brotherhood hall, when nominations for convention delegates will be opened. The local is still anxious to send the full quota of representatives, 10 in number, and the election, which will be held next week, promises to be spirited.

Charles DeBee, formerly of this city, now of Sebring, was in the city yesterday securing a crew of men to work in the kiln department of the Shenango pottery at New Castle. Eight men are needed. The glist crew at the plant will start next Monday week, and will make eight kilns a pay.

Printers at the National have been compelled to work nights during the past week, owing to a rush of orders for a certain class of ware. The new printing presses to be installed in the decorating shop have been ordered and will be set up in a short time.

Kilndrawers' local No. 17 will not elect delegates to the Trenton convention Saturday evening, as stated in a local paper last week. In fact, the first nominations have not been made, but this will be done Saturday evening.

In the past the Smith & Phillips has been making three biscuit and four glist, kilns a pay, but now six glist kilns will be turned out every two weeks. Quite a large amount of decorated ware is being sent out by this firm.

Scott Campbell, who has been employed as a warehouseman at the Union, has taken a position at Canonsburg.

Miss Etta Beck, a filler in at the National, has been unable to work for several days on account of sore eyes.

Frank Woodburn left yesterday afternoon for Salem, where he will remain several days visiting friends.

John Mountford, late of the Sebring company, has taken a position with the National as gilder.

Two car load orders have been sent out by the Smith & Phillips this week.

Joe Duke has taken a position as presser at the Laughlin No. 2.

Frank W. Fowler, vice president of the Union Potteries company, was in the city today.

G. A. Smith has taken a position as frame filler at the Klondike.

Miss Blanche Dorman is a new filler in at the National.

She assists her husband in his establishment of industrial schools and is personally educating many young friends.

Mrs. Jennie Hobart, widow of Vice President Hobart, has presented the Children's Day nursery of Paterson, N. J., with a large plot of ground as a site for a nursery home and has added $25,000 to build and furnish it. The gift is a memorial to Mrs. Hobart's daughter, who died in Italy while on a trip with her parents about six years ago.

FRILLS OF FASHION.

Fashion appears to have fully decided that the severe habit back skirt shall be included among the season's most favored modes.

There are this season a great many new varieties of the Louis XIV. and Louis XV. coats, which in some guise remain ever in fashion.

White marabou boas are in marked vogue for evening wear. Tours de cou are seen in all tints and tones.

Cramoisi is the shade of red now the rage among Paris ateliers both for effective accessories in dress and millinery and for gowns and wraps entire.

The use of long sweeping plumes, fancy feather breasts, whole birds, wings, quill feathers and fluffy ostrich tips has, spite of all efforts to the contrary, resulted in being a very conspicuous feature of millinery for the winter season.

The telephone girl and the bill clerk, to whom she had promised her heart and hand, were sitting in front of the fireplace talking about the happy days to come when they would be one.

From one little detail to another the talk finally drifted to the subject of lighting fires in the morning. On this point the young man was decided. He stated it as his emphatic opinion that it was a wife's place to get up and start the fires and let her poor, hard-working husband rest.

After this declaration there was silence for the space of about three-quarters of a second. Then the telephone girl thrust out the finger encircled by her engagement ring and murmured sweetly, but firmly: "Ring off, please. You have got connected with the wrong number."—Salt Lake Herald.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1902.

At the recent meeting of the city council, attention was called to the necessity of having safety fenders on the street cars, and it was decided to have an ordinance on the subject prepared. Such an ordinance should be passed promptly. The street cars have been making a terrible record in the past few months. Although there is no evidence that the railway employees have been at fault, some of the fatalities which have been so numerous could doubtless have been prevented had the cars which struck the unfortunates been equipped with life-saving fenders. Some people will be careless, and some will get drunk and walk the street car tracks, but neither of these facts is any reason why they should be killed. If the saying of even one human life can be effected by the use of fenders, then they should be used. That these devices are a protection is universally admitted where they have been tested. It was stated at the council meeting that there was no state law requiring traction companies to equip their cars with fenders. If this be the case, it is a fact not creditable to the Ohio legislature, and that body should proceed at once to remedy the defect in the laws. Meantime the East Liverpool council can do its part toward preventing unnecessary slaughter. It is highly probable that the street railway people may object, on account of the expense. Such objections should have no weight with human life in the scale. And if the railway managers would look to their own interests, they would see that car fenders are cheaper than damage suits and the payment of death claims. No street car should be suffered to run for an hour that is not provided with every possible device to prevent accidents. By all means let the city have a fender ordinance and see that it is enforced.

The folly of a practice prevalent in East Liverpool of laying brick sidewalks in the mud is now apparent in many sections of the city. Sidewalks, the purpose of which ought to be to enable pedestrians to keep out of the mud, are so sunken or covered with dirt as to be not only an inconvenience, but a positive danger to those who try to walk upon them. The passerby can feel them settle under his feet; bricks are standing on end, and the walks are utterly useless for the purpose for which they are intended. This condition of affairs prevails to a greater or less extent each spring; this season it is far worse than usual. We are supposed to have a system of street inspection, but it is evident that it has not prevented work in the pavement line that would be a discredit to the merest amateur. Steps should be taken promptly to remedy existing defects, and more important still, to guard against them in the future.

About the most cheerful sight witnessed on the streets of East Liverpool for some days is the appearance of the street cleaning department on the business streets, removing many weeks' accumulation of dirt and mud. There is work for a full force for a long time, not only on the principal thoroughfares, but on side streets and alleys—especially on the latter. The spring cleaning should be thorough, and after it is accomplished, the city should be kept clean. The work is expensive, but it is also important. It is cheaper to pay for systematic and constant cleaning than to run the risk of an epidemic of disease—and that, as everyone knows, is just what dirty streets invite.

Both branches of congress will practically suspend business and devote the day to services in memory of the late president, William Mc-

Kinley. The voice of factionalism will be hushed and the chief men of the nation will unite in an impressive tribute to one who, though gone from among them, has left an influence that will long be potent in shaping the affairs of the nation. It is well for congress to pause from debate and devote one day's session to considering the life and works of William McKinley. In these it will find lofty ideals, honest inspiration and true patriotism.

The primary election contest is interesting as well as important. No Republican should overlook his plain duty, which is to vote for the men whom he considers best fitted for the offices to be filled.

Too many safeguards for ensuring the purity of the primaries cannot be provided. The Republican central committee is to be commended for the steps it has taken to guard against possible fraud.

President Roosevelt has probably lastingly impressed upon the so-called mind of Judge Noyes that public office is not a private snap.

David B. Hill is a shrewd Democrat. He sees no hope for his party as long as it considers Bryanism the paramount issue.

Silence would best become Tillman, but he keeps on talking. Becoming conduct and Tillman are total strangers.

May the "white wings" never grow weary as long as a dirty street remains uncleaned.

A HUMAN FOREST.

How Indian Tribesmen Succeeded in Escaping the Police.

Some of the Indian tribes over which we rule give us a great deal of trouble, notably the Mahauds. The Mahauds, however, are not by any means the worst of the Indian robber tribes, the unenviable distinction probably falling to the Bhils, who are the cleverest scoundrels in the world, both in their methods of acquiring other people's property and in evading pursuit.

They are very proud of their skill in pilfering and openly boast of it. One of them once told a British officer that he could steal the blanket from under him and was promptly challenged to show his ability. That night when the officer was fast asleep the Bhil robber cut a hole in his tent, crept noiselessly in and gently tickled the heads and feet of the sleeping man. The officer stirred uneasily and turned over. In this way the Bhil was able to pull the blanket out a little way. By repeating his performance he finally succeeded in "coaxing" the blanket completely from under the sleeper.

When engaged in his nefarious little games, the Bhil wears hardly any clothing, and his little body is rubbed with oil to facilitate escape from any would-be captors. When hotly pursued by the British troops, the robbers make use of a very clever device. They conceal their scant clothing under their small round shields and scatter them about to resemble stones or bowlders; then, picking up a few twigs—if there are any to be had—they assume all sorts of grotesque attitudes, their almost fleshless limbs silhouetted against the dark night sky closely resembling the charred limbs of a tree. Absolutely motionless, they hold their positions till the enemy has passed them.

In this way a British subaltern in charge of a party sent to capture some Bhils was considerably startled one evening. The pursuit had completely lost sight of the robbers, and finally the party drew rein by a clump of gnarled and bent tree trunks, tired and hot from their hard exertions. The officer in charge took off his hat and placed it on the end of a broken limb, when instantly there was a wild scream of laughter, and the tree trunks suddenly came to life and vanished in the darkness.—London Express.

POTTERY NEWS

When the News Review last week told of the combine formed by certain manufacturers of Trenton, the announcement was looked upon with a degree of uneasiness. A local paper for two days thereafter rehearsed the same story. The first and only reliable news of the combination was given in these columns.

"It is not my intention to cut prices or to do anything that will in any way injure the trade," said President A. M. Mareland of the American potteries to the News Review yesterday. "We have a large number of orders on hand and our plants will be kept in steady operation. The ware is to be sold at prices which will permit us to make a profit. Instead of degrading a trade or business it is well for every business man to elevate it as much as possible. It has been rumored that price cutting has been indulged in here for some time, but the report cannot be verified."

At a recent meeting of the Cone Fire Clay company, many of the stockholders of which reside in this city, it was decided to sell their buildings and other property in Salineville to the Salineville Electric Light company, and to make their goods in this city. A test of certain clays in this section is now being made as to its adaptability to chimney tops. If it proves satisfactory the concern will produce its goods here by the East Liverpool Sagger company.

While it has been rumored in this city for the past month that a new pottery will be built here during the summer, there is now every reason to believe that nothing of the kind will be done. With the announcement that the American Potteries company, of Trenton, has formed an alliance with the Union Potteries company, of this city and Pittsburgh, it has been learned that no independent factory will be built. It has been stated that the Union company expected to build a new plant, or at least, consider the advisability of enlarging the Union. While the company has some plans in view, which have been made known to certain parties, the matter has not progressed far enough to present to the public.

All arrangements for the association football game to be played between teams from Laughlin No. 2 and the Buckeye have been completed. The game will be played at Rock Springs park on the afternoon of March 8, and will be for a purse of $100 a side. Mr. Simpson, an engraver at the K. T. & K. will referee the game.

Kilmen's local No. 9 will meet tomorrow evening in Brotherhood hall, when nominations for convention delegates will be opened. The local is still anxious to send the full quota of representatives, 10 in number, and the election, which will be held next week, promises to be spirited.

Charles DeBee, formerly of this city, now of Sebring, was in the city yesterday securing a crew of men to work in the kiln department of the Shenango pottery at New Castle. Eight men are needed. The glist crew at the plant will start next Monday week, and will make eight kilns a pay.

Printers at the National have been compelled to work nights during the past week, owing to a rush of orders for a certain class of ware. The new printing presses to be installed in the decorating shop have been ordered and will be set up in a short time.

Kilndrawers' local No. 17 will not elect delegates to the Trenton convention Saturday evening, as stated in a local paper last week. In fact, the first nominations have not been made, but this will be done Saturday evening.

In the past the Smith & Phillips has been making three biscuit and four glist kilns a pay, but now six glist kilns will be turned out every two weeks. Quite a large amount of decorated ware is being sent out by this firm.

Scott Campbell, who has been employed as a warehouseman at the Union, has taken a position at Canonsburg.

Miss Etta Beck, a filler in at the National, has been unable to work for several days on account of sore eyes.

Frank Woodburn left yesterday afternoon for Salem, where he will remain several days visiting friends.

John Mountford, late of the Sebring company, has taken a position with the National as glider.

Two car load orders have been sent out by the Smith & Phillips this week.

Joe Duke has taken a position as presser at the Laughlin No. 2.

Frank W. Fowler, vice president of the Union Potteries company, was in the city today.

G. A. Smith has taken a position as frame filler at the Klondike.

Meantime the East Liverpool council can do its part toward preventing unnecessary slaughter. It is highly probable that the street railway people may object, on account of the expense. Such objections should have no weight with human life in the scale. And if the railway managers would look to their own interests, they would see that car fenders are cheaper than damage suits and the payment of death claims. No street car should be suffered to run for an hour that is not provided with every possible device to prevent accidents. By all means let the city have a fender ordinance and see that it is enforced.

The folly of a practice prevalent in East Liverpool of laying brick, sidewalk in the mud is now apparent in many sections of the city. Sidewalks, the purpose of which ought to be to enable pedestrians to keep out of the mud, are so sunken or covered with dirt as to be not only an inconvenience, but a positive danger to those who try to walk upon them. The passerby can feel them settle under his feet; bricks are standing on end, and the walks are utterly useless for the purpose for which they are intended. This condition of affairs prevails to a greater or less extent each spring; this season it is far worse than usual. We are supposed to have a system of street inspection, but it is evident that it has not prevented work in the pavement line that would be a discredit to the merest amateur. Steps should be taken promptly to remedy existing defects, and more important still, to guard against them in the future.

About the most cheerful sight witnessed on the streets of East Liverpool for some days is the appearance of the street cleaning department on the business streets, removing many weeks' accumulation of dirt and mud. There is work for a full force for a long time, not only on the principal thoroughfares, but on side streets and alleys—especially on the latter. The spring cleaning should be thorough, and after it is accomplished, the city should be kept clean. The work is expensive, but it is also important. It is cheaper to pay for systematic and constant cleaning than to run the risk of an epidemic of disease—and that, as everyone knows, is just what dirty streets invite.

Both branches of congress will practically suspend business and devote the day to services in memory of the late president, William Mc-

Kinley. The voice of factionalism will be hushed and the chief men of the nation will unite in expressive tribute to one who, though gone from among them, has left an influence that will long be potent in shaping the affairs of the nation. It is well for congress to pause from debate and devote one day's session to considering the life and works of William McKinley. In these it will find lofty ideals, honest inspiration and true patriotism.

The primary election contest is interesting as well as important. No Republican should overlook his plain duty, which is to vote for the men whom he considers best fitted for the offices to be filled.

Too many safeguards for ensuring the purity of the primaries cannot be provided. The Republican central committee is to be commended for the steps it has taken to guard against possible fraud.

President Roosevelt has probably lastingly impressed upon the so-called mind of Judge Noyes that public office is not a private snap.

David B. Hill is a shrewd Democrat. He sees no hope for his party as long as it considers Bryanism the paramount issue.

Silence would best become Tillman, but he keeps on talking. Becoming conduct and Tillman are total strangers.

May the "white wings" never grow weary as long as a dirty street remains uncleaned.

A HUMAN FOREST.

How Indian Tribesmen Succeed in Escaping the Police.

Some of the Indian tribes over which we rule give us a great deal of trouble, notably the Mahsuds. The Mahsuds, however, are not by any means the worst of the Indian robber tribes, the unenviable distinction probably falling to the Bhils, who are the cleverest scoundrels in the world, both in their methods of acquiring other people's property and in evading pursuit.

They are very proud of their skill in pilfering and openly boast of it. One of them once told a British officer that he could steal the blanket from under him and was promptly challenged to show his ability. That night when the officer was fast asleep the Bhil robber cut a hole in his tent, crept noiselessly in and gently tickled the head and feet of the sleeping man. The officer stirred uneasily and turned over. In this way the Bhil was able to pull the blanket out a little way. By repeating his performance he finally succeeded in "coaxing" the blanket completely from under the sleeper.

When engaged in his nefarious little games, the Bhil wears hardly any clothing, and his little body is rubbed with oil to facilitate escape from any would be captors. When hotly pursued by the British troops, the robbers make use of a very clever device. They conceal their scant clothing under their small round shields and scatter them about to resemble stones or bowlders; then, picking up a few twigs—if there are any to be had—they assume all sorts of grotesque attitudes, their almost fleshless limbs silhouetted against the dark night sky closely resembling the charred limbs of a tree. Absolutely motionless, they hold their positions till the enemy has passed them.

In this way a British subaltern in charge of a party sent to capture some Bhils was considerably startled one evening. The pursuit had completely lost sight of the robbers, and finally the party drew rein by a clump of gnarled and bent tree trunks, tired and hot from their hard exertions. The officer in charge took off his hat and placed it on the end of a broken limb, when instantly there was a wild scream of laughter, and the tree trunks suddenly came to life and vanished in the darkness.—London Express.

POTTERY NEWS

When the News Review last week told of the combine formed by certain manufacturers of Trenton, the announcement was looked upon with a degree of uneasiness. A local paper for two days thereafter rehearsed the same story. The first and only reliable news of the combination was given in these columns.

"It is not my intention to cut prices or to do anything that will in any way injure the trade," said President A. M. Mareland of the American potteries to the News Review yesterday. "We have a large number of orders on hand and our plants will be kept in steady operation. The ware is to be sold at prices which will permit us to make a profit. Instead of degrading a trade or business it is well for every business man to elevate it as much as possible. It has been rumored that price cutting has been indulged in here for some time, but the report cannot be verified."

At a recent meeting of the Cone Fire Clay company, many of the stockholders of which reside in this city, it was decided to sell their buildings and other property in Salineville to the Salineville Electric Light company, and to make their goods in this city. A test of certain clays in this section is now being made as to its adaptability to chimney tops. If it proves satisfactory the concern will produce its goods here by the East Liverpool Sagger company.

While it has been rumored in this city for the past month that a new pottery will be built here during the summer, there is now every reason to believe that nothing of the kind will be done. With the announcement that the American Potteries company, of Trenton, has formed an alliance with the Union Potteries company, of this city and Pittsburgh, it has been learned that no independent factory will be built. It has been stated that the Union company expected to build a new plant, or at least, consider the advisability of enlarging the Union. While the company has some plans in view, which have been made known to certain parties, the matter has not progressed far enough to present to the public.

All arrangements for the association football game to be played between teams from Laughlin No. 2 and the Buckeye have been completed. The game will be played at Rock Springs park on the afternoon of March 8, and will be for a purse of $100 a side. Mr. Simpson, an engraver at the K. T. & K. will referee the game.

Kilnmen's local No. 9 will meet tomorrow evening in Brotherhood hall, when nominations for convention delegates will be opened. The local is still anxious to send the full quota of representatives, 10 in number, and the election, which will be held next week, promises to be spirited.

Charles DeBee, formerly of this city, now of Sebring, was in the city yesterday securing a crew of men to work in the kiln department of the Shenango pottery at New Castle. Eight men are needed. The glist crew at the plant will start next Monday week, and will make eight kilns a pay.

Printers at the National have been compelled to work nights during the past week, owing to a rush of orders for a certain class of ware. The new printing presses to be installed in the decorating shop have been ordered and will be set up in a short time.

Kilndrawers' local No. 17 will not elect delegates to the Trenton convention Saturday evening, as stated in a local paper last week. In fact, the first nominations have not been made, but this will be done Saturday evening.

In the past the Smith & Phillips has been making three biscuit and four glist kilns a pay, but now six glist kilns will be turned out every two weeks. Quite a large amount of decorated ware is being sent out by this firm.

Scott Campbell, who has been employed as a warehouseman at the Union, has taken a position at Canonsburg.

Miss Etta Beck, a filler in at the National, has been unable to work for several days on account of sore eyes.

Frank Woodburn left yesterday afternoon for Salem, where he will remain several days' visiting friends.

John Mountford, late of the Sebring company, has taken a position with the National as glider.

Two car load orders have been sent out by the Smith & Phillips this week.

Joe Duke has taken a position as presser at the Laughlin No. 2.

Frank W. Fowler, vice president of the Union Potteries company, was in the city today.

G. A. Smith has taken a position as frame filler at the Klondike.

Miss Blanche Dorman is a new filler in at the National.

FRILLS OF FASHION.

Fashion appears to have fully decided that the severe habit back skirt shall be included among the season's most favored modes.

The telephone girl and the bill clerk, to whom she had promised her heart and hand, were sitting in front of the fireplace talking about the happy days to come when they would be one.

From one little detail to another the talk finally drifted to the subject of lighting fires in the morning. On this point the young man was decided. He stated it as his emphatic opinion that it was a wife's place to get up and start the fires and let her poor, hard-working husband rest.

After this declaration there was silence for the space of about three-quarters of a second. Then the telephone girl thrust out the finger encircled by her engagement ring and murmured sweetly, but firmly: "Ring off, please. You have got connected with the wrong number."—Salt Lake Herald.

WELLSVILLE

WAS THE BOWLING MATCH HELD LAST NIGHT.

Wellsville Won, But Only By Strongous Excitement—The Score.

The warmest series of bowling games ever witnessed at the Arlington alleys occurred last evening, when a team composed of Alliance, Sebring and Salem men met defeat at the hands of Captain Shingler's bowlers. The visitors lost two out of the three games played by 101 pins. Not until the last man on each side had finished was it possible for any one to determine the result.

The first game passed off smoothly with victory for the home team. It scoring 61 pins more than the visitors. The second game was won by the visitors, but by a narrow margin—28 pins.

The third resulted in the same manner as the first, the visitors losing by 68 pins.

The only recognizable feature of the series was the excellent playing of Willet Aten in the last game. The visitors in the sixth frame had the home team badly beaten and it looked very much as if defeat for Shingler's men would be the result when Aten came to the rescue. He made five successive strikes and a spare, scoring a total of 222 pins.

The visiting team died hard. It realized that it was made up of the best talent in three cities and that defeat meant humiliation, as indeed it did. No team ever displayed more visibly the suffering following defeat than did this one.

A banquet was served the team at the Hotel Metropole, but it had little effect upon the men. They were morose and anything but talkative. However, they were somewhat consoled when the home team promised to make a return date at Alliance next week.

The individual scores: Shingler's team—Shingler, 161, 160, 162; Hall, 182, 151, 135; Aten, 143, 154, 222; Harsha, 151, 134, 171; Karr, 156, 190, 163. The visiting aggregation—Householder, 148, 175, 165; Smith, 143, 167, 169; Schmitz, 144, 115, 119; James, 171, 162, 164; Millburn, 126, 198, 168.

Victim of a Distressing

Edwin Ziner, a young son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Ziner, Short street, was the victim of a most distressing accident yesterday. The child was sitting at the dinner table when his little sister, who was returning from the kitchen with a bowl of gravy in her hands, tripped and fell, allowing the boiling contents of the bowl to strike her brother in the face, shoulder and breast.

Until a physician arrived the boy suffered excruciating pain. His face may be permanently disfigured.

ACRES OF ICE CONE

Moved Out Yesterday.

The several acres of ice, gorged on the bar in the river opposite the depot, broke loose yesterday at 4:45 o'clock and the old residents say that never before did a gorge pass away from this bar in a more quiet and less destructive manner.

It was feared by many that the ice would break with a rush and consequently cause much damage to craft made fast along the bank. Their fears proved to be uncalled for, as scarcely any damage was done.

A large crowd was attracted to the river bank by the break and all expressed themselves as being happy over the result.

HER FACE HER FORTUNE.

Why One Girl Got a Good Paying
and Easy Position.

She was a sweet looking girl, with as fair a pink and white complexion as woman ever desired, and was chatting with one of her own sex on a Staten Island ferryboat, while I was seated so near that I could not help hearing. Several times my truant eyes deserted my paper and stole a glance at the face that was so attractive.

"It was the luckiest thing that ever happened to me," she said to her companion, "when I went into that Fifth avenue store just to buy a comb. How little I thought that I would be working there at greater wages than I had ever hoped to earn! I hesitated about going in, because I feared the prices would be too high, but I did go in and came out with a comb without paying a cent for it. And, better than all, I had been engaged to begin the next Monday as a saleswoman."

"I was nearly discouraged before that, for I was getting only $4 a week, and we were awfully pinched at home, but my luck changed on that day, and it was Friday too. Fortunately for me, the store was crowded when I went in, and the proprietor left his desk that stands in a little railed off corner and came to wait on me. I noticed that he looked very sharply at me, but not at all in an impudent manner."

"Pardon me, miss," he said, "but I am looking for a young lady to assist me in the store here, and if your circumstances are such that you would care for the place I would like to have you consider it."

"I was wonderfully surprised, but thanked him, saying that I knew nothing about the business."

"That doesn't matter," he replied. "You can soon learn it. To be frank, I would like to have you on account of your complexion. You know we sell all sorts of goods for the complexion and articles for beautifying, and your face would do more to make sales than all of the arguments and representations that could be made."

"Well, the result was that I got a fine place, with easy work, at $15 a week. My hours are short, and I simply play the agreeable while selling goods at an immense profit. I wouldn't let any of the concoctions touch my face for anything, but the customers appear to be impressed by my complexion, and the proprietor is satisfied. So am I."—New York Herald.

STRONG OPPOSITION

To the Proposition to Give S. B.
Goucher a Ferry Franchise.

The county court at New Cumberland has not yet granted Samuel B. Goucher the franchise by which he can operate his new ferryboat between Congo and Wellsville. It was expected that the franchise would be granted this week, but thus far no action has been taken.

It is said that Watson Johnson, the man from whom the franchise was taken by the court several weeks ago, has employed two prominent attorneys to defend him in a restraining order to be appealed for. He claims that he owns the bank and consequently the landing which extends along the entire town of Congo, and that Goucher cannot establish a landing place without getting his consent, and this he is determined not to give.

Goucher will also have trouble in securing a landing on the Ohio side. Attorney Lones, of Wellsville, has stated that he will file an injunction against him upon the first landing of the boat.

Another Title for the County

In the court house at New Cumberland Monday night there was a mass meeting held for the purpose of formulating plans for steps to be taken in regard to having the name of New Cumberland changed, which question has been agitated for over a year. There were about 100 men present at the meeting and they decided to urge the matter consistently. A committee was appointed to determine definitely the proceedings which will have to be followed and was requested to make a report at the next meeting.

The following names were suggested as being a suitable substitute for the town: Cumberland, Claymont, Troy and Moreland.

MILL INSPECTION

Steel Trust Men in Chester Presum-

Upon the early train this morning a contingent of men arrived in Chester and immediately made their way to the tin mills. They were said to be from New York city and to be inspectors, sent by the steel trust, which has headquarters in that city. It is customary for the trust to have each mill controlled by it thoroughly inspected twice a year, and it is thought this was their mission. Nothing definite could be learned.

Kuro Siwo Piles Great Loads of Driftwood on Alaska's Shores.

In one sense the Kuro Siwo, or Japan Current, is the most interesting in the world because many oceanographers believe it was the direct means of peopling America. This much at least is certain: If a boat were to be set adrift on parts of the Asiatic coast and survived all storms, the Japan current could be depended upon to carry it across the Pacific and deposit it on the American shore. Such a thing has happened. In 1832 nine Japanese fishermen were left derelict and unable to find their way back to shore. They went with the current, and after a drift lasting during several months they were carried to Hawaii.

Trees torn by storms from the banks of Asiatic rivers frequently float across the Pacific to the American coast. Between Kakatag and Kyak islands, about 1,200 miles northwest of Seattle, enormous piles of this driftwood cover the beaches. There can be no question of the Asiatic origin of the timber. They are the trunks of the camphor tree, the mango and the mahogany. Logs 150 feet long and eight feet in diameter are frequently found. Many of them are seen floating shoreward, with fantastic roots standing high above the waves. In places the logs are piled twenty feet high. They are generally without bark, which has been peeled off by the waves, and most of them have become white and heavy from impregnation with salt water. As they pile up the sands drift over them, and gradually they sink out of sight, and new beaches are formed. This process has been going on for ages, and the shore line is being steadily extended. Excavations along the beach show that texture of the buried timber gets harder and harder the farther in you go, until in some instances petrification has taken place. Other excavations show logs that have turned to coal.

The presence of Siberian driftwood on the shores of Greenland convinced Nansen that his idea of drifting across the Polar sea in the Fram was logical. Great quantities of the wood are annually cast on the coasts of Spitzbergen and Nova Zembla, and there are tribes of Greenland Eskimos who depend for sledge runners and other wooden implements on the drift from Siberian forests. For years they depended for iron implements on the hoops of casks which came to them over seas.—Theodore Waters in Ainslee's.

Does It Pay to Buy Cheap?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the most severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible. If not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Bosch's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Mushrooms Are Filling.

One virtue of the mushroom that oftentimes is not realized by its champions even is its nutritive qualities, for it is often considered fit only for a sauce or a side dish. Recently I ate dinner with a friend who is a bon vivant and gifted with an abnormally large appetite. To my surprise, he ordered nothing but mushrooms, bread and butter and, of course, drinkables. We had mushrooms raw, stewed, fried and broiled on toast. It was my first experience, but I found them excellent. I certainly thought they would not "stay by me," but, to my surprise, for many hours afterward I had as complete a sense of fullness as rare roast beef or juicy steak ever imparted.—New York Telegram.

WELLSVILLE

Wellsville Won, But Only By Strenuous Execution—The Score.

The warmest series of bowling games ever witnessed at the Arlington alleys occurred last evening, when a team composed of Alliance, Sebring and Salem men met defeat at the hands of Captain Shingler's bowlers. The visitors lost two out of the three games played by 101 pins. Not until the last man on each side had finished was it possible for any one to determine the result.

The first game passed off smoothly with victory for the home team, it scoring 61 pins more than the visitors. The second game was won by the visitors, but by a narrow margin—28 pins.

The third resulted in the same manner as the first, the visitors losing by 68 pins.

The only recognizable feature of the series was the excellent playing of Willet Aten in the last game. The visitors in the sixth frame had the home team badly beaten and it looked very much as if defeat for Shingler's men would be the result when Aten came to the rescue. He made five successive strikes and a spare, scoring a total of 222 pins.

The visiting team died hard. It realized that it was made up of the best talent in three cities and that defeat meant humiliation, as indeed it did. No team ever displayed more visibly the suffering following defeat than did this one.

A banquet was served the team at the Hotel Metropole, but it had little effect upon the men. They were morose and anything but talkative. However, they were somewhat consoled when the home team promised to make a return date at Alliance next week.

The individual scores: Shingler's team—Shingler, 161, 160, 162; Hall, 182, 151, 135; Aten, 143, 154, 222; Harsha, 151, 134, 171; Karr, 156, 190, 163. The visiting aggregation—Householder, 148, 175, 165; Smith, 143, 167, 169; Schmitz, 144, 115, 119; James, 171, 162, 164; Millburn, 126, 198, 168.

BOY SEVERELY BURNED

Young Son of Benjamin Ziner the Victim of a Distressing Accident.

Edwin Ziner, a young son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Ziner, Short street, was the victim of a most distressing accident yesterday. The child was sitting at the dinner table when his little sister, who was returning from the kitchen with a bowl of gravy in her hands, tripped and fell, allowing the boiling contents of the bowl to strike her brother in the face, shoulder and breast.

Until a physician arrived the boy suffered excruciating pain. His face may be permanently disfigured.

FOOT CRUSHED

Harry Hoover Struck By a Large Piece of Iron With Serious Results.

While attempting to move a large piece of iron in the Carroll Porter boiler works, Harry Hoover met with a painful accident. He had raised the iron several feet when it slipped from his grasp and fell. The entire weight of the metal struck his right foot, mashing it into a pulp.

As a result he will be laid up for weeks. He is a single man and lives in the West End.

Interment was made in the family lot, Spring Hill cemetery.

ACRES OF ICE CONE

The Gorge Opposite the Depot Quietly Moved Out Yesterday.

The several acres of ice, gorged on the bar in the river opposite the depot, broke loose yesterday at 4:45 o'clock and the old residents say that never before did a gorge pass away from this bar in a more quiet and less destructive manner.

It was feared by many that the ice would break with a rush and consequently cause much damage to craft made fast along the bank. Their fears proved to be uncalled for, as scarcely any damage was done.

A large crowd was attracted to the river bank by the break and all expressed themselves as being happy over the result.

Lost Her Foot.

As the result of an operation Miss Nancy Hays, of Summitville, suffered the loss of a foot Tuesday. Nearly two years ago she had her foot mangled by a cow stepping on it. She has relatives and many friends in this city, all of whom regret her misfortune.

Many sorrowing friends attended the funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Mann, which was held in the Evangelical church this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The religious services were conducted by Rev. W. A. Vandersall. Burial was made in Spring Hill cemetery.

HER FACE HER FORTUNE.

Why One Girl Got a Good Paying and Easy Position.

She was a sweet looking girl, with as fair a pink and white complexion as woman ever desired, and was chatting with one of her own sex on a Staten Island ferryboat, while I was seated so near that I could not help hearing. Several times my truant eyes deserted my paper and stole a glance at the face that was so attractive.

"It was the luckiest thing that ever happened to me," she said to her companion, "when I went into that Fifth avenue store just to buy a comb. How little I thought that I would be working there at greater wages than I had ever hoped to earn! I hesitated about going in, because I feared the prices would be too high, but I did go in and came out with a comb without paying a cent for it. And, better than all, I had been engaged to begin the next Monday as a saleswoman."

"I was nearly discouraged before that, for I was getting only $4 a week, and we were awfully pinched at home, but my luck changed on that day, and it was Friday too. Fortunately for me, the store was crowded when I went in, and the proprietor left his desk that stands in a little raised off corner and came to wait on me. I noticed that he looked very sharply at me, but not at all in an impudent manner."

"Pardon me, miss," he said, "but I am looking for a young lady to assist me in the store here, and if your circumstances are such that you would care for the place I would like to have you consider it."

"I was wonderfully surprised, but thanked him, saying that I knew nothing about the business."

"That doesn't matter," he replied. "You can soon learn it. To be frank, I would like to have you on account of your complexion. You know we sell all sorts of goods for the complexion and articles for beautifying, and your face would do more to make sales than all of the arguments and representations that could be made."

"Well, the result was that I got a fine place, with easy work, at $15 a week. My hours are short, and I simply play the agreeable while selling goods at an immense profit. I wouldn't let any of the conceptions touch my face for anything, but the customers appear to be impressed by my complexion, and the proprietor is satisfied. So am I."—New York Herald.

STRONG OPPOSITION

To the Proposition to Give S. B. Goucher a Ferry Franchise.

The county court at New Cumberland has not yet granted Samuel B. Goucher the franchise by which he can operate his new ferryboat between Congo and Wellsville. It was expected that the franchise would be granted this week, but thus far no action has been taken.

It is said that Watson Johnson, the man from whom the franchise was taken by the court several weeks ago, has employed two prominent attorneys to defend him in a restraining order to be appealed for. He claims that he owns the bank and consequently the landing which extends along the entire town of Congo, and that Goucher cannot establish a landing place without getting his consent, and this he is determined not to give.

Goucher will also have trouble in securing a landing on the Ohio side. Attorney Lones, of Wellsville, has stated that he will file an injunction against him upon the first landing of the boat.

NEW NAME WANTED

People of New Cumberland Propose Another Title for the County Seat Town.

In the court house at New Cumberland Monday night there was a mass meeting held for the purpose of formulating plans for steps to be taken in regard to having the name of New Cumberland changed, which question has been agitated for over a year. There were about 100 men present at the meeting and they decided to urge the matter consistently. A committee was appointed to determine definitely the proceedings which will have to be followed and was requested to make a report at the next meeting.

The following names were suggested as being a suitable substitute for the town: Cumberland, Claymont, Troy and Moreland.

MILL INSPECTION

Steel Trust Men in Chester Presumably for That Purpose.

Upon the early train this morning a contingent of men arrived in Chester and immediately made their way to the tin mills. They were said to be from New York city and to be inspectors, sent by the steel trust, which has headquarters in that city. It is customary for the trust to have each mill controlled by it thoroughly inspected twice a year, and it is thought this was their mission. Nothing definite could be learned.

WELLSVILLE

WAS THE BOWLING MATCH HELD LAST NIGHT.

Wellsville Won, But Only By Strongous Execution—The Score.

The warmest series of bowling games ever witnessed at the Arlington alleys occurred last evening, when a team composed of Alliance, Sebring and Salem men met defeat at the hands of Captain Shingler's bowlers.

The visitors lost two out of the three games played by 101 pins. Not until the last man on each side had finished was it possible for any one to determine the result.

The first game passed off smoothly with victory for the home team, it scoring 61 pins more than the visitors. The second game was won by the visitors, but by a narrow margin—28 pins.

The third resulted in the same manner as the first, the visitors losing by 68 pins.

The only recognizable feature of the series was the excellent playing of Willet Aten in the last game. The visitors in the sixth frame had the home team badly beaten and it looked very much as if defeat for Shingler's men would be the result when Aten came to the rescue. He made five successive strikes and a spare, scoring a total of 222 pins.

The visiting team died hard. It realized that it was made up of the best talent in three cities and that defeat meant humiliation, as indeed it did. No team ever displayed more visibly the suffering following defeat than did this one.

A banquet was served the team at the Hotel Metropole, but it had little effect upon the men. They were morose and anything but talkative. However, they were somewhat consoled when the home team promised to make a return date at Alliance next week.

The individual scores: Shingler's team—Shingler, 161, 160, 162; Hall, 182, 151, 135; Aten, 143, 154, 222; Harsha, 151, 134, 171; Karr, 156, 190, 163. The visiting aggregation—Householder, 148, 175, 165; Smith, 143, 167, 169; Schmitz, 144, 115, 119; James, 171, 162, 164; Millburn, 126, 198, 168.

BOY SEVERELY BURNED

Young Son of Benjamin Ziner the
Accident.

Edwin Ziner, a young son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Ziner, Short street, was the victim of a most distressing accident yesterday. The child was sitting at the dinner table when his little sister, who was returning from the kitchen with a bowl of gravy in her hands, tripped and fell, allowing the boiling contents of the bowl to strike her brother in the face, shoulder and breast.

Until a physician arrived the boy suffered excruciating pain. His face may be permanently disfigured.

FOOT CRUSHED

As a result he will be laid up for weeks. He is a single man and lives in the West End.

Interment was made in the family lot, Spring Hill cemetery.

ACRES OF ICE CONE

The Gorge Opposite the Depot Quietly
Moved Out Yesterday.

The several acres of ice, gorged on the bar in the river opposite the depot, broke loose yesterday at 4:45 o'clock and the old residents say that never before did a gorge pass away from this bar in a more quiet and less destructive manner.

It was feared by many that the ice would break with a rush and consequently cause much damage to craft made fast along the bank. Their fears proved to be uncalled for, as scarcely any damage was done.

A large crowd was attracted to the river bank by the break and all expressed themselves as being happy over the result.

Lost Her Foot.

As the result of an operation Miss Nancy Hays, of Summitville, suffered the loss of a foot Tuesday. Nearly two years ago she had her foot mashed by a cow stepping on it. She has relatives and many friends in this city, all of whom regret her misfortune.

Many sorrowing friends attended the funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Mann, which was held in the Evangelical church this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The religious services were conducted by Rev. W. A. Vandersall. Burial was made in Spring Hill cemetery.

HER FACE HER FORTUNE.

and Easy Position.

She was a sweet looking girl, with as fair a pink and white complexion as woman ever desired, and was chatting with one of her own sex on a Staten Island ferryboat, while I was seated so near that I could not help hearing. Several times my transient eyes deserted my paper and stole a glance at the face that was so attractive.

"It was the luckiest thing that ever happened to me," she said to her companion, "when I went into that Fifth avenue store just to buy a comb. How little I thought that I would be working there at greater wages than I had ever hoped to earn! I hesitated about going in, because I feared the prices would be too high, but I did go in and came out with a comb without paying a cent for it. And, better than all, I had been engaged to begin the next Monday as a saleswoman."

"I was nearly discouraged before that, for I was getting only $4 a week, and we were awfully pinched at home, but my luck changed on that day, and it was Friday too. Fortunately for me, the store was crowded when I went in, and the proprietor left his desk that stands in a little raised off corner and came to wait on me. I noticed that he looked very sharply at me, but not at all in an impudent manner."

"Pardon me, miss," he said, "but I am looking for a young lady to assist me in the store here, and if your circumstances are such that you would care for the place I would like to have you consider it."

"I was wonderfully surprised, but thanked him, saying that I knew nothing about the business."

"That doesn't matter," he replied. "You can soon learn it. To be frank, I would like to have you on account of your complexion. You know we sell all sorts of goods for the complexion and articles for beautifying, and your face would do more to make sales than all of the arguments and representations that could be made."

"Well, the result was that I got a fine place, with easy work, at $15 a week. My hours are short, and I simply play the agreeable while selling goods at an immense profit. I wouldn't let any of the concoctions touch my face for anything, but the customers appear to be impressed by my complexion, and the proprietor is satisfied. So am I."—New York Herald.

SOUTH SIDE

STRONG OPPOSITION

To the Proposition to Give S. B. Goucher a Ferry Franchise.

The county court at New Cumberland has not yet granted Samuel B. Goucher the franchise by which he can operate his new ferryboat between Congo and Wellsville. It was expected that the franchise would be granted this week, but thus far no action has been taken.

It is said that Watson Johnson, the man from whom the franchise was taken by the court several weeks ago, has employed two prominent attorneys to defend him in a restraining order to be appealed for. He claims that he owns the bank and consequently the landing which extends along the entire town of Congo, and that Goucher cannot establish a landing place without getting his consent, and this he is determined not to give.

Goucher will also have trouble in securing a landing on the Ohio side. Attorney Lones, of Wellsville, has stated that he will file an injunction against him upon the first landing of the boat.

NEW NAME WANTED

People of New Cumberland Propose
Seat Town.

In the court house at New Cumberland Monday night there was a mass meeting held for the purpose of formulating plans for steps to be taken in regard to having the name of New Cumberland changed, which question has been agitated for over a year. There were about 100 men present at the meeting and they decided to urge the matter consistently. A committee was appointed to determine definitely the proceedings which will have to be followed and was requested to make a report at the next meeting.

The following names were suggested as being a suitable substitute for the town: Cumberland, Claymont, Troy and Moreland.

MILL INSPECTION

Steel Trust Men in Chester Presumably for That Purpose.

Upon the early train this morning a contingent of men arrived in Chester and immediately made their way to the tin mills. They were said to be from New York city and to be inspectors, sent by the steel trust, which has headquarters in that city. It is customary for the trust to have each mill controlled by it thoroughly inspected twice a year, and it is thought this was their mission. Nothing definite could be learned.

THE JAPAN CURRENT.

Kuro Siwo Piles Great Loads of Driftwood on Alaska's Shores.

In one sense the Kuro Siwo, or Japan Current, is the most interesting in the world because many oceanographers believe it was the direct means of peopling America. This much at least is certain: If a boat were to be set adrift on parts of the Asiatic coast and survived all storms, the Japan current could be depended upon to carry it across the Pacific and deposit it on the American shore. Such a thing has happened. In 1832 nine Japanese fishermen were left derelict and unable to find their way back to shore. They went with the current, and after a drift lasting during several months they were carried to Hawaii.

Trees torn by storms from the banks of Asiatic rivers frequently float across the Pacific to the American coast. Between Kakatag and Kyak islands, about 1,200 miles northwest of Seattle, enormous piles of this driftwood cover the beaches. There can be no question of the Asiatic origin of the timber. They are the trunks of the camphor tree, the mango and the mahogany. Logs 150 feet long and eight feet in diameter are frequently found. Many of them are seen floating shoreward, with fantastic roots standing high above the waves. In places the logs are piled twenty feet high. They are generally without bark, which has been peeled off by the waves, and most of them have become white and heavy from impregnation with salt water. As they pile up the sands drift over them, and gradually they sink out of sight, and new beaches are formed. This process has been going on for ages, and the shore line is being steadily extended. Excavations along the beach show that texture of the buried timber gets harder and harder the farther in you go, until in some instances petrification has taken place. Other excavations show logs that have turned to coal.

The presence of Siberian driftwood on the shores of Greenland convinced Nansen that his idea of drifting across the Polar sea in the Fram was logical. Great quantities of the wood are annually cast on the coasts of Spitzbergen and Nova Zembla, and there are tribes of Greenland Eskimos who depend for sledge runners and other wooden implements on the drift from Siberian forests. For years they depended for iron implements on the hoops of casks which came to them over seas.—Theodore Waters in Ainslee's.

Does It Pay to Buy Cheap?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the most severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible. If not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Mushrooms Are Filling.

One virtue of the mushroom that oftentimes is not realized by its champions even is its nutritive qualities, for it is often considered fit only for a sauce or a side dish. Recently I ate dinner with a friend who is a bon vivant and gifted with an abnormally large appetite. To my surprise, he ordered nothing but mushrooms, bread and butter and, of course, drinkables. We had mushrooms raw, stewed, fried and broiled on toast. It was my first experience, but I found them excellent. I certainly thought they would not "stay by me," but, to my surprise, for many hours afterward I had as complete a sense of fullness as rare roast beef or juicy steak ever imparted.—New York Telegram.

The Congressional Record.

To appreciate the value of The Congressional Record one must see it used. It is the only means by which members themselves keep informed of the progress of legislation when scores of measures are often considered in a day. It is on the desk of the president of the United States and is read by every executive officer, from cabinet to chief of division. Every government in the world envies ours the possession of such a publication, forming at once an indispensable current record and a permanent history of events even more valuable through the centuries.—Argonaut.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS

Young Christians Gathered at the Convention, In Toronto, Canada.

INCREASED MISSIONARY SPIRIT

And Tightening of Bond Between Young People of United States and Canada Expected—Bishop Thoburn Spoke at One of Meetings.

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 27.—Nearly 3,500 delegates to the student volunteer movement convention reached the city yesterday. Others were delayed. The result of the convention, it is expected, will be twofold: The increasing of the missionary spirit and the tightening of the bond which unites the young people of the United States and Canada.

The formal opening took place late yesterday afternoon at Massey hall. Mr. John H. Mott, chairman of the executive committee, took charge of the meeting. Addresses of welcome were delivered by the bishop of Toronto, Dr. Sweetnam, Dr. Cavan, principal of Knox Presbyterian college, Toronto, and Rev. John Potts, D. D., educational secretary of the Methodist church in Canada.

These were replied to by John B. Mott.

Rev. J. Ross Stevenson, of Chicago, spoke on the responsibility of every Christian for extending the gospel. The Metropolitan Methodist church, one of the largest in the city, was crowded with a parallel meeting, which was addressed by Bishop Thoburn, of India, and Dr. Jones, of India. Dr. Luther D. Wishard, of New York, presided.

Methodist Protestants Ask It—Need Two More Men in That Field.

Pittsburg, Feb. 27.—The board of foreign missions of the Methodist Protestant church met yesterday morning in the church parlors of the book rooms, 422 Fifth avenue, to consider appropriations for mission purposes for the coming year. Representatives of conferences from six different states were present, including Rev. W. L. Wells, president of West Lafayette college, West Lafayette, O.; Rev. T. H. Lewis, president of Western Maryland college, Westminster, Md.; Rev. F. C. Klein, Newark, N. J.; Rev. T. J. Ogburn, traveling secretary, Summerville, N. C.; and G. G. Briery, Beaver Falls, Pa. Rev. Dr. W. L. Wells presided and U. S. Fleming, of Parkersburg, was secretary.

The special business before the board at yesterday's meeting was the appropriation of money for the support of the 20 missionaries now at work in Japan. This is the special field of the Methodist Protestant church. About $10,000 was recommended for their support, and the churches will be asked to contribute this amount. Special mention was made of the work of Rev. Dr. U. G. Murphy.

The board will ask the church for two new missionaries. The board will meet again in the same place in May and prepare for the meeting of the general conference.

HUNG FOR BURGLARY AT NIGHT.

Two Executed—Sentences of Two Others Were Commuted.

Asheville, N. C. Feb. 27.—Dudley Johnston, white, and Ben Foster colored, were hanged here yesterday at 12:30 for burglary. The bodies were given a church burial during yesterday afternoon.

Burglary at night in North Carolina is a capital offense.

Four men conspired to rob the combined postoffice and store kept by Samuel Alexander, at Emma, a hamlet a few miles distance from Asheville, on the night of Feb. 1, 1901. Alexander was called to the door under pretext of buying groceries and at the point of a revolver was searched and disarmed. He was then forced to open the safe.

Dudley Johnson and Ben Foster were inside the store and Russell Gates and Harry Mills were guarding the outside. Johnson was holding a revolver at Alexander's head while his attention was attracted momentarily. Like a flash Alexander seized the revolver and snapped it.

America Is In Line
.... WITH
England and Japan

By United States Senator SHELBY M. CULLOM, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations

THE alliance between England and Japan to protect the territorial integrity of China and Korea I regard as a formal adoption of the policy of the United States in connection with the eastern question.

IT IS RIGHT IN LINE WITH THE POLICY OF THE UNITED STATES SET FORTH IN THE HAY NOTE TO THE POWERS OF JUNE 3, 1900, IN WHICH THE POSITION OF THE UNITED STATES WAS FAIRLY, FRANKLY AND FIRMLY SET FORTH.

While we are not permitted under our form of government to form alliances of this kind with foreign powers, we are permitted to announce our declaration of principles on questions as they arise. If other powers see the wisdom of adopting our suggestions and carry out the European custom of forming alliances of offense and defense, that is not our affair. IN THE PRESENT INSTANCE FEARS HAVE BEEN ENTERTAINED THAT CERTAIN POWERS WERE LOOKING WITH LUSTFUL EYES UPON CERTAIN TERRITORY IN THE FAR EAST. SUCH A TAKING OVER OF TERRITORY MIGHT BE INJURIOUS TO AMERICAN INTERESTS, COMMERCIAL AND OTHERWISE. At an opportune moment our secretary of state saw the wisdom of taking a firm stand in behalf of American interests without violating any of the fixed principles of diplomatic intercourse and at the same time maintaining a dignified neutrality.

The attitude assumed by the United States was right and proper, as subsequent events demonstrated, and now, as a further vindication of our contention, England and Japan have formed a friendly alliance to prevent the division of China by designing powers. We do not propose to interfere or become involved in a foreign war, but we reserve the right to assert our rights and see that our interests are protected.

at Johnson. They grappled and it was not until Alexander had been shot twice and repeatedly stabbed that he lost consciousness.

Citizens were attracted by the shooting and the burglars ran. Later they were captured and removed to Charlotte for safe keeping. For weeks Alexander lingered at death's door. Meantime his fiancée went to him and they were married. The people made up a purse for them. The postmaster general wrote Alexander a personal letter, thanking him and expressing the highest admiration for his bravery.

The four men were convicted of burglary and condemned to die on Aug. 7. Governor Aycock was besieged with petitions for clemency from all parts of the United States, and finally a short time ago commuted the sentence of Gates and Mills to imprisonment for life.

POULTRY POINTERS.

A close, unventilated house is emphatically a foul house.

Ground or crushed bone is a good form in which to give lime.

The nests should be arranged so that the fowls can walk in on them.

Bran is a better feed for fowls than corn because it contains more nitrogen.

An excellent feed for young chicks is cracked or coarsely ground wheat for the first week.

A cock that fights and picks his mates every time they are fed is not a good breeder, and few of his hens' eggs will ever hatch.

Cane or sorghum seed can be fed to fowls to good advantage. It stimulates egg production and in many ways is good to use for variety.

For a good breeder select a rooster with plump, full breast, broad across the back, wide between the legs and that crows often, loud and long.

It is a good plan to mate up the fowls early, for occasionally one of the hens will want to sit during the winter, and it will be best to have the eggs ready.

Fig For Marriage Fee.

"A Lutheran minister in a western Maryland town told me an amusing story the other day," said a gentleman to a reporter. "Some time ago as this minister was walking along a street of the town an old German advanced toward him with extended hand. The minister shook hands, but remarked that he could not recall his name. 'Oh, yes,' said the old German, 'you remember me! I am the man who gave you a pig when you married me.'"

"The minister smiled as he recalled the incident, and as he was about to ask about the wife the old German said: 'Now I tell you what I'll do. When you married me, I gave you a pig, so I'll give you two pigs if you now unmarry me.'"

Looking Out For Papa.

A sweet little maid of four years was distressed the other evening because her father did not come home to dinner on time. Her grownup sister said to her:

"Papa is naughty, and when he comes we won't give him any tea."

When he did come, the sister sent the teapot out to the kitchen for fresh tea. The baby looked on with a troubled face and stole softly to her own room. Shortly she returned with something squeezed up in her tiny fist. Going up to her sister, she whispered:

"Annie, I'll give you all my pennies if you'll give papa his tea."

And, opening her hand, she displayed all her carefully hoarded pennies.—New York Times.

Things Which Overcome a Writer When Beginning an Article.

There is a feeling of timidity that oftentimes overcomes a writer when beginning an article. As in writing a letter, it is getting started that puzzles. It is the custom to begin with slow moving piston and work gradually into full speed until the flow of words is free, and then the difficulty with some of us is to find the brake valve. Again, a writer sometimes discovers that his beginning is a more fitting ending, and vice versa. The newspaper style is to throw general conclusions up strong under the headlines, while the sermonizer reserves them until his final climax.

Thackeray remarked once that he could never tell exactly what he was going to say until his pen was in hand and under motion and then did not fully realize just what he was saying until it was written. There is a subconsciousness that shapes writing as it does speaking. This, I know, disturbs some well known theories of speaking and writing—as to weighing everything and then measuring it out as a druggist compounds a prescription—but my observations are that the preparation is more in getting full of a subject and then letting the mind work free under the impulse of the dominating idea.

There are as many ways and methods in writing and speaking as there are individuals, and yet the fundamental law in the transmission of thought and speech runs largely in the same groove, whether it be the jargon of the Hotentot or the polished periods of the scholar. Human nature has its own primitive impulses that defy all rules of rhetoric and the power of expression—that is, the power, mind you—is deeper seated than any artificial formula of stylists.—National Magazine.

AN OPPORTUNITY

Many people would like to honor the memory of departed loved ones with a handsome monument, but the high prices demanded by the local monument dealers prevent them.

We sell and deliver fine monuments or headstones at much lower prices than similar stones can be obtained elsewhere.

Most of our local monument dealers work by expensive hand methods, while our work is done by the most improved labor saving machinery. Machine work not only lessens the cost of the monument, but insures better results as the moldings, letters, etc., are cut much deeper and smoother than by hand and therefore show plainly.

The stone we use is the very best—will not rust, discolor or become streaked as most granites do.

We sell to monument dealers at wholesale and also sell direct to the individual buyer, delivering complete in the cemetery.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS

Young Christians Gathered at the Convention, In Toronto, Canada.

INCREASED MISSIONARY SPIRIT

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 27.—Nearly 3,500 delegates to the student volunteer movement convention reached the city yesterday. Others were delayed. The result of the convention, it is expected, will be twofold: The increasing of the missionary spirit and the tightening of the bond which unites the young people of the United States and Canada.

The formal opening took place late yesterday afternoon at Massey hall. Mr. John H. Mott, chairman of the executive committee, took charge of the meeting. Addresses of welcome were delivered by the bishop of Toronto, Dr. Sweetnam, Dr. Cavan, principal of Knox Presbyterian college, Toronto, and Rev. John Potts, D. D., educational secretary of the Methodist church in Canada.

These were replied to by John B. Mott.

Rev. J. Ross Stevenson, of Chicago, spoke on the responsibility of every Christian for extending the gospel.

The Metropolitan Methodist church, one of the largest in the city, was crowded with a parallel meeting, which was addressed by Bishop Thoburn, of India, and Dr. Jones, of India. Dr. Luther D. Wishard, of New York, presided.

$10,000 FOR JAPAN MISSION.

Methodist Protestants Ask It—Need Two More Men in That Field.

Pittsburg, Feb. 27.—The board of foreign missions of the Methodist Protestant church met yesterday morning in the church parlors of the book rooms, 422 Fifth avenue, to consider appropriations for mission purposes for the coming year. Representatives of conferences from six different states were present, including Rev. W. L. Wells, president of West Lafayette college, West Lafayette, O.; Rev. T. H. Lewis, president of Western Maryland college, Westminster, Md.; Rev. F. C. Klein, Newark, N. J.; Rev. T. J. Ogburn, traveling secretary, Summerville, N. C.; and G. G. Brierly, Beaver Falls, Pa. Rev. Dr. W. L. Wells presided and U. S. Fleming, of Parkersburg, was secretary.

The special business before the board at yesterday's meeting was the appropriation of money for the support of the 20 missionaries now at work in Japan. This is the special field of the Methodist Protestant church. About $10,000 was recommended for their support, and the churches will be asked to contribute this amount. Special mention was made of the work of Rev. Dr. U. G. Murphy.

The board will ask the church for two new missionaries. The board will meet again in the same place in May and prepare for the meeting of the general conference.

HUNG FOR BURGLARY AT NIGHT.

Two Executed—Sentences of Two Others Were Commuted.

Asheville, N. C. Feb. 27.—Dudley Johnston, white, and Ben Foster colored, were hanged here yesterday at 12:30 for burglary. The bodies were given a church burial during yesterday afternoon.

Burglary at night in North Carolina is a capital offense.

Four men conspired to rob the combined postoffice and store kept by Samuel Alexander, at Emma, a hamlet a few miles distance from Asheville, on the night of Feb. 1, 1901. Alexander was called to the door under pretext of buying groceries and at the point of a revolver was searched and disarmed. He was then forced to open the safe.

Dudley Johnson and Ben Foster were inside the store and Russell Gates and Harry Mills were guarding the outside. Johnson was holding a revolver at Alexander's head while his attention was attracted momentarily. Like a flash Alexander seized the revolver and snatched it.

America Is In Line

.... WITH

England and Japan

By United States Senator SHELBY M. CULLOM, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations

THE alliance between England and Japan to protect the territorial integrity of China and Korea I regard as a formal adoption of the policy of the United States in connection with the eastern question.

IT IS RIGHT IN LINE WITH THE POLICY OF THE UNITED STATES SET FORTH IN THE MAY NOTE TO THE POWERS OF JUNE 3, 1900, IN WHICH THE POSITION OF THE UNITED STATES WAS FAIRLY, FRANKLY AND FIRMLY SET FORTH.

While we are not permitted under our form of government to form alliances of this kind with foreign powers, we are permitted to announce our declaration of principles on questions as they arise. If other powers see the wisdom of adopting our suggestions and carry out the European custom of forming alliances of offense and defense, that is not our affair. IN THE PRESENT INSTANCE FEARS HAVE BEEN ENTERTAINED THAT CERTAIN POWERS WERE LOOKING WITH LUSTFUL EYES UPON CERTAIN TERRITORY IN THE FAR EAST. SUCH A TAKING OVER OF TERRITORY MIGHT BE INJURIOUS TO AMERICAN INTERESTS, COMMERCIAL AND OTHERWISE. At an opportune moment our secretary of state saw the wisdom of taking a firm stand in behalf of American interests without violating any of the fixed principles of diplomatic intercourse and at the same time maintaining a dignified neutrality.

The attitude assumed by the United States was right and proper, as subsequent events demonstrated, and now, as a further vindication of our contention, England and Japan have formed a friendly alliance to prevent the division of China by designing powers. We do not propose to interfere or become involved in a foreign war, but we reserve the right to assert our rights and see that our interests are protected.

at Johnson. They grappled and it was not until Alexander had been shot twice and repeatedly stabbed that he lost consciousness.

Citizens were attracted by the shooting and the burglars ran. Later they were captured and removed to Charlotte for safe keeping. For weeks Alexander lingered at death's door. Meantime his fiancée went to him and they were married. The people made up a purse for them. The postmaster general wrote Alexander a personal letter, thanking him and expressing the highest admiration for his bravery.

The four men were convicted of burglary and condemned to die on Aug. 7. Governor Aycock was besieged with petitions for clemency from all parts of the United States, and finally a short time ago commuted the sentence of Gates and Mills to imprisonment for life.

POULTRY POINTERS.

A close, unventilated house is emphatically a foul house.

Ground or crushed bone is a good form in which to give lime.

The nests should be arranged so that the fowls can walk in on them.

Bran is a better feed for fowls than corn because it contains more nitrogen.

An excellent feed for young chicks is cracked or coarsely ground wheat for the first week.

A cock that fights and picks his mates every time they are fed is not a good breeder, and few of his hens' eggs will ever hatch.

Cane or sorghum seed can be fed to fowls to good advantage. It stimulates egg production and in many ways is good to use for variety.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS

Young Christians Gathered at the Convention, In Toronto, Canada.

INCREASED MISSIONARY SPIRIT

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 27.—Nearly 3,500 delegates to the student volunteer movement convention reached the city yesterday. Others were delayed. The result of the convention, it is expected, will be twofold: The increasing of the missionary spirit and the tightening of the bond which unites the young people of the United States and Canada.

The formal opening took place late yesterday afternoon at Massey hall. Mr. John H. Mott, chairman of the executive committee, took charge of the meeting. Addresses of welcome were delivered by the bishop of Toronto, Dr. Sweetnam, Dr. Cavan, principal of Knox Presbyterian college, Toronto, and Rev. John Potts, D. D., educational secretary of the Methodist church in Canada.

These were replied to by John B. Mott.

Rev. J. Ross Stevenson, of Chicago, spoke on the responsibility of every Christian for extending the gospel. $10,000 FOR JAPAN MISSION.

Methodist Protestants Ask It—Need Two More Men In That Field.

Pittsburg, Feb. 27.—The board of foreign missions of the Methodist Protestant church met yesterday morning in the church parlors of the book rooms, 422 Fifth avenue, to consider appropriations for mission purposes for the coming year. Representatives of conferences from six different states were present, including Rev. W. L. Wells, president of West Lafayette college, West Lafayette, O.; Rev. T. H. Lewis, president of Western Maryland college, Westminster, Md.; Rev. F. C. Klein, Newark, N. J.; Rev. T. J. Ogburn, traveling secretary, Summerville, N. C.; and G. G. Brierly, Beaver Falls, Pa. Rev. Dr. W. L. Wells presided and U. S. Fleming, of Parkersburg, was secretary.

The special business before the board at yesterday's meeting was the appropriation of money for the support of the 20 missionaries now at work in Japan. This is the special field of the Methodist Protestant church. About $10,000 was recommended for their support, and the churches will be asked to contribute this amount. Special mention was made of the work of Rev. Dr. U. G. Murphy.

The board will ask the church for two new missionaries. The board will meet again in the same place in May and prepare for the meeting of the general conference.

HUNG FOR BURGLARY AT NIGHT.

Two Executed—Sentences of Two Others Were Commuted.

Asheville, N. C. Feb. 27.—Dudley Johnson, white, and Ben Foster colored, were hanged here yesterday at 12:30 for burglary. The bodies were given a church burial during yesterday afternoon.

Burglary at night in North Carolina is a capital offence.

Four men conspired to rob the combined postoffice and store kept by Samuel Alexander, at Emma, a hamlet a few miles distance from Asheville, on the night of Feb. 1, 1901. Alexander was called to the door under pretext of buying groceries and at the point of a revolver was searched and disarmed. He was then forced to open the safe.

Dudley Johnson and Ben Foster were inside the store and Russell Gates and Harry Mills were guarding the outside. Johnson was holding a revolver at Alexander's head while his attention was attracted momentarily. Like a flash Alexander seized the revolver and snapped it.

America Is In Line

.... WITH

England and Japan

By United States Senator SHELBY M. CULLOM, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations

THE alliance between England and Japan to protect the territorial integrity of China and Korea I regard as a formal adoption of the policy of the United States in connection with the eastern question.

IT IS RIGHT IN LINE WITH THE POLICY OF THE UNITED STATES SET FORTH IN THE MAY NOTE TO THE POWERS OF JUNE 3, 1900, IN WHICH THE POSITION OF THE UNITED STATES WAS FAIRLY, FRANKLY AND FIRMLY SET FORTH.

While we are not permitted under our form of government to form alliances of this kind with foreign powers, we are permitted to announce our declaration of principles on questions as they arise. If other powers see the wisdom of adopting our suggestions and carry out the European custom of forming alliances of offense and defense, that is not our affair. IN THE PRESENT INSTANCE FEARS HAVE BEEN ENTERTAINED THAT CERTAIN POWERS WERE LOOKING WITH LUSTFUL EYES UPON CERTAIN TERRITORY IN THE FAR EAST. SUCH A TAKING OVER OF TERRITORY MIGHT BE INJURIOUS TO AMERICAN INTERESTS, COMMERCIAL AND OTHERWISE. At an opportune moment our secretary of state saw the wisdom of taking a firm stand in behalf of American interests without violating any of the fixed principles of diplomatic intercourse and at the same time maintaining a dignified neutrality.

The attitude assumed by the United States was right and proper, as subsequent events demonstrated, and now, as a further vindication of our contention, England and Japan have formed a friendly alliance to prevent the division of China by designing powers. We do not propose to interfere or become involved in a foreign war, but we reserve the right to assert our rights and see that our interests are protected.

at Johnson. They grappled and it was not until Alexander had been shot twice and repeatedly stabbed that he lost consciousness.

Citizens were attracted by the shooting and the burglars ran. Later they were captured and removed to Charlotte for safe keeping. For weeks Alexander lingered at death's door. Meantime his fiancée went to him and they were married. The people made up a purse for them. The postmaster general wrote Alexander a personal letter, thanking him and expressing the highest admiration for his bravery.

The four men were convicted of burglary and condemned to die on Aug. 7. Governor Aycock was besieged with petitions for clemency from all parts of the United States, and finally a short time ago commuted the sentence of Gates and Mills to imprisonment for life.

POULTRY POINTERS.

A close, unventilated house is emphatically a foul house. Ground or crushed bone is a good form in which to give lime.

The nests should be arranged so that the fowls can walk in on them.

Bran is a better feed for fowls than corn because it contains more nitrogen. An excellent feed for young chicks is cracked or coarsely ground wheat for the first week.

A cock that fights and picks his mates every time they are fed is not a good breeder, and few of his hens' eggs will ever hatch.

Cane or sorghum seed can be fed to fowls to good advantage. It stimulates egg production and in many ways is good to use for variety.

For a good breeder select a rooster with plump, full breast, broad across the back, wide between the legs and that crows often, loud and long.

It is a good plan to mate up the fowls early, for occasionally one of the hens will want to sit during the winter, and it will be best to have the eggs ready.

Fig For Marriage Fee.

"A Lutheran minister in a western Maryland town told me an amusing story the other day," said a gentleman to a reporter. "Some time ago as this minister was walking along a street of the town an old German advanced toward him with extended hand. The minister shook hands, but remarked that he could not recall his name. 'Oh, yes,' said the old German, 'you remember me! I am the man who gave you a pig when you married me.'"

"The minister smiled as he recalled the incident, and as he was about to ask about the wife the old German said: 'Now I tell you what I'll do. When you married me, I gave you a pig, so I'll give you two pigs if you now marry me.'"

Looking Out For Papa. A sweet little maid of four years was distressed the other evening because her father did not come home to dinner on time. Her grownup sister said to her:

"Papa is naughty, and when he comes we won't give him any tea."

When he did come, the sister sent the teapot out to the kitchen for fresh tea. The baby looked on with a troubled face and stole softly to her own room. Shortly she returned with something squeezed up in her tiny fist. Going up to her sister, she whispered:

And, opening her hand, she displayed all her carefully hoarded pennies.—New York Times.

HARD TO GET STARTED.

Things Which Overcome a Writer When Beginning an Article.

There is a feeling of timidity that oftentimes overcomes a writer when beginning an article. As in writing a letter, it is getting started that puzzles. It is the custom to begin with slow moving piston and work gradually into full speed until the flow of words is free, and then the difficulty with some of us is to find the brake valve. Again, a writer sometimes discovers that his beginning is a more fitting ending, and vice versa. The newspaper style is to throw general conclusions up strong under the headlines, while the sermonizer reserves them until his final climax.

Thackeray remarked once that he could never tell exactly what he was going to say until his pen was in hand and under motion and then did not fully realize just what he was saying until it was written. There is a subconsciousness that shapes writing as it does speaking. This, I know, disturbs some well known theories of speaking and writing—as to weighing everything and then measuring it out as a druggist compounds a prescription—but my observations are that the preparation is more in getting full of a subject and then letting the mind work free under the impulse of the dominating idea.

There are as many ways and methods in writing and speaking as there are individuals, and yet the fundamental law in the transmission of thought and speech runs largely in the same groove, whether it be the jargon of the Hottentot or the polished periods of the scholar. Human nature has its own primitive impulses that defy all rules of rhetoric and the power of expression—that is, the power, mind you—is deeper seated than any artificial formula of stylists.—National Magazine.

The farmer who contemplates changing his location should look well into the subject of irrigation. AN OPPORTUNITY

Many people would like to honor the memory of departed loved ones with a handsome monument, but the high prices demanded by the local monument dealers prevent them.

We sell and deliver fine monuments or headstones at much lower prices than similar stones can be obtained for elsewhere.

Most of your local monument dealers work by expensive hand methods, while our work is done by the most improved labor saving machinery. Machine work not only lessens the cost of the monument, but insures better results as the moldings, letters, etc., are cut much deeper and smoother than by hand and therefore show plainer.

The stone we use is the very best—will not rust, discolor or become streaked as most granites do.

We sell to monument dealers at wholesale and also sell direct to the individual buyer, delivering complete in the cemetery.

M'KINLEY'S VIRTUES.

Secty. Hay Orator at Memorial Services Held by Congress Today.

PRINCE HENRY ATTENDED.

President Roosevelt Also Present. Senate Committee Yesterday Failed to Solve Tillman-McLaurin Problem. Official's Warm Message.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Congress met in joint session in the hall of the house of representatives, about noon, where memorial services in honor of the late President McKinley were held. Secretary Hay was the orator of the occasion. Among those in attendance were President Roosevelt and Prince Henry, of Prussia.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Some time ago the secretary of the treasury received unofficial information to the effect that J. W. Ivey, collector of customs at Sitka, had instructed his deputy at Unalaska not to permit Canadian vessels presumably about to engage in pelagic sealing to obtain supplies at that port. The collector was directed to send a statement of the facts to the department, and was informed that if such orders had been given they must be rescinded. Yesterday the department received a telegram from Ivey, saying:

Hot Telegram to Department.

"My instructions were not against vessels engaged in alleged legal seal fishing, but against Canadian vessels actually engaged in pelagic sealing, which is illegal and criminal, when committed within the marine jurisdiction of the United States. If there is an ancient treaty between the United States and Great Britain by which British subjects can commit depredations, destroying American property, and depleting our revenue of tens of thousands of dollars annually, while our own citizens are denied these privileges, the sooner such treaty is abrogated the better. Your solicitude regarding international complications with Great Britain need cause you no uneasiness, as the poaching season is not yet opened. Your new collector will arrive in time to enforce your orders. My Americanism will not allow me to rescind an order which gives British subjects privileges within our marine jurisdiction which are denied our own people. There is another matter that may attract your attention.

Had Canadian Officers Expelled.

"I have recently issued orders to the deputy at Skagway, a copy of which has been sent you, which has put the Canadian officers located there out of business and sent them to their own territory. You are aware of the fact that this officer became so offensive that he interfered with American officers in the discharge of their official duties, opened United States customs mail, dominated over the railway officials, discriminated in the order of shipment in favor of Canadian merchandise against that shipped from Seattle, established a Canadian quarantine at Skagway, collected moneys and performed other acts of British sovereignty in a port of the United States, such as hoisting with bravado the cross of St. George from the flagstaff of his custom house.

Hot Shot at U. S. Officials.

"I have sent the concern, bag, baggage, flag and other paraphernalia, flying out of the country. You may fear the shadow of international complications and rescind this order, but a Reed, an Olney or a Blaine would not."

Senate Held Brief Session.

A Careful Perusal Will Prove Its Value to Every East Liverpool Reader.

Mr. Samuel Mayer, who is an employee of the McNicol pottery, whose place of residence is 183 Bank street, says: "My health was fairly good until my kidneys began to trouble me, causing my back to ache a good part of the time and to get sore and lame across the loins. The pain was often sharp and penetrating, especially when stooping or lifting, and I never got rid of the trouble until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. pharmacy and tried them. When I had taken one box the soreness and pains in the back and other symptoms of kidney distress passed away."

FIND THE YOUNG MAN.

Mr. Foraker, of Ohio, was recognized. He said that on account of the McKinley memorial exercises, which were to be held in the hall of the house of representatives at or about 12 o'clock today, he moved that when the senate adjourn yesterday it be until 11:45 a. m. today. The motion was agreed to. Mr. Burrows, of Michigan, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, was recognized. He said that the committee was in the midst of the consideration of a very important question, a decision upon which had not been reached. By instruction of the committee he therefore moved that the senate adjourn. Without objection the motion was carried and the senate adjourned.

Opposed by Superintendent Dinkey.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The proposed limitation of work to eight hours a day on government work was again before the labor committee of the house, with representatives of several large concerns doing government work appearing in opposition. A. G. Dinkey, general superintendent of the Homestead Steel works, argued that the eight-hour limitation would be objectionable to employer and employee, and would seriously interfere with government work, if not make it impossible to do it. He concurred in the statement of Superintendent Johnston, of the Bethlehem works, that the success of some of the large armor plates depended upon longer shifts than eight hours. Mr. Dinkey also set forth the satisfactory conditions of labor, at Homestead, under the present system.

Tawney Made a Correction.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The house yesterday sent the Philippine tariff bill to conference, non-concurring in all the senate amendments. The Democrats sought to amend the amendments by reducing the rate of duty and declaring the United States should relinquish all claim to the archipelago, but all propositions were defeated. Mr. Tawney, of Minnesota, made a personal explanation regarding Governor Toole, of Montana, saying that in formerly classing the governor as an opponent of Governor Van Sant in the railroad merger case he had been under a misapprehension.

Lentz-Tompkins Contest.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Arguments in the Lentz-Tompkins contested election case for the seat of the Columbus, O., district were continued before the house elections committee No. 2 yesterday, former Attorney General Monnett, of Ohio, concluding for Mr. Lentz and Mr. Tompkins replying with a general and detailed denial of the charges of irregularity at the polls.

Tillman-McLaurin Problem.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The meeting of the senate committee on privileges and elections yesterday did not result in supplying and solution of the difficulty that the senate is in connection with the Tillman-McLaurin matter.

AIMED BLOW AT THE PRESIDENT

Georgians Try to Get Back at Him For His Action Toward Senator Tillman.

Augusta, Ga., Feb. 27.—Lieutenant Governor James H. Tillman, who is in this city, says that yesterday, in deference to requests by wire from the subscribers to the fund for the sword alluded to, he telegraphed as follows to President Roosevelt:

"A short while ago I had the honor to address your excellency a letter requesting that on the occasion of your visit to Charleston, you present a sword to Major Micah Jenkins, of the First United States volunteer cavalry, of whose gallant services you spoke so highly, your words being engraved on the scabbard. You accepted the invitation, for which we thank you. I am now requested by contributors to the sword fund to ask that you withdraw said acceptance."

(Signed) "James H. Tillman, Late Colonel First South Carolina Volunteer Infantry and Lieutenant Governor South Carolina."

In explaining the sending of the telegram, Lieutenant Governor Tillman said:

"It is with much regret that I am directed, or rather required, to have sent the telegram I did, especially in view of the fact that I am so closely related to one who but a few days ago was subjected to an affront which was seemingly, or at least the people who contributed to the purchase of the sword think, unwarranted."

TEN MINUTES AT PITTSBURG.

Prince Henry's Visit Will Be Brief, but Reception Will Be Elaborate.

Pittsburg, Feb. 27.—According to the program arranged Prince Henry will receive an elaborate reception during the ten minutes he is a guest of Pittsburg Saturday morning. Chairman H. P. Ecker, of the committee in charge of the arrangements, has announced that all the members of the German committee will assemble at the Victoria hotel at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning, from which place the procession to the Union station will be started. A platoon of mounted police will head the procession. They will be followed by Duss' band, playing special music for the occasion. The remainder of the procession will include committees from both branches of council, the German reception committee, representatives from German societies from both cities and the allied singers. The printed and engrossed address prepared by Artist Carl Schöber will be presented to Prince Henry by Peter End.

Dr. Guy McCandless will make a short address of welcome in the absence of Recorder J. O. Brown, who cannot be present. "Die Wacht am Rhein" will then be sung by the choral union, led by Duss' band.

The committee appointed by select council consists of John A. Murphy and J. H. Voskamp. That of common council is composed of George H. Wellinger, E. E. Seibert and E. G. Schwarzwelder. The German reception committee, of which Mr. Ecker is chairman, is made up of the following well-known citizens: Dr. B. B. Marheineke, Henry Heck, William Hasselman, Richard Klaus, E. T. Heinemann, Emil Winter, Adolph Steding, William Kleber, Henry Brandt, Victor Knoth, John P. Ober, John Dimling, Justus Mullert and Albert Bluthardt.

LEADING STOCKS SLUMBERED.

Obscure Ones Taken Up In Stock Market—Gold Engaged For Export.

New York, Feb. 27.—The proceedings in Wednesday's stock market were practically a repetition of those of the last few days. That is to say, the important railroad and industrial stocks of the largest capitalization, which usually take the lead in market movements, were allowed to slumber while various obscure and rarely active stocks were taken up one after another and pushed upward in more or less sensational movements. This order of things was varied in the last hour by a sharp raid on the part of the professional bears. The ostensible reason for their selling and offering down prices was the announcement of engagements of gold for export by today's steamer to the amount of $2,450,000. The advances in Wednesday's market were almost universally without explanation. In the case of the minor railroads they were based on a general assumption that absorption of these by the larger systems is manifest destiny. Of the more prominent stocks there was strength in Pennsylvania, the Erie, Wabash preferred and Illinois Central. Amalgamated Copper was active and irregular. Other stocks notably affected were the Colorado and Southern stocks, the Denver and Rio Grande stocks, Toledo, St. Louis and Western, the Wisconsin Central stocks, Chicago and Eastern Illinois, the Evansville and Terre Haute stocks, Chicago Great Western preferred A, the St. Joseph and Grand

A Thousand Million Suns.

Lord Kelvin once made some interesting calculations of the probable total amount of gravitation matter in the visible universe. He showed that if 25,000,000 years ago 1,000,000,000 masses, each equal to our sun, had been distributed through a sphere about 18,000,000,000,000 miles in radius they would now have acquired velocities about equal to those known to be possessed by the stars visible to us. Therefore it is probable that the total amount of gravitational matter in the visible universe does not differ much from that of 1,000,000,000 suns.

M'KINLEY'S VIRTUES.

Secty. Hay Orator at Memorial Services Held by Congress Today.

PRINCE HENRY ATTENDED.

President Roosevelt Also Present. Senate Committee Yesterday Failed to Solve Tillman-McLaurin Problem. Official's Warm Message.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Congress met in joint session in the hall of the house of representatives, about noon, where memorial services in honor of the late President McKinley were held. Secretary Hay was the orator of the occasion. Among those in attendance were President Roosevelt and Prince Henry, of Prussia.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Some time ago the secretary of the treasury received unofficial information to the effect that J. W. Ivey, collector of customs at Sitka, had instructed his deputy at Unalaska not to permit Canadian vessels 'presumably about to engage in pelagic sealing to obtain supplies at that port. The collector was directed to send a statement of the facts to the department, and was informed that if such orders had been given they must be rescinded. Yesterday the department received a telegram from Ivey, saying:

Hot Telegram to Department.

"My instructions were not against vessels engaged in alleged legal seal fishing, but against Canadian vessels actually engaged in pelagic sealing, which is illegal and criminal, when committed within the marine jurisdiction of the United States. If there is an ancient treaty between the United States and Great Britain by which British subjects can commit depredations, destroying American property, and depleting our revenue of tens of thousands of dollars annually, while our own citizens are denied these privileges, the sooner such treaty is abrogated the better. Your solicitude regarding international complications with Great Britain need cause you no uneasiness, as the poaching season is not yet opened. Your new collector will arrive in time to enforce your orders. My Americanism will not allow me to rescind an order which gives British subjects privileges within our marine jurisdiction which are denied our own people. There is another matter that may attract your attention.

Had Canadian Officers Expelled.

"I have recently issued orders to the deputy at Skagway, a copy of which has been sent you, which has put the Canadian officers located there out of business and sent them to their own territory. You are aware of the fact that this officer became so offensive that he interfered with American officers in the discharge of their official duties, opened United States customs mail, dominated over the railway officials, discriminated in the order of shipment in favor of Canadian merchandise against that shipped from Seattle, established a Canadian quarantine at Skagway, collected moneys and performed other acts of British sovereignty in a port of the United States, such as hoisting with bravado the cross of St. George from the flagstaff of his custom house.

Hot Shot at U. S. Officials.

Senate Held Brief Session.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Immediately after the chaplain had pronounced the invocation in the senate yesterday

DON'T OVERLOOK THIS

A Careful Perusal Will Prove Its Value to Every East Liverpool Reader.

The average man is a doubter, and there is little wonder that this is so. Misrepresentations make people skeptical. Now-a-days the public ask for better evidence than the testimony of strangers. Hear proof that should convince every East Liverpool reader. Mr. Samuel Mayer, who is an employee of the McNeil pottery, whose place of residence is 183 Bank street, says: "My health was fairly good until my kidneys began to trouble me, causing my back to ache a good part of the time and to get sore and lame across the loins. The pain was often sharp and penetrating, especially when stooping or lifting, and I never got rid of the trouble until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. pharmacy and tried them. When I had taken one box the soreness and pains in the back and other symptoms of kidney distress passed away."

Sold for 50 cents per box by all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

Sold by W. & W. Pharmacy.

FIND THE YOUNG MAN.

Mr. Foraker, of Ohio, was recognized. He said that on account of the McKinley memorial exercises, which were to be held in the hall of the house of representatives at or about 12 o'clock today, he moved that when the senate adjourn yesterday it be until 11:45 a. m. today. The motion was agreed to. Mr. Burrows, of Michigan, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, was recognized. He said that the committee was in the midst of the consideration of a very important question, a decision upon which had not been reached. By instruction of the committee he therefore moved that the senate adjourn. Without objection the motion was carried and the senate adjourned.

Opposed by Superintendent Dinkey.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The proposed limitation of work to eight hours a day on government work was again before the labor committee of the house, with representatives of several large concerns doing government work appearing in opposition. A. G. Dinkey, general superintendent of the Homestead Steel works, argued that the eight-hour limitation would be objectionable to employees and would seriously interfere with government work, if not make it impossible to do it. He concurred in the statement of Superintendent Johnston, of the Bethlehem works, that the success of some of the large armor plates depended upon longer shifts than eight hours. Mr. Dinkey also set forth the satisfactory conditions of labor, at Homestead, under the present system.

Tawney Made a Correction.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The house yesterday sent the Philippine tariff bill to conference, non-concurring in all the senate amendments. The Democrats sought to amend the amendments by reducing the rate of duty and declaring the United States should relinquish all claim to the archipelago, but all propositions were defeated. Mr. Tawney, of Minnesota, made a personal explanation regarding Governor Toole, of Montana, saying that in formerly classing the governor as an opponent of Governor Van Sant in the railroad merger case he had been under a misapprehension.

Lentz-Tompkins Contest.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Arguments in the Lentz-Tompkins contested election case for the seat of the Columbus, O., district were continued before the house elections committee No. 2 yesterday, former Attorney General Monnett, of Ohio, concluding for Mr. Lentz and Mr. Tompkins replying with a general and detailed denial of the charges of irregularity at the polls.

Tillman-McLaurin Problem.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The meeting of the senate committee on privileges and elections yesterday did not result in supplying and solution of the difficulty that the senate is in connection with the Tillman-McLaurin matter.

AIMED BLOW AT THE PRESIDENT

Georgians Try to Get Back at Him For His Action Toward Senator Tillman.

Augusta, Ga., Feb. 27.—Lieutenant Governor James H. Tillman, who is in this city, says that yesterday, in deference to requests by wire from the subscribers to the fund for the sword alluded to, he telegraphed as follows to President Roosevelt: "A short while ago I had the honor to address your excellency a letter requesting that on the occasion of your visit to Charleston, you present a sword to Major Micah Jenkins, of the First United States volunteer cavalry, of whose gallant services you spoke so highly, your words being engraved on the scabbard. You accepted the invitation, for which we thank you. I am now requested by contributors to the sword fund to ask that you withdraw said acceptance." (Signed) "James H. Tillman." "Late Colonel First South Carolina Volunteer Infantry and Lieutenant Governor South Carolina." In explaining the sending of the telegram, Lieutenant Governor Tillman said: "It is with much regret that I am directed, or rather required, to have sent the telegram I did, especially in view of the fact that I am so closely related to one who but a few days ago was subjected to an affront which was seemingly, or at least the people who contributed to the purchase of the sword think, unwarranted."

TEN MINUTES AT PITTSBURG.

Prince Henry's Visit Will Be Brief, but Reception Will Be Elaborate.

Pittsburg, Feb. 27.—According to the program arranged Prince Henry will receive an elaborate reception during the ten minutes he is a guest of Pittsburg Saturday morning. Chairman H. P. Ecker, of the committee in charge of the arrangements, has announced that all the members of the German committee will assemble at the Victoria hotel at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning, from which place the procession to the Union station will be started. A platoon of mounted police will head the procession, they will be followed by Duss' band, playing special music for the occasion. The remainder of the procession will include committees from both branches of council, the German reception committee, representatives from German societies from both cities and the allied singers. The printed and engrossed address prepared by Artist Carl Schorber will be presented to Prince Henry by Peter End.

Dr. Guy McCandless will make a short address of welcome in the absence of Recorder J. O. Brown, who cannot be present. "Die Wacht am Rhein" will then be sung by the choral union, led by Duss' band. The committee appointed by select council consists of John A. Murphy and J. H. Voskamp. That of common council is composed of George H. Wellinger, E. E. Seibert and E. G. Schwarzwelder. The German reception committee, of which Mr. Ecker is chairman, is made up of the following well-known citizens: Dr. B. B. Marheineke, Henry Heck, William Hasselman, Richard Klaus, E. T. Heilmann, Emil Winter, Adolph Steding, William Kleber, Henry Brandt, Victor Knoth, John P. Ober, John Dimling, Justus Mullert and Albert Bluthardt.

LEADING STOCKS SLUMBERED.

Obscure Ones Taken Up in Stock Market—Gold Engaged For Export.

New York, Feb. 27.—The proceedings in Wednesday's stock market were practically a repetition of those of the last few days. That is to say, the important railroad and industrial stocks of the largest capitalization, which usually take the lead in market movements, were allowed to slumber while various obscure and rarely active stocks were taken up one after another and pushed upward in more or less sensational movements. This order of things was varied in the last hour by a sharp raid on the part of the professional bears. The ostensible reason for their selling and offering down prices was the announcement of engagements of gold for export by today's steamer to the amount of $2,450,000. The advances in Wednesday's market were almost universally without explanation. In the case of the minor railroads they were based on a general assumption that absorption of these by the larger systems is manifest destiny. Of the more prominent stocks there was strength in Pennsylvania, the Erie, Wabash preferred and Illinois Central. Amalgamated Copper was active and irregular. Other stocks notably affected were the Colorado and Southern stocks, the Denver and Rio Grande stocks, Toledo, St. Louis and Western, the Wisconsin Central stocks, Chicago and Eastern Illinois, the Evansville and Terre Haute stocks, Chicago Great Western preferred A, the St. Joseph and Grand

A Thousand Million Suns.

Lord Kelvin once made some interesting calculations of the probable total amount of gravitational matter in the visible universe. He showed that if 25,000,000 years ago 1,000,000,000 masses, each equal to our sun, had been distributed through a sphere about 18,000,000,000 miles in radius they would now have acquired velocities about equal to those known to us. Therefore it is probable that the total amount of gravitational matter in the visible universe does not differ much from that of 1,000,000,000 suns.

A. G. Dinkey, general superintendent of the Homestead Steel works, argued that the eight-hour limitation would be objectionable to employer and employee, and would seriously interfere with government work, if not make it impossible to do it. He concurred in the statement of Superintendent Johnston, of the Bethlehem works, that the success of some of the large armor plates depended upon longer shifts than eight hours. Mr. Dinkey also set forth the satisfactory conditions of labor, at Homestead, under the present system.

Tawney Made a Correction.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The house yesterday sent the Philippine tariff bill to conference, non-concurring in all the senate amendments. The Democrats sought to amend the amendments by reducing the rate of duty and declaring the United States should relinquish all claim to the archipelago, but all propositions were defeated. Mr. Tawney, of Minnesota, made a personal explanation regarding Governor Toole, of Montana, saying that in formerly classing the governor as an opponent of Governor Van Sant in the railroad merger case he had been under a misapprehension.

Lentz-Tompkins Contest.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Arguments in the Lentz-Tompkins contested election case for the seat of the Columbus, O., district were continued before the house elections committee No. 2 yesterday, former Attorney General Monnett, of Ohio, concluding for Mr. Lentz and Mr. Tompkins replying with a general and detailed denial of the charges of irregularity at the polls.

Tillman-McLaurin Problem.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The meeting of the senate committee on privileges and elections yesterday did not result in supplying and solution of the difficulty that the senate is in connection with the Tillman-McLaurin matter.

AIMED BLOW AT THE PRESIDENT

Georgians Try to Get Back at Him For His Action Toward Senator Tillman.

Augusta, Ga., Feb. 27.—Lieutenant Governor James H. Tillman, who is in this city, says that yesterday, in deference to requests by wire from the subscribers to the fund for the sword alluded to, he telegraphed as follows to President Roosevelt:

"A short while ago I had the honor to address your excellency a letter requesting that on the occasion of your visit to Charleston, you present a sword to Major Micah Jenkins, of the First United States volunteer cavalry, of whose gallant services you spoke so highly, your words being engraved on the scabbard. You accepted the invitation, for which we thank you. I am now requested by contributors to the sword fund to ask that you withdraw said acceptance. (Signed) "James H. Tillman."

"Late Colonel First South Carolina Volunteer Infantry and Lieutenant Governor South Carolina."

In explaining the sending of the telegram, Lieutenant Governor Tillman said:

"It is with much regret that I am directed, or rather required, to have sent the telegram I did, especially in view of the fact that I am so closely related to one who but a few days ago was subjected to an affront which was seemingly, or at least the people who contributed to the purchase of the sword think, unwarranted."

TEN MINUTES AT PITTSBURG.

Prince Henry's Visit Will Be Brief, but Reception Will Be Elaborate.

Pittsburg, Feb. 27.—According to the program arranged Prince Henry will receive an elaborate reception during the ten minutes he is a guest of Pittsburg Saturday morning. Chairman H. P. Ecker, of the committee in charge of the arrangements, has announced that all the members of the German committee will assemble at the Victoria hotel at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning, from which place the procession to the Union station will be started. A platoon of mounted police will head the procession. They will be followed by Duss' band, playing special music for the occasion. The remainder of the procession will include committees from both branches of council, the German reception committee, representatives from German societies from both cities and the allied singers. The printed and engrossed address prepared by Artist Carl Schöber will be presented to Prince Henry by Peter End.

Dr. Guy McCandless will make a short address of welcome in the absence of Recorder J. O. Brown, who cannot be present. "Die Wacht am Rhein" will then be sung by the choral union, led by Duss' band.

The committee appointed by select council consists of John A. Murphy and J. H. Voskamp. That of common council is composed of George H. Wellinger, E. E. Seibert and E. G. Schwarzwelder. The German reception committee, of which Mr. Ecker is chairman, is made up of the following well-known citizens: Dr. B. B. Marheineke, Henry Heck, William Hasselman, Richard Klaus, E. T. Heinemann, Emil Winter, Adolph Steding, William Kleber, Henry Brandt, Victor Knoth, John P. Ober, John Dimling, Justus Mullert and Albert Bluthardt.

LEADING STOCKS SLUMBERED.

Obscure Ones Taken Up In Stock Market—Gold Engaged For Export.

New York, Feb. 27.—The proceedings in Wednesday's stock market were practically a repetition of those of the last few days. That is to say, the important railroad and industrial stocks of the largest capitalization, which usually take the lead in market movements, were allowed to slumber while various obscure and rarely active stocks were taken up one after another and pushed upward in more or less sensational movements. This order of things was varied in the last hour by a sharp raid on the part of the professional bears. The ostensible reason for their selling and offering down prices was the announcement of engagements of gold for export by today's steamer to the amount of $2,450,000. The advances in Wednesday's market were almost universally without explanation. In the case of the minor railroads they were based on a general assumption that absorption of these by the larger systems is manifest destiny. Of the more prominent stocks there was strength in Pennsylvania, the Erie, Wabash preferred and Illinois Central. Amalgamated Copper was active and irregular. Other stocks notably affected were the Colorado and Southern stocks, the Denver and Rio Grande stocks, Toledo, St. Louis and Western, the Wisconsin Central stocks, Chicago and Eastern Illinois, the Evansville and Terre Haute stocks, Chicago Great Western preferred A, the St. Joseph and Grand

A Thousand Million Suns. Lord Kelvin once made some interesting calculations of the probable total amount of gravitation matter in the visible universe. He showed that if 25,000,000 years ago 1,000,000,000 masses, each equal to our sun, had been distributed through a sphere about 18,000,000,000,000 miles in radius they would now have acquired velocities about equal to those known to be possessed by the stars visible to us. Therefore it is probable that the total amount of gravitational matter in the visible universe does not differ much from that of 1,000,000,000 suns.

TAX ADJUSTMENT

FOURTH WARD CITIZENS DEEPLY INTERESTED IN IT.

Griss McConnell, For Council, Proposes to Look Carefully After the People's Interests.

No little interest is being taken in the contest for the Republican nomination for council in the Fourth ward.

Griss McConnell, of the second precinct, has just completed a canvass for the position and his friends are confident of his success. Mr. McConnell has for several years been in close touch with municipal affairs, and is in a position to appreciate the needs of not only his own constituents, but those of the citizens generally. Especially is he opposed to the unequal distribution of the taxes at the last decennial appraisal and the poor work of the equalizing board later.

If elected to the position of councilman Mr. McConnell has given his friends an absolute promise that he will support any measure that may be suggested which will afford a remedy for the unequal and unjust distribution of taxes as they now exist. Should the voters of the Fourth ward see fit to elect Mr. McConnell to the position he seeks the people of that district will be represented by an active and aggressive member of the next council.

EQUAL TAXATION

Is Strongly Advocated By Councilman Russell C. Heddleston.

Equality of taxes will be one of the many matters that will be earnestly looked after by Russell Heddleston if he is re-elected to council. His experience in council during the present term has placed him in a position to be perfectly familiar with the proper course to pursue to bring about this much needed reform.

He asks the indulgence of the people in his ward whom he has been unable to see and trusts they will lend their support and influence in his behalf.

PLAIN QUESTIONS FOR FIFTH WARD

Voters Asked to Consider the Rapidly Growing Debt of the City.

TAXPAYERS' INTERESTS

Where Dr. Marshall Might Have Looked After Them, But is Accused of Not Doing So—Can He Escape Responsibility?

Editor News Review: With much éclat Dr. R. J. Marshall proclaims himself for the fifth time a seeker after councilmanic honors at the hands of the voters of the Fifth ward. In his accustomed ostentatious manner he feigns great friendship for the man of limited means. Sirenlike he attempts to lull the voters into the belief that he will do all kinds of possible and impossible things for them only to forget his promises after election day. He professes to have looked after the interests of the taxpayers at all times, and so he has—the wealthy ones. I have known and taken great interest in the doctor for years, and always found him to be for himself first, last and all the time. Take for instance the matter of improving the hill road connecting the city proper with the East End.

The city engineer's estimate on the cost of this improvement was $9,000, the city's share of which was to be $185. Based on this estimate Dr. Marshall managed to induce council to pass the improving ordinance. And now what do we find the actual cost of the improvement to be? Thirty-two thousand dollars, of which amount only $25,000 can be levied against the property benefited, thus leaving $7,000 to be saddled on the city, provided all the assessments can be collected. But that is not all.

There are damage suits as a result of this improvement amounting to about $28,000, running the eventual cost of the improvement up to the stupendous sum of $60,000. And what are the returns for this price? How many of our working people in any part of the city are benefited by this vast expenditure of money? Less than one-half of this amount expended on the river road would mean money in the pockets of all classes—the working man and woman in the saving of car fares, etc. But that would not satisfy the doctor and his friends, for at that time the street railway company was opposed to the improvement of the river-road, the doctor was on very friendly terms with the management and carried out their wishes.

Here is another evidence of the doctor's extreme friendliness towards the poorer classes. The long list of assessments for Pennsylvania avenue improvements show Dr. Marshall's friends—those able to pay taxes—have all been very carefully "taken care" of. Permit me to cite but one case: Wm. C. Thompson is the owner of a bunch of lots along the line of improvement and is required to pay only $10 for each lot of 50 feet, while L. Gardner and Wm. H. Kinney adjoining are compelled to pay $20 each for the same number of feet frontage, or 100 per cent more than the former.

Instances of this kind are too numerous to be crowded into the limited space at my disposal. Two years ago the doctor was re-elected on the positive promise that he would give his hearty support to the improvement of the river road, but not one dollar has been expended on that dilapidated road since then, and never will be as long as he is in power. When Dr. Marshall entered city council eight years ago the bonded indebtedness of the city amounted to $280,000. It has now increased to $470,000—almost doubled in that time. Marshall more than any other man is responsible for this, for has he not been the leading spirit of the finance committee and council for over six years? Only recently it was necessary to sell bonds to the amount of $50,000 to relieve the floating indebtedness of the city, the banks having curtailed the credit of the city, even flatly refusing to honor the city's paper. Thus is Marshall's policy drifting East Liverpool toward bankruptcy.

Are your taxes and rents lower now than formerly? You all know what your taxes were last year. With Marshall back in council next year taxes will be higher, sure pop. In view of these facts is it not for the best interests of the city that the doctor should be retired this time and a friend of the workingman put in his place? If there is no compensation in the office for the doctor, why is it he is after it so hard and so everlastingly?

WHY DOES THE STREET RAILWAY COMPANY WANT MARSHALL DEFEATED FOR COUNCIL? BECAUSE MARSHALL INSISTS ON THEM LIVING UP TO THEIR FRANCHISE AND GIVING A GOOD SERVICE TO THEIR PATRONS.

MAUTZ WITHDRAWS

And Throws His Support to the Laboring Man's Candidate.

To the Public: Having come to the conclusion that the interests of the small property owners of the East End are dependent on the election of a man who will represent their interests in council and realizing that I, as a candidate, will only complicate matters in my ward, I respectfully withdraw as a candidate for the nomination.

While I have all the sympathy of the working men at heart I feel that Mr. James Jameson, being a member of a potters' local and a staunch supporter of all union labor, is in a position to more freely ask the support of this contingent, and for this reason I, while thanking all my friends for their promised support, ask them to transfer their preference to Mr. Jameson, who is a man capable of filling the position and one who will see to it that the interests of the laboring people is first of importance.

H. G. MAUTZ.

The city's indebtedness eight years ago was $280,000. At present it is $470,000. Marshall has been a member of Council all this time and president the greater part of the time.

THE RAILROADS.

If steel frames extending longitudinally under cars will prevent telescoping, it is the duty of every railroad to have them. It is the duty of the state railroad commission to see that they have them. It is the business of the people to demand them.—New York World.

ATCHISON NOT WORRIED

Both He and His Friends Are Jubilant And Confident of Winning.

Salem, February 27.—(Special)—In reference to an alleged "special" from Salem, published in an East Liverpool paper yesterday, Sherman Atchison, candidate for clerk of courts, said today that instead of being worried over the situation, he was more confident of success than ever.

From indications here Hanley is the man who has reason to be worried. Atchison's friends are jubilant and confident. They declare that Mr. Atchison will draw numerous votes from the south end of the county, while the tactics pursued by Hanley in the northern end of the county are certainly not calculated to alienate any of Mr. Atchison's support in this section, but rather to strengthen it greatly. The voters of the northern part of the county have no friendship for boodle methods or those who pursue them.

THE LABORING MAN

Will Be Benefited By Voting for Hugh Johnston.

Hugh Johnston, candidate for council from the First ward, is deserving of the vote and influence of every union man in particular in his ward. He is a prominent worker in labor circles and every union man should see that not only his own vote be cast for him, but the votes of his neighbors as well.

If Mr. Johnston is elected many reforms that will be for the betterment of the entire city will be introduced by him and the improvements that are so badly needed in the First ward will be shoved through as rapidly as possible.

PLAIN QUESTIONS FOR FIFTH WARD

Voters Asked to Consider the Rapidly Growing Debt of the City.

TAXPAYERS' INTERESTS

Where Dr. Marshall Might Have Looked After Them, But Is Accused of Not Doing So—Can He Escape Responsibility?

Editor News Review: With much éclat Dr. R. J. Marshall proclaims himself for the fifth time a seeker after councilmanic honors at the hands of the voters of the Fifth ward. In his accustomed ostentatious manner he feigns great friendship for the man of limited means. Sirenlike he attempts to lull the voters into the belief that he will do all kinds of possible and impossible things for them only to forget his promises after election day. He professes to have looked after the interests of the taxpayers at all times, and so he has—the wealthy ones. I have known and taken great interest in the doctor for years, and always found him to be for himself first, last and all the time. Take for instance the matter of improving the hill road connecting the city proper with the East End.

The city engineer's estimate on the cost of this improvement was $9,000, the city's share of which was to be $185. Based on this estimate Dr. Marshall managed to induce council to pass the improving ordinance. And now what do we find the actual cost of the improvement to be? Thirty-two thousand dollars, of which amount only $25,000 can be levied against the property benefited, thus leaving $7,000 to be saddled on the city, provided all the assessments can be collected. But that is not all.

There are damage suits as a result of this improvement amounting to about $28,000, running the eventual cost of the improvement up to the stupendous sum of $60,000. And what are the returns for this price? How many of our working people in any part of the city are benefited by this vast expenditure of money? Less than one-half of this amount expended on the river road would mean money in the pockets of all classes—the working man and woman in the saving of car fares, etc. But that would not satisfy the doctor and his friends, for at that time the street railway company was opposed to the improvement of the river-road, the doctor was on very friendly terms with the management and carried out their wishes.

Here is another evidence of the doctor's extreme friendliness towards the poorer classes. The long list of assessments for Pennsylvania avenue improvements show Dr. Marshall's friends—those able to pay taxes—have all been very carefully "taken care" of. Permit me to cite but one case: Wm. C. Thompson is the owner of a bunch of lots along the line of improvement and is required to pay only $10 for each lot of 50 feet, while L. Gardner and Wm. H. Kinney adjoining are compelled to pay $20 each for the same number of feet frontage, or 100 per cent more than the former.

Instances of this kind are too numerous to be crowded into the limited space at my disposal. Two years ago the doctor was re-elected on the positive promise that he would give his hearty support to the improvement of the river road, but not one dollar has been expended on that dilapidated road since then, and never will be as long as he is in power. When Dr. Marshall entered city council eight years ago the bonded indebtedness of the city amounted to $280,000. It has now increased to $470,000—almost doubled in that time. Marshall more than any other man is responsible for this, for has he not been the leading spirit of the finance committee and council for over six years? Only recently it was necessary to sell bonds to the amount of $50,000 to relieve the floating indebtedness of the city, the banks having curtailed the credit of the city, even flatly refusing to honor the city's paper. Thus is Marshall's policy drifting East Liverpool toward bankruptcy.

Are your taxes and rents lower now than formerly? You all know what your taxes were last year. With Marshall back in council next year taxes will be higher, sure pop. In view of these facts is it not for the best interests of the city that the doctor should be retired this time and a friend of the workingman put in his place? If there is no compensation in the office for the doctor, why is it he is after it so hard and so everlastingly?

To the Public: Having come to the conclusion that the interests of the small property owners of the East End are dependent on the election of a man who will represent their interests in council and realizing that I, as a candidate, will only complicate matters in my ward, I respectfully withdraw as a candidate for the nomination.

While I have all the sympathy of the working men at heart I feel that Mr. James Jameson, being a member of a potters' local and a staunch supporter of all union labor, is in a position to more freely ask the support of this contingent, and for this reason I, while thanking all my friends for their promised support, ask them to transfer their preference to Mr. Jameson, who is a man capable of filling the position and one who will see to it that the interests of the laboring people is first of importance.

ATCHISON NOT WORRIED

Both He and His Friends Are Jubilant and Confident of Winning.

Salem, February 27.—(Special)—In reference to an alleged "special" from Salem, published in an East Liverpool paper yesterday, Sherman Atchison, candidate for clerk of courts, said today that instead of being worried over the situation, he was more confident of success than ever.

From indications here Hanley is the man who has reason to be worried. Atchison's friends are jubilant and confident. They declare that Mr. Atchison will draw numerous votes from the south end of the county, while the tactics pursued by Hanley in the northern end of the county are certainly not calculated to alienate any of Mr. Atchison's support in this section, but rather to strengthen it greatly. The voters of the northern part of the county have no friendship for boodle methods or those who pursue them.

THE LABORING MAN

Will Be Benefited By Voting for Hugh Johnston.

Hugh Johnston, candidate for council from the First ward, is deserving of the vote and influence of every union man in particular in his ward. He is a prominent worker in labor circles and every union man should see that not only his own vote be cast for him, but the votes of his neighbors as well.

If Mr. Johnston is elected many reforms that will be for the betterment of the entire city will be introduced by him and the improvements that are so badly needed in the First ward will be shoved through as rapidly as possible.

A Musicales Tonight—Harold T. Knowles will give a musicale to his friends tonight at the home of Mrs. James Goodwin, on Broadway.

Large Audience—There was another large audience at the M. E. church last night and much interest was manifested. Rev. Dr. Crawford preached a short sermon and Prof. and Mrs. Phillips sang.

Much Improved—The child of Mel Stevenson, in the East End, who has been near death's door from an attack of diphtheria, is much improved though not sufficiently to allow the quarantine to be lifted.

Street Car Off the Track—Car No. 1, on the East Liverpool railway line, jumped the track at the Walker switch last evening and blocked the line for about an hour. Passengers were compelled to transfer until the car was put back on the rails.

TAX ADJUSTMENT

FOURTH WARD CITIZENS DEEPLY INTERESTED IN IT.

Criss McConnell, For Council, Proposes to Look Carefully After the People's Interests.

No little interest is being taken in the contest for the Republican nomination for council in the Fourth ward.

Criss McConnell, of the second precinct, has just completed a canvass for the position and his friends are confident of his success. Mr. McConnell has for several years been in close touch with municipal affairs, and is in a position to appreciate the needs of not only his own constituents, but those of the citizens generally. Especially is he opposed to the unequal distribution of the taxes at the last decennial reappraisal and the poor work of the equalizing board later. If elected to the position of councilman Mr. McConnell has given his friends an absolute promise that he will support any measure that may be suggested which will afford a remedy for the unequal and unjust distribution of taxes as they now exist.

Should the voters of the Fourth ward see fit to elect Mr. McConnell to the position he seeks the people of that district will be represented by an active and aggressive member of the next council.

EQUAL TAXATION

Is Strongly Advocated By Councilman Russell C. Heddleston.

Equality of taxes will be one of the many matters that will be earnestly looked after by Russell Heddleston if he is re-elected to council. His experience in council during the present term has placed him in a position to be perfectly familiar with the proper course to pursue to bring about this much needed reform.

He asks the indulgence of the people in his ward whom he has been unable to see and trusts they will lend their support and influence in his behalf.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1902.

TWO IMPORTANT MEASURES HAVE PASSED OHIO HOUSE

Beal Local Option Bill Goes Through By a Surprising Majority.

LIQUOR MEN HUMILIATED

Willis Corporation Tax Bill Also Through In Amended
Form.

THE TAX MADE TO APPLY

Only to Capital Stock Actually Subscribed—A Concession to Manufacturing Interests—An East Liverpool Corporation Increases Capital.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, Feb. 27.—The much discussed Beal local option bill and the Willis administration tax measure passed the house on Wednesday afternoon, the former by a vote of 82 to 16, and the latter by a vote of 69 to 26. Amendments were made to both measures before they were passed. Representatives Buell and Crist, of Columbiana county, voted for both measures. The Beal bill provides that upon presentation of a petition signed by 40 per cent of the voters councils shall call a special election at which the question of saloons or no saloons shall be voted upon.

Messrs. Buell and Crist and dissatisfied with the bill in its present form and were strongly opposed to the change from 25 per cent to 40 per cent. In its present shape, they look upon it as a makeshift. Mr. Crist expressed his dislike of the 40 per cent. feature in a very conservative way, while Mr. Buell was decidedly outspoken on the matter. He told the author of the bill it was an illegitimate thing. The liquor interests suffered a humiliating defeat.

The Willis bill was passed, but not until it had been amended. Instead of taxing the authorized capital of corporations one-tenth of one per cent, the tax only applies to the subscribed stock of such concerns. The amendment was agreed to in order to mollify the opposition of manufacturing interests.

Messrs. Buell and Crist voted in the affirmative because the bill had been made a party measure. It is regarded as certain that the Willis bill will pass the senate. It is a twin measure of the Cole excise bill taxing quasi-public corporations. These measures were designed by Governor Nash.

Representative Denune, of Franklin, refused to vote on an amendment for the Beal bill and he was declared to be in contempt. Attorney C. P. Rothwell, of East Palestine, came to Columbus to lobby in behalf of the Beal bill, and its passage afforded him much satisfaction. He performed some effective work.

The Union Planing mill, East Liverpool, has increased its capital from $10,000 to $50,000. George Kaufman is president and Thomas Plunkert, secretary.

GILL-HARRIS

QUIETLY MARRIED.

The Residence of the Bride's Parents Handsomely Decorated for the Occasion.

At the home of ex-Sheriff and Mrs. Charles Gill last evening at 8 o'clock occurred the wedding of their third daughter, Miss Estella Gill and Mr. Harry H. Harris. The Gill residence was prettily decorated with palms and flowers.

The bride and groom entered the room unattended and took their places in the bay window which had been artistically decorated with palms and other tropical plants. The bride looked charming in a pretty white dress, while the groom was finely attired in black. Miss Gill neither wore nor carried flowers, and the distinctive feature of the whole affair was the extreme simplicity.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Clark Crawford, in the presence of the intimate friends and relatives of the contracting parties.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a very enjoyable wedding breakfast was served. The table carried out the color scheme in a beautiful design. Mr. and Mrs. Harris were the recipients of quite a number of useful and beautiful presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton, of Lisbon were the out-of-town guests present. Mr. and Mrs. Harris will make their future home in Chester, where Mr. Harris is employed in the Taylor Smith & Taylor pottery.

ENGINEERS' MEETINGS

ant Gathering at Cleveland.

Alliance association No. 57, N. A. S. E., will observe its eleventh anniversary March 11. Invitations have been sent to Salem, Lisbon, East Palestine, Canton, Steubenville and East Liverpool and 150 guests are expected. A banquet, speeches and dancing will be part of the program.

At Cleveland March 1 the national officers will hold a meeting at N. A. S. E. hall, Atwater building, at 7:30 p. m. Both national and state officers will hold a joint meeting in behalf of state affairs and at 9:30 there will be a mass meeting.

There will be an open meeting held in this city in the Oyster building March 22 by the Mechanical and Electric Association of Steam Engineers of the Fifth district. The meeting will likely be well attended.

NO DAMAGE EXPECTED

Ice Has Moved Out And That from
the Allegheny Is Not Feared.

For the past three days the Ohio river at this port has continued to rise, and at noon today 15 feet was registered at the wharf. The river is practically free from ice here, and as all the gorges in the river below this city have passed out, no damage is anticipated from any ice that will come from the Allegheny river. The gorges in the latter stream have broken, and local rivermen expect the ice to commence to pass this port either this evening or tomorrow morning. Wharf Master Martindill today announced that all craft was in good shape for a larger rise, and no damage is anticipated here.

OCCUPANTS THROWN OUT

Young Man Got Painful Injury.

A serious runaway occurred yesterday afternoon on Pennsylvania avenue. Newton Hamill, of Calcutta, was driving a single buggy with two other relatives when one of the shafts of the buggy broke and fell to the ground. This scared the horse, causing it to run off, throwing the occupants from the vehicle.

One of the young men, a nephew of Mr. Hamill, received a deep cut over his right eye. He was taken to the office of Dr. Marshall in an express wagon, where his injuries were dressed.

BAD SIDEWALKS

Conditions on Fourth Street And
Other Thoroughfares a Disgrace.

The prediction made by the News Review several weeks ago with reference to the condition of a number of sidewalks is now making itself felt.

The condition of Fourth street is a disgrace.

Residents of that thoroughfare have been compelled to walk in the street since the present thaw began.

A number of other streets are in a similar or worse condition.

A Railway Car Seized.

Steubenville, February 27.—Constable Campbell yesterday seized a B. & O. freight car on the W. & L. E. and chained and locked it to the tracks. The seizure was made on an attachment issued by Squire Kithcart in the suit of Max Goldstein, of this city, against the W. & L. E. and B. & O. railroad companies to recover $95.50 damages for household goods shipped over those lines from Philadelphia to Steubenville and lost in transit last September.

Good Progress Made.—The special services being held at the U. P. church are progressing with much interest. Rev. W. H. Clark gave an earnest sermon. The meetings will be held at 2:30 and 7:45 p. m. the remainder of the week.

BARON VON HOLLEBEN AND LORD PAUNCEFOTE.

Conspicuous among the diplomats at Washington engaged in the lively controversy as to which nation were friendly to Uncle Sam during his war with Spain are Baron von Holleben, the German ambassador, and Lord Pauncefoot, England's representative. Between these two there is said to have grown up a coldness. It is no wonder. If we are to believe Herr Holleben's declarations we cannot believe the protests of Lord Pauncefoot, and vice versa.

FIRST CHURCH TO BE RENOVATED EXTENSIVELY.

A Gallery to Be Built Which Will Largely Increase Seating Capacity.

Extensive improvements are being planned, which, it is expected will be made the coming spring at the First Presbyterian church. The matter has been under advisement for some time, but not until a few days ago was anything definite done.

An architect is now working on the plans and will soon have blue prints and an estimate ready to submit to the directors of the church. The rapid growth in membership and the consequent demand for seating capacity have made the contemplated improvements a necessity, and it is thought they will be pushed to speedy completion.

It is the intention to entirely remodel the church edifice and enlarge it by the addition of a large and commodious gallery. The walls are to be newly preserved and the interior otherwise beautified.

EXAMINING BOARD

Every member now connected with the society and all prospective members will be called upon to stand an examination before being admitted.

Storm of Indignation Follows And He

at Dillonvale.

Dillonvale, February 27.—Joseph Charvot, a Bohemian boy aged 12 and a pupil in the school here, was so severely and brutally dealt with by the principal, J. H. Choquill, as to raise a storm of indignation, start criminal proceedings and cause the principal to leave the place abruptly. The boy was thrown to the floor, choked by the teacher and his head thumped on the floor. The teacher then dismissed school and left, evidently walking out of town, as his wife left on the evening train.

Meantime a warrant was sworn out before Squire J. N. Richardson for Choquill's arrest for the offense, but it has not yet been served for the reason stated. Choquill, who came from Morgan county, has only taught at Dillonvale since fall and his term has been somewhat turbulent and unsatisfactory.

The Mahoning infirmary directors asked to be reimbursed on the ground that Kibler was a resident of Unity township, this county. The case was tried once before, and the verdict was against Mahoning county. It was taken to the circuit court and the verdict reversed and a new trial ordered.

No Change In Present Management of Union and Chelsea Plants.

MEETING HELD LAST EVENING

At Which the American Company's Purpose Was Fully Explained.

on the Same Terms Given Mr.
Moreland—It Will Probably Be Accepted.

The exclusive announcement in this paper last evening of the merging of 75 per cent of the stock of the Union Potteries company into that of the American Potteries company of New Jersey, was read with more than ordinary interest. While it was generally thought that some plant in this city would be absorbed by the new Trenton company, there was nothing definitely done in this respect until after the announcement of the formation of the Trenton company last week.

The American Potteries company will assume the management of the Union pottery in this city, and the Chelsea at New Cumberland, next Saturday, but it is announced on authority that no change in the present management of the concerns will be made. It was stated in a local paper a few days ago that the Union company had made overtures to purchase the Goodwin property on Walnut street, adjoining the Union, in order that extended improvements could be made, but this was incorrect. The company asked for a price on this property when the Union company was formed, but nothing has been done since and nothing will be done.

In the office of the Union pottery a meeting was held last evening of a committee appointed by the old stockholders of the Union Co-Operative Pottery company to represent their interests at the time the plant was transferred to the Union Potteries company. The meeting was for the purpose of hearing the proposition of the American Potteries company to take over the minority holdings.

This committee was composed of Joseph F. Manor, at present general manager of the Union; J. T. Buckley, Robert McKenty, Thomas Collins, William M. Davidson, William Pittinger and John Harrison. These gentlemen were addressed by Frank W. Fowler, vice president of the Union Potteries company, who explained the propositions of the American Potteries company.

This proposition was as stated in the News Review last evening. The new company proposes to absorb the remaining stock of the company under the same conditions as the stock held by Mr. Moreland was taken. It is announced that this committee recommended that all the remaining stock be sold and papers were signed by all the stockholders represented to dispose of their holdings. This committee proposes to see all the individual stockholders today and explain to them the purpose and result of the meeting held last evening, and it is quite likely that the minority stock will be transferred to the American Potteries company within 10 days.

Considerable comment has been occasioned from the rumor that other plants in this locality have or will make application to become affiliated with the new concern. It must be remembered that in acquiring new properties in the West, the American Potteries company has no plant here where hollow ware is made and if it is desired to make this class of goods in the west, new plants must be secured or built.

Mr. Fowler was seen today and when asked for the personnel of the American Potteries company begged to be excused from talking about that matter just at present. It is reasonable to believe that inasmuch as Mr. Moreland has been elected president of the new concern, its other officers have been selected from the Union Potteries company, and the eastern plants which have been absorbed. Details of the policy of the new company will probably be made public soon.

EAST END

OLD POSTOFFICE SALE

Important East End Deal—Building to Be Remodeled for Lodge
Purposes.

In the transfer of the old postoffice
building on First avenue Tuesday to Ferguson & Larkins, the East End
grocers, one of the most important
sales of East End realty this year
was made.

The purchase price included not only the site, but also the three-story
building. This morning a large force
of workmen were put to work improving the building, the first floor of which will be occupied for store room
purposes, while the upper floors will
be used for lodge rooms.

Several lodges of the East End are after this room, and the lease with one of these will be signed this even-
ing. It is likely that this room will be used by all the lodges and locals
meeting in the East End, as the present meeting place of these lodges is considered too small to accommodate the increasing membership.

LEAKING GAS MAIN

Fuel Going to Waste Because of a Break Near Ralston
Crossing.

A leak in the gas mains of the Ft.
Pitt Gas company has been located near Ralston crossing. The line to the East End extends along the river
shore and near the crossing there is a large opening in the ground and this is where the leak is located. The hole in the ground is filled with water,
caused by the sudden rise in the river,
and the leaking gas is bubbling out
of the water.

The leak will be repaired as soon as the water recedes, and the residents of the East End will not suffer on account of the shortage, as there was a pressure of 40 pounds registered at the regulator located in Fire alley this morning.

FROM SMITH'S FERRY

Large Delegations Attend the Revival Services in the East End.

Not only do the residents of the East End take an active part in the several revival services, now being held in that part of the city, but those of Smith's Ferry come as well.

Last evening probably 25 persons
from the Ferry came to the East End
on the late accommodation train to attend the revival services, and after the close of the meeting they took
a car to the end of the street railway line, and from there walked up the railroad track to their homes.

Was Married in England.

Harry Dascombe, a baker employed
by Fisher & Co., of Pennsylvania avenue, has returned to this country
from England, where he was recently married. Mr. Dascombe went to England about six weeks ago, for the purpose of taking a life partner, and
when he returned he was accompanied by Mrs. Dascombe. The couple will reside on Pennsylvania avenue.

Freight Business Growing.

In order that movers of freight
from the East End station may be accommodated, the railroad company
has cut a large opening in the fence
near the residence of George McKinnon and freight can be taken from
this side of the "freight car station."
More local freight is being delivered
at this station since this car was placed there than ever before.

Largely Attended Meeting.

One of the largest and best meetings since the beginning of the revival services at the Second Presbyterian church was held last evening.
Rev. C. R. Hosick preached an able sermon and one new member was added to the church. Rev. Mr. Hosick will preach this evening and again tomorrow evening.

Meetings Full of Interest.

The attendance at the revival service at the Erie street M. E. church
was as large as ever last evening and the service was quite interesting. A number of conversions were reported.

The Polling Places.

Announcements of the polling places
in the East End for next Saturday
were posted in the East End yesterday afternoon. They will be located
as before.

tention to the fact that the saloon-
keepers, more particularly the ones
who run dives and gambling places,
and also the street railway company,
have decided that I am an obnoxious
councilman to their interests, and
therefore that I must be defeated at any cost. Hence the withdrawal of Mautz and the bespeaking of his support for one of my opponents whom
the two forces have centered on.

My crime against the street railway company has been to insist on their giving decent service to their patrons; to insist on their running
the cars over the Klondike extension
and the 12-minute schedule. I have always been a friend of the boys on the line when they asked for a square
deal at the hands of the company.
In fact, as George Anderson says:
"He has made our company spend hundreds of dollars they wouldn't
for him, and we are going to beat
him."

With all that we are not getting the service we should have, and I promise to keep on kicking until we do providing you again repose confidence
in me.

My crime against the saloon—or,
more particularly, the divekeeper—is familiar to all and was the drafting of the screen ordinances which council
passed.

Now, gentlemen, from such a source
and with the above named "crimes"
to be avenged, you can look for all sorts of tales. But, let me tell you it will not be for the benefit of the Fifth ward that they will be told, but
to get rid of a councilman who insists, first, on common decency, and,
second, that the street railway company shall live up to its franchise.

I, therefore, ask you to be on the alert, those of you, who wish the East End to go forward. And if you choose to repose confidence in me
again, I will do in the future as I have done in the past—take good care of the Fifth ward. There are
depend upon it, I know what they are.

Yours,
R. J. MARSHALL.

Prince Says Germany's Is Preferred, If We Are Willing to Grasp It.

DINED WITH NEWSPAPER MEN.

His Mission to Promote Friendlier Relations Between Germany and United States—Luncheon With Business Men—Witnessed Parade.

New York, Feb. 27.—Prince Henry, of Prussia, dined last night with 1,000 of the men who make American newspapers. He was the special guest of Herman Ridder, proprietor of the New Yorker Staats Zeitung, who gathered at his table a majority of the leading figures in American journalism. They came from the four quarters of the country and made the most noteworthy gathering of their profession ever assembled in the United States. There was a felicitous exchange of greetings between Prince Henry and the men who spoke for the journalistic craft, and the affair claims rank as one of the notable incidents of the American tour of the German prince.

The dinner was given in the handsome ball room of the Waldorf Astoria hotel, but that immense apartment was not large enough to accommodate the numerous guests, and the Astor gallery was also used.

Bishop Potter Offered Grace.

Mr. Ridder called upon Bishop Potter, who offered a brief grace.

A small army of waiters quickly filled the aisles between tables, and with an order that was remarkable in such a large gathering the banquet began.

As the evening proceeded hundreds of handsomely gowned women filled the boxes above the dining hall. An orchestra high up in the second tier of boxes played popular national music, and when a tune caught the fancy of the crowd they sang it. At "Die Wacht am Rhein" the crowd arose, and after singing it lustily there were loud cheers. "America" got the same enthusiastic treatment.

Excellent moulded statuettes of Prince Henry were distributed as souvenirs.

At 10:25 o'clock Mr. Ridder, rapping for attention, proposed the health of the president of the United States and the Kaiser Wilhelm and called upon Whitelaw Reid to respond. Mr. Reid spoke and then Mr. Ridder made a speech.

Prince Henry was then introduced. As he stood up the crowd burst into song. "Hoch, Soll er Leben Mal, Hoch." After that they sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." Before beginning his speech the prince said: "This is the largest interview I ever had. He then said:

Speech of the Prince.

"Mr. Toastmaster and gentlemen: I am fully aware of the fact that I am the guest and in the presence of the representatives of the press of the United States, and particularly the guest of the United States Zeitung, both of which I wish to thank for the kind invitation and reception I have met with tonight.

"Before entering into details, I should like all of you to understand that I consider this meeting, though it may be looked upon as official, as a private one, and that it is my wish that none of you will take advantage of what is said or spoken after leaving this table.

"Undoubtedly the press of our day is a factor, if not a power, which may

people are lacking in nervous strength. The weak, care-worn, melancholy, headachy, and low-spirited men and women are easily excited, impatient, fidgety, and unable to sleep at night. Worn-out nerves must be built up, and the vitality of the whole system replenished before relief can come.

"The least bit of noise or sudden jar would nearly drive me crazy, and I was just too fidgety for anything. I was so nervous that I could not rest or sleep. The first dose of Dr. Miles' Nervine brought me sleep, and after that I got well fast."

By Rev. CHARLES M. SHELDON, Author of "In His Steps"

If the Golden Rule were to be applied at once by a great many corporations or firms or individuals, the immediate result would no doubt be a vast loss financially or at least a vast change to methods so diametrically opposed to the present methods that a crisis of some kind would follow; BUT THE GOLDEN RULE WOULD WORK JUST THE SAME, AND IN THE READJUSTMENT OF CONDUCT ON THAT BASIS THE ULTIMATE RESULT WOULD BE MORE MONEY, MORE POWER, MORE REAL SUCCESS THAN THE WORLD HAS EVER KNOWN.

Will the Golden Rule work in daily life? It certainly will, and all that is necessary to prove it is that we put it to work without waiting for any one else, without waiting for the millennium to come first.

The Golden Rule is not applied to the Sunday traffic of the railroads, and the Christian men in our churches who are stockholders, directors and officers have a Christian duty to perform toward their brothers who are engaged in the work of the road which brings them revenue.

The ministry of this country has not done its duty unless it has presented to men in the churches who have authority and influence the opportunities for putting Christianity into the great corporate life of the industrial world.

Work among the children in the Sunday schools is foundation work in this direction. The average minister would say probably that not one man in a hundred in his congregation would put the Golden Rule literally to the test in every detail. Then the real hope of Christ's rule in daily life for the future resides in our children.

IT IS EASIER TO MOLD PLASTIC CLAY THAN TO MAKE A DENT ON THE HARDENED ROCK.

The pastor ought to gather together the children in his Sunday school or the young people in his young people's societies for definite catechetical instruction on the stewardship of life. This is sowing seed. Somebody will reap the harvest of it.

The world needs to be taught that selfishness does not result in success. It needs to be taught that love literally and lavishly employed in business, politics, society, education, journalism—everything—pays an individual, a community or a nation more than the exercise of any kind of selfishness.

not be neglected and which I should like to compare with ever so many submarine mines which blow up in many cases in the most unexpected manner, but your own naval history teaches us not to mind mines, should they ever be in our way. The language used on this memorable occasion was stronger than I would venture to reproduce here tonight. I need only mention the name of Faragut. Another comparison might be more to your taste, gentlemen, and is, in fact, more complimentary; it is one which his majesty, the emperor, used before I left. He said, "You will meet many members of the press, and I wish you therefore to keep in mind that the press men in the United States rank almost with my generals in command."

Explained His Mission.

"It will interest you, I know, to learn something about the nature of my mission to this country. The facts are as follows: His majesty, the emperor, has minutely studied the recent and rapid development of the United States, and his majesty is well aware of the fact that yours is a fast moving nation. His sending me to this country may therefore be looked upon as an act of friendship and courtesy, with the one desire of promoting friendlier relations between Germany and the United States. Should you be willing to grasp a proffered hand you will find such a one on the other side of the Atlantic ocean."

At the end of the speech the prince was heartily applauded.

Mr. Ridder at this point introduced Charles Emory Smith, saying that Mr. Smith had been a minister of state, a great editor, and is known as the silver-tongued orator of the press of America. Mr. Smith then spoke.

Following Mr. Smith came Charles W. Knapp, who was introduced in a few appropriate words by Mr. Ridder. Mr. Knapp made an address.

Prince Henry, preceding the press dinner, visited the Arion society.

The prince entered the main entrance of the Arion society's hall, on Park avenue, accompanied by Ambassador Von Holleben, Vice Admiral von Tirpitz, Admiral Count von Baudissin, Admiral Evans, and Colonel Bingham, Adjutant General Corbin, Commander Cowles and Assistant Secretary of State Hill. There he was met by a committee of the club, headed by President Frank von Briesen, who extended a cordial welcome. Prince Henry replied briefly in German that it gave him great pleasure to find himself in the house of a German society and to be afforded the opportunity of witnessing the parade of the German societies from its balcony.

The prince was then escorted to the large hall upstairs, where he was greeted by Dr. Louis Weyland and the committee of the German-American

Witnessed Parade of Germans.

The imperial party was then escorted to the beautifully decorated balcony of the club, where they were joined by Mayor Low, Admiral von Tirpitz, Admiral von Baudissin, Ambassador von Holleben, Consul General Buenz, Admiral Evans and Dr. Weyland. The procession, which had started immediately, commanded the attention of the prince, who seemed immensely pleased and impressed with the spectacle. Toward the close of the procession the prince was greeted by a delegation of Columbia college students on the street, who gave their college yell several times.

All the leaders of Wall street were present at the luncheon in the prince's honor at Sherry's at noon yesterday. The tables were spread in the ball room of the third floor. To the prince and his party was assigned a square table at one side of the room, the others being arranged around it in crescent form. Fish nets were artistically draped from the ceiling, intertwined with smilax and American beauty roses, while the corridor was wafted the warblings of a hundred canary birds hung in cages among the foliage. Miniature electric lights in red shed a soft glow over the scene.

Among the guests besides Prince Henry and his suite and escort were: Mayor Seth Low, Lieutenant Governor Timothy Woodruff, J. P. Morgan, Charles M. Schwab, Gustav Schwab, William H. Cramp, Abram S. Hewitt, J. Ogden Armour, D. O. Mills, H. O. Havemeyer, ex-Attorney General Griggs, J. O. Mills, Alexander G. Bell, Nathan Strauss, Adolphus Busch, George Gould, J. E. Simmons, E. J. editors who dined with Prince Henry last night as guests of Herman Ridder sent a cablegram of greeting to the Kaiser Wilhelm. It was submitted by Melville E. Stone and, after cordial endorsement by the guests, was forwarded. It read as follows: "To the German emperor:

"The editors of the daily newspapers of the United States, one thousand in number, in honor of your illustrious brother, send you cordial greetings and all good wishes for a long and prosperous reign. We hail the presence of Prince Henry in this country as an omen of even closer ties of amity, and heartily reciprocate all of the splendid and repeated overtures of friendship you have been graciously pleased to extend.

THE EMPEROR PLEASED.

Expressed Pleasure at Reception Tendered to Prince.

Berlin, Feb. 27.—The details of the movements of Prince Henry and the courtesies shown him in the United States continue to be followed here with extraordinary interest, and the pleasure of Emperor William at the reception tendered his brother has been freely expressed to members of the royal household.

In official circles it is considered that the emperor has personally accomplished, by sending Prince Henry to the United States, what it would have taken years to do otherwise.

An inspired statement has been published by the German press with double leads. It says:

"The highest political circles are immensely pleased at the excellent course, up to the present time, of Prince Henry's visit. The conviction is entertained that these festive days will substantially contribute toward rendering the relations of the two countries permanently friendly, and especial delight is expressed at the cordiality of the personal intercourse between President Roosevelt and Prince Henry."

Blood Wine Can be Sampled at Drug Stores Without Cost.

Remarkably Popular Remedy Commends Itself to Prominent Citizens.

In this age of competition it is well to be able to discriminate between the good and the bad of everything. It does not do to judge too much by appearances, for everything that glistens is not necessarily gold, or even silver, but in a great many instances simply old tin, polished up. It is hard to be mistaken when one first has an opportunity to make a thorough investigation and sample an article free of charge, before buying. This is the way the Louis Daudelin Co., of Worcester, Mass., have placed upon the market their celebrated French medical compound, "Blood Wine," and their earnest request is that everyone in ill health, to whose case their remedy is suited, shall take advantage of the privilege and satisfy himself that there are no misrepresentations, no extravagant promises, no misleading quotations and no false testimonials. The Daudelin people enjoy the respect and friendship of Massachusetts citizens and wherever else that they are known, and it is their desire to push this feeling of confidence and esteem to the four corners of the globe. Consequently "Blood Wine" bears the imprint of honor throughout.

In order that everyone may know exactly what he is buying and know just what to expect from every bottle of "Blood Wine," it is sold to every druggist with the understanding that he shall provide everyone calling, with a free sample. This enables you to test and investigate right here at home the workings of this remedy.

"Blood Wine" cures disease by beginning at the very foundation of the trouble. It undermines disease as readily as disease overcomes the normal conditions of the system. To cure any kind of disease it is necessary to commence on the vital fluid of the body—the blood. Any physician will tell you that the mortal never lived into whose flesh the germs of disease could creep when healthy blood flowed through the veins. Sores on the body, pimples and blotches are produced in the same way that sores on the lungs or in the kidneys or any other part of the body are brought on. What is consumption? Nothing but a sore, a pus-emitting, discharging sore, or mass of sores, which if you could see would remind you of any kind of disgusting sore. What causes it and what will cure it? The blood.

An impoverished, unhealthy corpuscleless blood produces all the ills that flesh is heir to. A rich, thick, healthy, active blood will cure them.

"That disease in the family has been handed down from generation to generation—it's in the blood," you hear people say and it's true.

If you don't rid yourself of a disease, you surely do hand it down to your children and grandchildren. "Blood Wine" has a wonderful medicinal character.

When you take it, it seems to pass immediately from the stomach to the blood. It mingles all through the veins and into the most remote parts of the body.

It searches out disease and heals a sore no matter whether outside or inside. It cures coughs, colds and consumption (excepting when the latter is in the most advanced stage). It cures kidney troubles. It puts them in a healthy condition, thus enabling them to do their work. It takes the pains out of your back, the lameness from your sides and feet. It cures stomach troubles and indigestion. When a person has difficulty in retaining the food, when he has nausea and vomiting after meals, when the bowels become sluggish and move only spasmodically, then unsatisfactorily, and the mouth is sticky, the saliva thick and the breath bad,—then is the time to take "Blood Wine" and receive almost instantaneous results. Women who need strength, who find difficulty in doing their housework, who feel all dragged out, whose cheeks are colorless and whose anemic appearance bespeaks the absence of the healthy blood, will find "Blood Wine" a positive, never-failing cure. Rheumatism, muscular and articular, and all forms of neuralgia, shooting, darting pains, dull aches, that double the fingers and twist and bulge the joints will be relieved by the prompt use of "Blood Wine." When you take this remedy you get right at the roots of the evil and become cured to stay cured. Probably no medicine ever sold has had as many enthusiastic admirers as "Blood Wine."

We ask you to write to anyone of them, make a personal investigation, ascertain for yourself that all said about "Blood Wine" is true.

"I find 'Blood Wine' a most remarkable medicine. It has cured me of a serious attack of nervous prostration that I thought would end my life and it has made me a strong healthy woman."—Mrs. A. B. Horton, Providence, R. I.

Anyone can take "Blood Wine." It's just as pleasant and palatable as a summer drink. No one would ever know from its innocent taste that it was such a powerfully aggressive opponent of disease. It contains no wine, no injurious drugs or opiates.

"As a never failing remedy for lung troubles, coughs, colds and catarrh I can truly say that 'Blood Wine' is the most reliable medicine I have ever tried. I say 'never failing' because I have yet to find the first case that it hasn't benefited."—B. A. Andrews, M. D., Beaumont, Boston, Mass.

"Blood Wine" costs fifty cents a bottle, but you can sample it free of charge at Will Reed's and Hodson's drug stores.

At the recent meeting of the city council, attention was called to the necessity of having safety fenders on the street cars, and it was decided to have an ordinance on the subject prepared. Such an ordinance should be passed promptly. The street cars have been making a terrible record in the past few months. Although there is no evidence that the railway employees have been at fault, some of the fatalities which have been so numerous could doubtless have been prevented had the cars which struck the unfortunates been equipped with life-saving fenders. Some people will be careless, and some will get drunk and walk the street car tracks, but neither of these facts is any reason why they should be killed. If the saying of even one human life can be effected by the use of fenders, then they should be used. That these devices are a protection is universally admitted where they have been tested. It was stated at the council meeting that there was no state law requiring traction companies to equip their cars with fenders. If this be the case, it is a fact not creditable to the Ohio legislature, and that body should proceed at once to remedy the defect in the laws. Meantime the East Liverpool council can do its part toward preventing unnecessary slaughter. It is highly probable that the street railway people may object, on account of the expense. Such objections should have no weight with human life in the scale. And if the railway managers would look to their own interests, they would see that car fenders are cheaper than damage suits and the payment of death claims. No street car should be suffered to run for an hour that is not provided with every possible device to prevent accidents. By all means let the city have a fender ordinance and see that it is enforced.

The folly of a practice prevalent in East Liverpool of laying brick sidewalks in the mud is now apparent in many sections of the city. Sidewalks, the purpose of which ought to be to enable pedestrians to keep out of the mud, are so sunken or covered with dirt as to be not only an inconvenience, but a positive danger to those who try to walk upon them. The passerby can feel them settle under his feet; bricks are standing on end, and the walks are utterly useless for the purpose for which they are intended. This condition of affairs prevails to a greater or less extent each spring; this season it is far worse than usual. We are supposed to have a system of street inspection, but it is evident that it has not prevented work in the pavement line that would be a discredit to the merest amateur. Steps should be taken promptly to remedy existing defects, and more important still, to guard against them in the future.

About the most cheerful sight witnessed on the streets of East Liverpool for some days is the appearance of the street cleaning department on the business streets, removing many weeks' accumulation of dirt and mud. There is work for a full force for a long time, not only on the principal thoroughfares, but on side streets and alleys—especially on the latter. The spring cleaning should be thorough, and after it is accomplished, the city should be kept clean. The work is expensive, but it is also important. It is cheaper to pay for systematic and constant cleaning than to run the risk of an epidemic of disease—and that, as everyone knows, is just what dirty streets invite.

Both branches of congress will practically suspend business and devote the day to services in memory of the late president, William Mc-

Kinley. The voice of factionalism will be hushed and the chief men of the nation will unite in an impressive tribute to one who, though gone from among them, has left an influence that will long be potent in shaping the affairs of the nation. It is well for congress to pause from debate and devote one day's session to considering the life and works of William McKinley. In these it will find lofty ideals, honest inspiration and true patriotism.

The primary election contest is interesting as well as important. No Republican should overlook his plain duty, which is to vote for the men whom he considers best fitted for the offices to be filled.

Too many safeguards for ensuring the purity of the primaries cannot be provided. The Republican central committee is to be commended for the steps it has taken to guard against possible fraud.

President Roosevelt has probably lastingly impressed upon the so-called mind of Judge Noyes that public office is not a private snap.

David B. Hill is a shrewd Democrat. He sees no hope for his party as long as it considers Bryanism the paramount issue.

Silence would best become Tillman, but he keeps on talking. Becoming conductor and Tillman are total strangers.

May the "white wings" never grow weary as long as a dirty street remains uncleaned.

A HUMAN FOREST.

How Indian Tribesmen Succeed in Escaping the Police.

Some of the Indian tribes over which we rule give us a great deal of trouble, notably the Mahsuds. The Mahsuds, however, are not by any means the worst of the Indian robber tribes, the unenviable distinction probably falling to the Bhils, who are the cleverest scoundrels in the world, both in their methods of acquiring other people's property and in evading pursuit.

They are very proud of their skill in pilfering and openly boast of it. One of them once told a British officer that he could steal the blanket from under him and was promptly challenged to show his ability. That night when the officer was fast asleep the Bhil robber cut a hole in his tent, crept noiselessly in and gently tickled the hands and feet of the sleeping man. The officer stirred uneasily and turned over. In this way the Bhil was able to pull the blanket out a little way. By repeating his performance he finally succeeded in "coaxing" the blanket completely from under the sleeper.

When engaged in his nefarious little games, the Bhil wears hardly any clothing, and his little body is rubbed with oil to facilitate escape from any would be captors. When hotly pursued by the British troops, the robbers make use of a very clever device. They conceal their scant clothing under their small round shields and scatter them about to resemble stones or bowlders; then, picking up a few twigs—if there are any to be had—they assume all sorts of grotesque attitudes, their almost fleshless limbs silhouetted against the dark night sky closely resembling the charred limbs of a tree. Absolutely motionless, they hold their positions till the enemy has passed them.

In this way a British subaltern in charge of a party sent to capture some Bhils was considerably startled one evening. The pursuit had completely lost sight of the robbers, and finally the party drew rein by a clump of gnarled and bent tree trunks, tired and hot from their hard exertions. The officer in charge took off his hat and placed it on the end of a broken limb, when instantly there was a wild scream of laughter, and the tree trunks suddenly came to life and vanished in the darkness.—London Express.

POTTERY NEWS

When the News Review last week told of the combine formed by certain manufacturers of Trenton, the announcement was looked upon with a degree of uneasiness. A local paper for two days thereafter rehearsed the same story. The first and only reliable news of the combination was given in these columns.

"It is not my intention to cut prices or to do anything that will in any way injure the trade," said President A. M. Mareland of the American potteries to the News Review yesterday. "We have a large number of orders on hand and our plants will be kept in steady operation. The ware is to be sold at prices which will permit us to make a profit. Instead of degrading a trade or business it is well for every business man to elevate it as much as possible. It has been rumored that price cutting has been indulged in here for some time, but the report cannot be verified."

At a recent meeting of the Cone Fire Clay company, many of the stockholders of which reside in this city, it was decided to sell their buildings and other property in Salineville to the Salineville Electric Light company, and to make their goods in this city. A test of certain clays in this section is now being made as to its adaptability to chimney tops. If it proves satisfactory the concern will produce its goods here by the East Liverpool Sagger company.

While it has been rumored in this city for the past month that a new pottery will be built here during the summer, there is now every reason to believe that nothing of the kind will be done. With the announcement that the American Potteries company, of Trenton, has formed an alliance with the Union Potteries company, of this city and Pittsburgh, it has been learned that no independent factory will be built. It has been stated that the Union company expected to build a new plant, or at least, consider the advisability of enlarging the Union. While the company has some plans in view, which have been made known to certain parties, the matter has not progressed far enough to present to the public.

All arrangements for the association football game to be played between teams from Laughlin No. 2 and the Buckeye have been completed. The game will be played at Rock Springs park on the afternoon of March 8, and will be for a purse of $100 a side. Mr. Simpson, an engraver at the K. T. & K. will referee the game.

Kilnmen's local No. 9 will meet tomorrow evening in Brotherhood hall, when nominations for convention delegates will be opened. The local is still anxious to send the full quota of representatives, 10 in number, and the election, which will be held next week, promises to be spirited.

Charles DeBee, formerly of this city, now of Sebring, was in the city yesterday securing a crew of men to work in the kiln department of the Shenango pottery at New Castle. Eight men are needed. The glist crew at the plant will start next Monday week, and will make eight kilns a day.

Printers at the National have been compelled to work nights during the past week, owing to a rush of orders for a certain class of ware. The new printing presses to be installed in the decorating shop have been ordered and will be set up in a short time.

Kilndrawers' local No. 17 will not elect delegates to the Trenton convention Saturday evening, as stated in a local paper last week. In fact, the first nominations have not been made, but this will be done Saturday evening.

In the past the Smith & Phillips has been making three biscuit and four glist kilns a day, but now six glist kilns will be turned out every two weeks. Quite a large amount of decorated ware is being sent out by this firm.

Scott Campbell, who has been employed as a warehouseman at the Union, has taken a position at Canonsburg.

Miss Etta Beck, a filler in at the National, has been unable to work for several days on account of sore eyes.

Frank Woodburn left yesterday afternoon for Salem, where he will remain several days visiting friends.

John Mountford, late of the Sebring company, has taken a position with the National as glider.

Two car load orders have been sent out by the Smith & Phillips this week.

Joe Duke has taken a position as presser at the Laughlin No. 2.

Frank W. Fowler, vice president of the Union Potteries company, was in the city today.

G. A. Smith has taken a position as frame filler at the Klondike.

Miss Blanche Dorman is a new filler in at the National.

FRILLS OF FASHION.

Fashion appears to have fully decided that the severe habit back skirt shall be included among the season's most favored modes.

There are this season a great many new varieties of the Louis XIV, and Louis XV. coats, which in some guise remain ever in fashion.

White marabou boas are in marked vogue for evening wear. These are one of many styles, however. Tours de cou are seen in all tints and tones.

Cramoisi is the shade of red now the rage among Paris attelers both for effective accessories in dress and millinery and for gowns and wraps entire.

WELLSVILLE

Wellsville Won, But Only By Strenuous Execution—The Score.

The warmest series of bowling games ever witnessed at the Arlington alleys occurred last evening, when a team composed of Alliance, Sebring and Salem met defeat at the hands of Captain Shingler's bowlers. The visitors lost two out of the three games played by 101 pins. Not until the last man on each side had finished was it possible for any one to determine the result.

The first game passed off smoothly with victory for the home team. It scoring 61 pins more than the visitors. The second game was won by the visitors, but by a narrow margin—28 pins.

The third resulted in the same manner as the first, the visitors losing by 68 pins.

The only recognizable feature of the series was the excellent playing of Willet Aten in the last game. The visitors in the sixth frame had the home team badly beaten and it looked very much as if defeat for Shingler's men would be the result when Aten came to the rescue. He made five successive strikes and a spare, scoring a total of 222 pins.

The visiting team died hard. It realized that it was made up of the best talent in three cities and that defeat meant humiliation, as indeed it did. No team ever displayed more visibly the suffering following defeat than did this one.

A banquet was served the team at the Hotel Metropole, but it had little effect upon the men. They were morose and anything but talkative. However, they were somewhat consoled when the home team promised to make a return date at Alliance next week.

The individual scores: Shingler's team—Shingler, 161, 160, 162; Hall, 182, 151, 135; Aten, 143, 154, 222; Harsha, 151, 134, 171; Karr, 156, 190, 163. The visiting aggregation—Householder, 148, 175, 165; Smith, 143, 167, 169; Schmitz, 144, 115, 119; James, 171, 162, 164; Millburn, 126, 198, 168.

BOY SEVERELY BURNED

Young Son of Benjamin Ziner the Victim of a Distressing Accident.

Edwin Ziner, a young son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Ziner, Short street, was the victim of a most distressing accident yesterday. The child was sitting at the dinner table when his little sister, who was returning from the kitchen with a bowl of gravy in her hands, tripped and fell, allowing the boiling contents of the bowl to strike her brother in the face, shoulder and breast.

Until a physician arrived the boy suffered excruciating pain. His face may be permanently disfigured.

FOOT CRUSHED

Harry Hoover Struck By a Large Piece of Iron With Serious Results.

While attempting to move a large piece of iron in the Carroll Porter boiler works, Harry Hoover met with a painful accident. He had raised the iron several feet when it slipped from his grasp and fell. The entire weight of the metal struck his right foot, mashing it into a pulp.

As a result he will be laid up for weeks. He is a single man and lives in the West End.

Interment was made in the family lot, Spring Hill cemetery.

ACRES OF ICE CONE

The Gorge Opposite the Depot Quietly Moved Out Yesterday.

The several acres of ice, gorged on the bar in the river opposite the depot, broke loose yesterday at 4:45 o'clock and the old residents say that never before did a gorge pass away from this bar in a more quiet and less destructive manner.

It was feared by many that the ice would break with a rush and consequently cause much damage to craft made fast along the bank. Their fears proved to be uncalled for, as scarcely any damage was done.

A large crowd was attracted to the river bank by the break and all expressed themselves as being happy over the result.

Lost Her Foot.

As the result of an operation Miss Nancy Hays, of Summitville, suffered the loss of a foot Tuesday. Nearly two years ago she had her foot mangled by a cow stepping on it. She has relatives and many friends in this city, all of whom regret her misfortune.

Many sorrowing friends attended the funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Mann, which was held in the Evangelical church this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The religious services were conducted by Rev. W. A. Vandersall. Burial was made in Spring Hill cemetery.

HER FACE HER FORTUNE.

Why One Girl Got a Good Paying and Easy Position.

She was a sweet looking girl, with as fair a pink and white complexion as woman ever desired, and was chatting with one of her own sex on a Staten Island ferryboat, while I was seated so near that I could not help hearing. Several times my truant eyes deserted my paper and stole a glance at the face that was so attractive.

"It was the luckiest thing that ever happened to me," she said to her companion, "when I went into that Fifth avenue store just to buy a comb. How little I thought that I would be working there at greater wages than I had ever hoped to earn! I hesitated about going in, because I feared the prices would be too high, but I did go in and came out with a comb without paying a cent for it. And, better than all, I had been engaged to begin the next Monday as a saleswoman."

"I was nearly discouraged before that, for I was getting only $4 a week, and we were awfully pinched at home, but my luck changed on that day, and it was Friday too. Fortunately for me, the store was crowded when I went in, and the proprietor left his desk that stands in a little raised off corner and came to wait on me. I noticed that he looked very sharply at me, but not at all in an impudent manner."

"Pardon me, miss," he said, "but I am looking for a young lady to assist me in the store here, and if your circumstances are such that you would care for the place I would like to have you consider it."

"I was wonderfully surprised, but thanked him, saying that I knew nothing about the business."

"That doesn't matter," he replied. "You can soon learn it. To be frank, I would like to have you on account of your complexion. You know we sell all sorts of goods for the complexion and articles for beautifying, and your face would do more to make sales than all of the arguments and representations that could be made."

"Well, the result was that I got a fine place, with easy work, at $15 a week. My hours are short, and I simply play the agreeable while selling goods at an immense profit. I wouldn't let any of the concoctions touch my face for anything, but the customers appear to be impressed by my complexion, and the proprietor is satisfied. So am I."—New York Herald.

STRONG OPPOSITION

To the Proposition to Give S. B. Goucher a Ferry Franchise.

The county court at New Cumberland has not yet granted Samuel B. Goucher the franchise by which he can operate his new ferryboat between Congo and Wellsville. It was expected that the franchise would be granted this week, but thus far no action has been taken.

It is said that Watson Johnson, the man from whom the franchise was taken by the court several weeks ago, has employed two prominent attorneys to defend him in a restraining order to be appealed for. He claims that he owns the bank and consequently the landing which extends along the entire town of Congo, and that Goucher cannot establish a landing place without getting his consent, and this he is determined not to give.

Goucher will also have trouble in securing a landing on the Ohio side. Attorney Lones, of Wellsville, has stated that he will file an injunction against him upon the first landing of the boat.

NEW NAME WANTED

People of New Cumberland Propose Another Title for the County Seat Town.

In the court house at New Cumberland Monday night there was a mass meeting held for the purpose of formulating plans for steps to be taken in regard to having the name of New Cumberland changed, which question has been agitated for over a year. There were about 100 men present at the meeting and they decided to urge the matter consistently. A committee was appointed to determine definitely the proceedings which will have to be followed and was requested to make a report at the next meeting.

The following names were suggested as being a suitable substitute for the town: Cumberland, Claymont, Troy and Moreland.

MILL INSPECTION

Steel Trust Men in Chester Presumably for That Purpose.

Upon the early train this morning a contingent of men arrived in Chester and immediately made their way to the tin mills. They were said to be from New York city and to be inspectors, sent by the steel trust, which has headquarters in that city. It is customary for the trust to have each mill controlled by it thoroughly inspected twice a year, and it is thought this was their mission. Nothing definite could be learned.

THE JAPAN CURRENT.

Kuro Siwo Piles Great Loads of Driftwood on Alaska's Shores.

In one sense the Kuro Siwo, or Japan Current, is the most interesting in the world because many oceanographers believe it was the direct means of peopling America. This much at least is certain: If a boat were to be set adrift on parts of the Asiatic coast and survived all storms, the Japan current could be depended upon to carry it across the Pacific and deposit it on the American shore. Such a thing has happened. In 1832 nine Japanese fishermen were left derelict and unable to find their way back to shore. They went with the current, and after a drift lasting during several months they were carried to Hawaii.

Trees torn by storms from the banks of Asiatic rivers frequently float across the Pacific to the American coast. Between Kakatag and Kyak islands, enormous piles of this driftwood cover the beaches. There can be no question of the Asiatic origin of the timber. They are the trunks of the camphor tree, the mango and the mahogany. Logs 150 feet long and eight feet in diameter are frequently found. Many of them are seen floating shoreward, with fantastic roots standing high above the waves. In places the logs are piled twenty feet high. They are generally without bark, which has been peeled off by the waves, and most of them have become white and heavy from impregnation with salt water. As they pile up the sands drift over them, and gradually they sink out of sight, and new beaches are formed. This process has been going on for ages, and the shore line is being steadily extended. Excavations along the beach show that texture of the buried timber gets harder and harder the farther in you go, until in some instances petrification has taken place. Other excavations show logs that have turned to coal.

The presence of Siberian driftwood on the shores of Greenland convinced Nansen that his idea of drifting across the Polar sea in the Fram was logical. Great quantities of the wood are annually cast on the coasts of Spitzbergen and Nova Zembla, and there are tribes of Greenland Eskimos who depend for sledge runners and other wooden implements on the drift from Siberian forests. For years they depended for iron implements on the hoops of casks which came to them over seas.—Theodore Waters in Ainslee's.

Does It Pay to Buy Cheap?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the most severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible. If not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Bosch's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. You can get Dr. G. G. Green's reliable remedies at Charles F. Craig's, Foutts Bldg., East Liverpool, O.

Mushrooms Are Filling.

One virtue of the mushroom that oftentimes is not realized by its champions even is its nutritive qualities, for it is often considered fit only for a sauce or a side dish. Recently I ate dinner with a friend who is a bon vivant and gifted with an abnormally large appetite. To my surprise, he ordered nothing but mushrooms, bread and butter and, of course, drinkables. We had mushrooms raw, stewed, fried and broiled on toast. It was my first experience, but I found them excellent. I certainly thought they would not "stay by me," but, to my surprise, for many hours afterward I had as complete a sense of fullness as rare roast beef or juicy steak ever imparted.—New York Telegram.

The Congressional Record.

To appreciate the value of The Congressional Record one must see it used. It is the only means by which members themselves keep informed of the progress of legislation when scores of measures are often considered in a day. It is on the desk of the president of the United States and is read by every executive officer, from cabinet to chief of division. Every government in the world envies ours the possession of such a publication, forming at once an indispensable current record and a permanent history of events even more valuable through the centuries.—Argonaut.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS

Young Christians Gathered at the Convention, in Toronto, Canada.

INCREASED MISSIONARY SPIRIT

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 27.—Nearly 3,500 delegates to the student volunteer movement convention reached the city yesterday. Others were delayed. The result of the convention, it is expected, will be twofold: The increasing of the missionary spirit and the tightening of the bond which unites the young people of the United States and Canada.

The formal opening took place late yesterday afternoon at Massey hall. Mr. John H. Mott, chairman of the executive committee, took charge of the meeting. Addresses of welcome were delivered by the bishop of Toronto, Dr. Sweetnam, Dr. Cavan, principal of Knox Presbyterian college, Toronto, and Rev. John Potts, D. D., educational secretary of the Methodist church in Canada.

These were replied to by John B. Mott.

Rev. J. Ross Stevenson, of Chicago, spoke on the responsibility of every Christian for extending the gospel.

The Metropolitan Methodist church, one of the largest in the city, was crowded with a parallel meeting, which was addressed by Bishop Thoburn, of India, and Dr. Jones, of India. Dr. Luther D. Wishard, of New York, presided.

$10,000 FOR JAPAN MISSION.

Methodist Protestants Ask It—Need Two More Men in That Field.

Pittsburg, Feb. 27.—The board of foreign missions of the Methodist Protestant church met yesterday morning in the church parlors of the book rooms, 422 Fifth avenue, to consider appropriations for mission purposes for the coming year. Representatives of conferences from six different states were present, including Rev. W. L. Wells, president of West Lafayette college, West Lafayette, O.; Rev. T. H. Lewis, president of Western Maryland college, Westminster, Md.; Rev. F. C. Klein, Newark, N. J.; Rev. T. J. Ogburn, traveling secretary, Summerville, N. C.; and G. G. Brierly, Beaver Falls, Pa. Rev. Dr. W. L. Wells presided and U. S. Fleming, of Parkersburg, was secretary.

The special business before the board at yesterday's meeting was the appropriation of money for the support of the 20 missionaries now at work in Japan. This is the special field of the Methodist Protestant church. About $10,000 was recommended for their support, and the churches will be asked to contribute this amount. Special mention was made of the work of Rev. Dr. U. G. Murphy.

The board will ask the church for two new missionaries. The board will meet again in the same place in May and prepare for the meeting of the general conference.

HUNG FOR BURGLARY AT NIGHT.

Two Executed—Sentences of Two Others Were Commuted.

Asheville, N. C. Feb. 27.—Dudley Johnson, white, and Ben Foster colored, were hanged here yesterday at 12:30 for burglary. The bodies were given a church burial during yesterday afternoon.

Burglary at night in North Carolina is a capital offense.

Four men conspired to rob the combined postoffice and store kept by Samuel Alexander, at Emma, a hamlet a few miles distance from Asheville, on the night of Feb. 1, 1901. Alexander was called to the door under pretext of buying groceries and at the point of a revolver was searched and disarmed. He was then forced to open the safe.

Dudley Johnson and Ben Foster were inside the store and Russell Gates and Harry Mills were guarding the outside. Johnson was holding a revolver at Alexander's head while his attention was attracted momentarily. Like a flash Alexander seized the revolver and snapped it.

America Is In Line

England and Japan

By United States Senator SHELBY M. CULLOM, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations

THE alliance between England and Japan to protect the territorial integrity of China and Korea I regard as a formal adoption of the policy of the United States in connection with the eastern question.

IT IS RIGHT IN LINE WITH THE POLICY OF THE UNITED STATES SET FORTH IN THE HAY NOTE TO THE POWERS OF JUNE 3, 1900, IN WHICH THE POSITION OF THE UNITED STATES WAS FAIRLY, FRANKLY AND FIRMLY SET FORTH.

While we are not permitted under our form of government to form alliances of this kind with foreign powers, we are permitted to announce our declaration of principles on questions as they arise. If other powers see the wisdom of adopting our suggestions and carry out the European custom of forming alliances of offense and defense, that is not our affair. IN THE PRESENT INSTANCE FEARS HAVE BEEN ENTERTAINED THAT CERTAIN POWERS WERE LOOKING WITH LUSTFUL EYES UPON CERTAIN TERRITORY IN THE FAR EAST. SUCH A TAKING OVER OF TERRITORY MIGHT BE INJURIOUS TO AMERICAN INTERESTS, COMMERCIAL AND OTHERWISE. At an opportune moment our secretary of state saw the wisdom of taking a firm stand in behalf of American interests without violating any of the fixed principles of diplomatic intercourse and at the same time maintaining a dignified neutrality.

The attitude assumed by the United States was right and proper, as subsequent events demonstrated, and now, as a further vindication of our contention, England and Japan have formed a friendly alliance to prevent the division of China by designing powers. We do not propose to interfere or become involved in a foreign war, but we reserve the right to assert our rights and see that our interests are protected.

at Johnson. They grappled and it was not until Alexander had been shot twice and repeatedly stabbed that he lost consciousness.

Citizens were attracted by the shooting and the burglars ran. Later they were captured and removed to Charlotte for safe keeping. For weeks Alexander lingered at death's door. Meantime his fiancée went to him and they were married. The people made up a purse for them. The postmaster general wrote Alexander a personal letter, thanking him and expressing the highest admiration for his bravery.

The four men were convicted of burglary and condemned to die on Aug. 7. Governor Aycock was besieged with petitions for clemency from all parts of the United States, and finally a short time ago commuted the sentence of Gates and Mills to imprisonment for life.

POULTRY POINTERS.

A close, unventilated house is emphatically a foul house.

Ground or crushed bone is a good form in which to give lime.

The nests should be arranged so that the fowls can walk in on them.

Bran is a better feed for fowls than corn because it contains more nitrogen.

An excellent feed for young chicks is cracked or coarsely ground wheat for the first week.

A cock that fights and picks his mates every time they are fed is not a good breeder, and few of his hens' eggs will ever hatch.

Cane or sorghum seed can be fed to fowls to good advantage. It stimulates egg production and in many ways is good to use for variety.

For a good breeder select a rooster with plump, full breast, broad across the back, wide between the legs and that crows often, loud and long.

It is a good plan to mate up the fowls early, for occasionally one of the hens will want to sit during the winter, and it will be best to have the eggs ready.

Pig For Marriage Fee.

"A Lutheran minister in a western Maryland town told me an amusing story the other day," said a gentleman to a reporter. "Some time ago as this minister was walking along a street of the town an old German advanced toward him with extended hand. The minister shook hands, but remarked that he could not recall his name. 'Oh, yes,' said the old German, 'you remember me! I am the man who gave you a pig when you married me.'"

"The minister smiled as he recalled the incident, and as he was about to ask about the wife the old German said: 'Now I tell you what I'll do. When you married me, I gave you a pig, so I'll give you two pigs if you now unmarry me.'"

Looking Out For Papa.

A sweet little maid of four years was distressed the other evening because her father did not come home to dinner on time. Her grownup sister said to her:

"Papa is naughty, and when he comes we won't give him any tea."

When he did come, the sister sent the teapot out to the kitchen for fresh tea.

The baby looked on with a troubled face and stole softly to her own room. Shortly she returned with something squeezed up in her tiny fist. Going up to her sister, she whispered:

"Annie, I'll give you all my pennies if you'll give papa his tea."

And, opening her hand, she displayed all her carefully hoarded pennies.

New York Times.

HARD TO GET STARTED.

Things Which Overcome a Writer When Beginning an Article.

There is a feeling of timidity that oftentimes overcomes a writer when beginning an article. As in writing a letter, it is getting started that puzzles. It is the custom to begin with slow moving piston and work gradually into full speed until the flow of words is free, and then the difficulty with some of us is to find the brake valve. Again, a writer sometimes discovers that his beginning is a more fitting ending, and vice versa. The newspaper style is to throw general conclusions up strong under the headlines, while the sermonizer reserves them until his final climax.

Thackeray remarked once that he could never tell exactly what he was going to say until his pen was in hand and under motion and then did not fully realize just what he was saying until it was written. There is a subconsciousness that shapes writing as it does speaking. This, I know, disturbs some well known theories of speaking and writing—as to weighing everything and then measuring it out as a druggist compounds a prescription—but my observations are that the preparation is more in getting full of a subject and then letting the mind work free under the impulse of the dominating idea.

There are as many ways and methods in writing and speaking as there are individuals, and yet the fundamental law in the transmission of thought and speech runs largely in the same groove, whether it be the jargon of the Hottentot or the polished periods of the scholar. Human nature has its own primitive impulses that defy all rules of rhetoric and the power of expression—that is, the power, mind you—is deeper seated than any artificial formula of stylists.—National Magazine.

AN OPPORTUNITY

Many people would like to honor the memory of departed loved ones with a handsome monument, but the high prices demanded by the local monument dealers prevent them. We sell and deliver fine monuments or headstones at much lower prices than similar stones can be obtained for elsewhere. Most of our local monument dealers work by expensive hand methods, while our work is done by the most improved labor saving machinery. Machine work not only lessens the cost of the monument, but insures better results as the moldings, letters, etc., are cut much deeper and smoother than by hand and therefore show plainer.

The stone we use is the very best—will not rust, discolor or become streaked as most granites do.

We sell to monument dealers at wholesale and also sell direct to the individual buyer, delivering complete in the cemetery.

MCKINLEY'S VIRTUES.

Secty. Hay Orator at Memorial Services Held by Congress Today.

PRINCE HENRY ATTENDED.

President Roosevelt Also Present. Senate Committee Yesterday Failed to Solve Tillman-McLaurin Problem. Official's Warm Message.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Congress met in joint session in the hall of the house of representatives, about noon, where memorial services in honor of the late President McKinley were held. Secretary Hay was the orator of the occasion. Among those in attendance were President Roosevelt and Prince Henry, of Prussia.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Some time ago the secretary of the treasury received unofficial information to the effect that J. W. Ivey, collector of customs at Sitka, had instructed his deputy at Unalaska not to permit Canadian vessels presumably about to engage in pelagic sealing to obtain supplies at that port. The collector was directed to send a statement of the facts to the department, and was informed that if such orders had been given they must be rescinded. Yesterday the department received a telegram from Ivey, saying:

Hot Telegram to Department.

"My instructions were not against vessels engaged in alleged legal seal fishing, but against Canadian vessels actually engaged in pelagic sealing, which is illegal and criminal, when committed within the marine jurisdiction of the United States. If there is an ancient treaty between the United States and Great Britain by which British subjects can commit depredations, destroying American property, and depleting our revenue of tens of thousands of dollars annually, while our own citizens are denied these privileges, the sooner such treaty is abrogated the better. Your solicitude regarding international complications with Great Britain need cause you no uneasiness, as the poaching season is not yet opened. Your new collector will arrive in time to enforce your orders. My Americanism will not allow me to rescind an order which gives British subjects privileges within our marine jurisdiction which are denied our own people. There is another matter that may attract your attention.

Had Canadian Officers Expelled.

"I have recently issued orders to the deputy at Skagway, a copy of which has been sent you, which has put the Canadian officers located there out of business and sent them to their own territory. You are aware of the fact that this officer became so offensive that he interfered with American officers in the discharge of their official duties, opened United States customs mail, dominated over the railway officials, discriminated in the order of shipment in favor of Canadian merchandise against that shipped from Seattle, established a Canadian quarantine at Skagway, collected moneys and performed other acts of British sovereignty in a port of the United States, such as hoisting with bravado the cross of St. George from the flagstaff of his custom house.

Hot Shot at U. S. Officials.

Senate Held Brief Session.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Immediately after the chaplain had pronounced the invocation in the senate yesterday

DON'T OVERLOOK THIS

A Careful Perusal Will Prove Its Value to Every East Liverpool Reader.

The average man is a doubter, and there is little wonder that this is so. Misrepresentations make people skeptical. Now-a-days the public ask for better evidence than the testimony of strangers. Hear proof that should convince every East Liverpool reader.

Mr. Samuel Mayer, who is an employee of the McNeil pottery, whose place of residence is 183 Bank street, says: "My health was fairly good until my kidneys began to trouble me, causing my back to ache a good part of the time and to get sore and lame across the loins. The pain was often sharp and penetrating, especially when stooping or lifting, and I never got rid of the trouble until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. pharmacy and tried them. When I had taken one box the soreness and pains in the back and other symptoms of kidney distress passed away."

FIND THE YOUNG MAN.

Mr. Foraker, of Ohio, was recognized. He said that on account of the McKinley memorial exercises, which were to be held in the hall of the house of representatives at or about 12 o'clock today, he moved that when the senate adjourn yesterday it be until 11:45 a. m. today. The motion was agreed to. Mr. Burrows, of Michigan, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, was recognized. He said that the committee was in the midst of the consideration of a very important question, a decision upon which had not been reached. By instruction of the committee he therefore moved that the senate adjourn. Without objection the motion was carried and the senate adjourned.

Opposed by Superintendent Dinkey.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The proposed limitation of work to eight hours a day on government work was again before the labor committee of the house, with representatives of several large concerns doing government work appearing in opposition.

A. G. Dinkey, general superintendent of the Homestead Steel works, argued that the eight-hour limitation would be objectionable to employers and employes, and would seriously interfere with government work, if not make it impossible to do it. He concurred in the statement of Superintendent Johnston, of the Bethlehem works, that the success of some of the large armor plates depended upon longer shifts than eight hours. Mr. Dinkey also set forth the satisfactory conditions of labor at Homestead, under the present system.

Tawney Made a Correction.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The house yesterday sent the Philippine tariff bill to conference, non-concurring in all the senate amendments. The Democrats sought to amend the amendments by reducing the rate of duty and declaring the United States should relinquish all claim to the archipelago, but all propositions were defeated. Mr. Tawney, of Minnesota, made a personal explanation regarding Governor Toole, of Montana, saying that in formerly classing the governor as an opponent of Governor Van Sant in the railroad merger case he had been under a misapprehension.

Lentz-Tompkins Contest.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Arguments in the Lentz-Tompkins contested election case for the seat of the Columbus, O., district were continued before the house elections committee No. 2 yesterday, former Attorney General Monnett, of Ohio, concluding for Mr. Lentz and Mr. Tompkins replying with a general and detailed denial of the charges of irregularity at the polls.

Tillman-McLaurin Problem.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The meeting of the senate committee on privileges and elections yesterday did not result in supplying and solution of the difficulty that the senate is in connection with the Tillman-McLaurin matter.

AIMED BLOW AT THE PRESIDENT

Georgians Try to Get Back at Him For His Action Toward Senator Tillman.

Augusta, Ga., Feb. 27.—Lieutenant Governor James H. Tillman, who is in this city, says that yesterday, in deference to requests by wire from the subscribers to the fund for the sword alluded to, he telegraphed as follows to President Roosevelt:

"A short while ago I had the honor to address your excellency a letter requesting that on the occasion of your visit to Charleston, you present a sword to Major Micah Jenkins, of the First United States volunteer cavalry, of whose gallant services you spoke so highly, your words being engraved on the scabbard. You accepted the invitation, for which we thank you. I am now requested by contributors to the sword fund to ask that you withdraw said acceptance. (Signed) James H. Tillman.

"Late Colonel First South Carolina Volunteer Infantry and Lieutenant Governor South Carolina."

In explaining the sending of the telegram, Lieutenant Governor Tillman said:

"It is with much regret that I am directed, or rather required, to have sent the telegram I did, especially in view of the fact that I am so closely related to one who but a few days ago was subjected to an affront which was seemingly, or at least the people who contributed to the purchase of the sword think, unwarranted."

TEN MINUTES AT PITTSBURG.

Prince Henry's Visit Will Be Brief, but Reception Will Be Elaborate.

Pittsburg, Feb. 27.—According to the program arranged Prince Henry will receive an elaborate reception during the ten minutes he is a guest of Pittsburg Saturday morning. Chairman H. P. Ecker, of the committee in charge of the arrangements, has announced that all the members of the German committee will assemble at the Victoria hotel at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning, from which place the procession to the Union station will be started. A platoon of mounted police will head the procession. They will be followed by Duss' band, playing special music for the occasion. The remainder of the procession will include committees from both branches of council, the German reception committee, representatives from German societies from both cities and the allied singers. The printed and engrossed address prepared by Artist Carl Schöber will be presented to Prince Henry by Peter End.

Dr. Guy McCandless will make a short address of welcome in the absence of Recorder J. O. Brown, who cannot be present. "Die Wacht am Rhein" will then be sung by the choral union, led by Duss' band. The committee appointed by select council consists of John A. Murphy and J. H. Voskamp. That of common council is composed of George H. Wellinger, E. E. Seibert and E. G. Schwarzwelder. The German reception committee, of which Mr. Ecker is chairman, is made up of the following well-known citizens: Dr. B. B. Marheineke, Henry Heck, William Hasselman, Richard Klaus, E. T. Heinemann, Emil Winter, Adolph Steding, William Kleber, Henry Brandt, Victor Knoch, John P. Ober, John Dilling, Justus Mullert and Albert Bluthardt.

LEADING STOCKS SLUMBERED.

Obscure Ones Taken Up in Stock Market—Gold Engaged For Export.

New York, Feb. 27.—The proceedings in Wednesday's stock market were practically a repetition of those of the last few days. That is to say, the important railroad and industrial stocks of the largest capitalization, which usually take the lead in market movements, were allowed to slumber while various obscure and rarely active stocks were taken up one after another and pushed upward in more or less sensational movements. This order of things was varied in the last hour by a sharp raid on the part of the professional bears. The ostensible reason for their selling and offering down prices was the announcement of engagements of gold for export by today's steamer to the amount of $2,450,000. The advances in Wednesday's market were almost universally without explanation. In the case of the minor railroads they were based on a general assumption that absorption of these by the larger systems is manifest destiny. Of the more prominent stocks there was strength in Pennsylvania, the Erie, Wabash preferred and Illinois Central. Amalgamated Copper was active and irregular. Other stocks notably affected were the Colorado and Southern stocks, the Denver and Rio Grande stocks, Toledo, St. Louis and Western, the Wisconsin Central stocks, Chicago and Eastern Illinois, the Evansville and Terre Haute stocks, Chicago Great Western preferred A, the St. Joseph and Grand

A Thousand Million Suns.

Lord Kelvin once made some interesting calculations of the probable total amount of gravitation matter in the visible universe. He showed that if 25,000,000 years ago 1,000,000,000 masses, each equal to our sun, had been distributed through a sphere about 18,000,000,000,000 miles in radius they would now have acquired velocities about equal to those known to be possessed by the stars visible to us. Therefore it is probable that the total amount of gravitational matter in the visible universe does not differ much from that of 1,000,000,000 suns.

PLAIN QUESTIONS FOR FIFTH WARD

Voters Asked to Consider the Rapidly Growing Debt of the City.

TAXPAYERS' INTERESTS

Where Dr. Marshall Might Have Looked After Them, But Is Accused of Not Doing So—Can He Escape Responsibility?

Editor News Review: With much éclat Dr. R. J. Marshall proclaims himself for the fifth time a seeker after councilmanic honors at the hands of the voters of the Fifth ward. In his accustomed ostentatious manner he feigns great friendship for the man of limited means. Sirenlike he attempts to lull the voters into the belief that he will do all kinds of possible and impossible things for them only to forget his promises after election day. He professes to have looked after the interests of the taxpayers at all times, and so he has—the wealthy ones. I have known and taken great interest in the doctor for years, and always found him to be for himself first, last and all the time. Take for instance the matter of improving the hill road connecting the city proper with the East End.

The city engineer's estimate on the cost of this improvement was $9,000, the city's share of which was to be $185. Based on this estimate Dr. Marshall managed to induce council to pass the improving ordinance. And now what do we find the actual cost of the improvement to be? Thirty-two thousand dollars, of which amount only $25,000 can be levied against the property benefited, thus leaving $7,000 to be saddled on the city, provided all the assessments can be collected. But that is not all.

There are damage suits as a result of this improvement amounting to about $28,000, running the eventual cost of the improvement up to the stupendous sum of $60,000. And what are the returns for this price? How many of our working people in any part of the city are benefited by this vast expenditure of money? Less than one-half of this amount expended on the river road would mean money in the pockets of all classes—the working man and woman in the saving of car fares, etc. But that would not satisfy the doctor and his friends, for at that time the street railway company was opposed to the improvement of the river-road, the doctor was on very friendly terms with the management and carried out their wishes.

Here is another evidence of the doctor's extreme friendliness towards the poorer classes. The long list of assessments for Pennsylvania avenue improvements show Dr. Marshall's friends—those able to pay taxes—have all been very carefully "taken care" of. Permit me to cite but one case: Wm. C. Thompson is the owner of a bunch of lots along the line of improvement and is required to pay only $10 for each lot of 50 feet, while L. Gardner and Wm. H. Kinney adjoining are compelled to pay $20 each for the same number of feet frontage, or 100 per cent more than the former.

Instances of this kind are too numerous to be crowded into the limited space at my disposal. Two years ago the doctor was re-elected on the positive promise that he would give his hearty support to the improvement of the river road, but not one dollar has been expended on that dilapidated road since then, and never will be as long as he is in power. When Dr. Marshall entered city council eight years ago the bonded indebtedness of the city amounted to $280,000. It has now increased to $470,000—almost doubled in that time. Marshall more than any other man is responsible for this, for has he not been the leading spirit of the finance committee and council for over six years? Only recently it was necessary to sell bonds to the amount of $50,000 to relieve the floating indebtedness of the city, the banks having curtailed the credit of the city, even flatly refusing to honor the city's paper. Thus is Marshall's policy drifting East Liverpool toward bankruptcy.

Are your taxes and rents lower now than formerly? You all know what your taxes were last year. With Marshall back in council next year taxes will be higher, sure pop. In view of these facts is it not for the best interests of the city that the doctor should be retired this time and a friend of the workman put in his place? If there is no compensation in the office for the doctor, why is it he is after it so hard and so everlastingly?

WHY DOES THE DIVE KEEPER WANT MARSHALL DEFEATED FOR COUNCIL? BECAUSE MARSHALL INSISTS THAT THEY SHALL CEASE TO EXIST OR OBEY THE LAW.

MAUTZ WITHDRAWS

And Throws His Support to the Laboring Man's Candidate.

To the Public: Having come to the conclusion that the interests of the small property owners of the East End are dependent on the election of a man who will represent their interests in council and realizing that I, as a candidate, will only complicate matters in my ward, I respectfully withdraw as a candidate for the nomination.

While I have all the sympathy of the working men at heart I feel that Mr. James Jameson, being a member of a potters' local and a staunch supporter of all union labor, is in a position to more freely ask the support of this contingent, and for this reason I, while thanking all my friends for their promised support, ask them to transfer their preference to Mr. Jameson, who is a man capable of filling the position and one who will see to it that the interests of the laboring people is first of importance.

ATCHISON NOT WORRIED

Both He and His Friends Are Jubilant And Confident of Winning.

Salem, February 27.—(Special)—In reference to an alleged "special" from Salem, published in an East Liverpool paper yesterday, Sherman Atchison, candidate for clerk of courts, said today that instead of being worried over the situation, he was more confident of success than ever.

From indications here Hanley is the man who has reason to be worried. Atchison's friends are jubilant and confident. They declare that Mr. Atchison will draw numerous votes from the south end of the county, while the tactics pursued by Hanley in the northern end of the county are certainly not calculated to alienate any of Mr. Atchison's support in this section, but rather to strengthen it greatly. The voters of the northern part of the county have no friendship for boodle methods or those who pursue them.

THE LABORING MAN

Will Be Benefited By Voting for Hugh Johnston.

Hugh Johnston, candidate for council from the First ward, is deserving of the vote and influence of every union man in particular in his ward. He is a prominent worker in labor circles and every union man should see that not only his own vote be cast for him, but the votes of his neighbors as well.

If Mr. Johnston is elected many reforms that will be for the betterment of the entire city will be introduced by him and the improvements that are so badly needed in the First ward will be shoved through as rapidly as possible.
